

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE

BY
M. VELASQUEZ AND T. SIMONNÉ,
PROFESSORS OF THE SPANISH AND FRENCH LANGUAGES.

LONDON:
TRÜBNER & CO. AND D. NUTT.

P R E F A C E .

THE superiority of OLLENDORFF'S METHOD of teaching languages is now so universally acknowledged, both in the United States and in Europe, that an adaptation of it to the EUPHONIC CASTILIAN, or SPANISH LANGUAGE, must be considered as a desideratum to persons wishing to learn it. Divested of the abstractedness of Grammar, it contains, however, all its elements; but it develops them so gradually, and in so simple a manner, as to render them intelligible to the most ordinary capacity. The difficulties are met singly, thoroughly analyzed, and made familiar by dint of a varied and interesting repetition,—the most effectual means to impress them on young and unlearned minds, generally averse to thought or reflection, and always prone to trust to their undisciplined memory, a power often treacherous from want of proper direction. It is, therefore, hardly possible to go through this book with any degree of application, without becoming thoroughly conversant with the colloquial, idiomatic, and classic use of the Spanish language. Consequently, persons transacting business in the countries of which the Spanish is the vernacular tongue, will find this work to be their best guide in learning to speak it with propriety.

For the benefit of persons grammatically acquainted with the English, or other languages, a Synopsis of the Spanish has been annexed as an Appendix, containing tables of the regular conjugations of the verbs, copious lists of the irregular verbs, general rules of etymology, syntax, &c., by means of which they may learn all the peculiarities of the Spanish, and make themselves perfect masters of it in a very short time, without the assistance of a teacher.

To enhance, if possible, the importance and utility of this Method, the pronunciation of the Spanish letters is explained and exemplified, in so simple, clear, and easy a manner, as to render it comprehensible to every capacity.

Consulting also the benefit of the learners, and with a view to render this work a complete course for Reading, Speaking, and Writing the Spanish language, Models of Familiar and Commercial Letters are added to it, containing directions for all the usual commercial transactions, by the aid of which, young learners, and persons who instruct themselves, may transact, in writing, any business.

It is hardly necessary to remark, that the English phrases in the Exercises are not always models worthy of imitation; but they are made use of in order to instruct the scholar how to express them properly in Spanish, and thereby to teach him its idioms.

EXPLANATION OF THE SIGNS USED IN THIS BOOK.

The irregular verbs are designated by a star (*).

The figures 1, 2, 3, placed after the verbs, denote that they are regular, and indicate the conjugations to which they respectively belong.

The figures 1, 2, 3, placed before the verbs, denote the persons, either singular or plural.

N. 1, N. 2, &c., are used to designate the simple tenses of the verbs.

N. 1, p., N. 2, p., &c., designate the compound tenses of the verbs.

Expressions which vary either in their construction or idiom from the English, are marked thus †.

A hand (H) denotes a particular remark

THE SAGACIOUS STARLING.

A THIRSTY starling found a decanter of water, and attempted to drink from it; but the water scarcely touched the neck of the decanter, and the bird's bill could not reach it.

He began to peck at the outside of the vessel, in order to make a hole in it; but in vain, the glass was too hard.

He then attempted to upset the decanter. In this he succeeded no better; the vessel was too heavy.

At length the starling hit upon an idea that succeeded: he threw little pebbles into the decanter, which caused the water gradually to rise till within the reach of his bill.

Skill is better than strength: patience and reflection make many things easy which at first appear impossible.

EL ESTORNINO SAGAZ.

Un estornino sediento halló una garrafa llena de agua, é inmediatamente procuró beber; pero el agua á penas llegaba al cuello de la garrafa, y el pico del pájaro no podía alcanzarla.

Se puso luego á picar la garrafa á fin de hacer un agujerito; pero se esforzó en vano, porque el vidrio era muy grueso.

Entonces intentó voltear la garrafa para derramar el agua; pero no pudo hacerlo, porque era muy pesada.

Al fin concibió una idea, que se le logró: echó poco á poco en la garrafa una cantidad tan grande de piedrecitas, que hicieron subir gradualmente el agua á la distancia que su pico podía alcanzar, y luego apagó su sed.

Mas vale maña que fuerza: la paciencia y la reflexion hacen fáciles muchas cosas, que parecian imposibles á primera vista.

FIRST LESSON.—Leccion Primera.

DEFINITE ARTICLE.—Articulo Definido.

MASCULINE SINGULAR.—Masculino Singular

The.	El.
Of or from the.	Del.
To or at the.	Al.
Have you?	¿Tiene V.?
Yes, Sir, I have.	Si, señor, yo tengo.
The hat.	El sombrero.
Have you the hat?	¿Tiene V. el sombrero?

You. Usted, (V.)

Obs. There are in Spanish three ways of addressing a person, to wit
 1st. By translating literally the pronoun thou, Tú.

2d “ “ “ you, Vos, in the singular.

Vosotros, Vosotras, plural

3d. “ the pronoun you, USTED, sing.; USTEDES, pl.

As the celebrated Spanish poet, Cadalso, says,

“ Una dama seria y grave
 Y que la critica sabe
 Del Vos, del Tú, y del Usted.”

Tú is used among the nearest relatives of a family, intimate friends, little children, in poetry, and speaking to menial servants.

To TEACHERS.—Each lesson should be dictated to the pupils, who should pronounce each word as soon as dictated. The teacher should also exercise his pupils by putting the questions to them in various ways.

A Spanish interrogative sentence stands between two points of interrogation the first of which is inverted, to show when the emphasis begins.

Vos was formerly generally used among all classes of society, addressing each other individually; at present it is confined to persons of high rank, or those placed in high posts, as superiors addressing their inferiors.

Public speakers, preachers, &c., addressing the public, congregations &c., use Vosotros; unless they be corporate bodies entitled to be styled Usias, (your Lordships,) &c.

USTED, a contraction of Vuestra Merced, (your Honor, or your Worship,) formerly used, then abridged into Vuesarced, and finally into Usted, or Usté, is the only word used in the common intercourse in polite society, in all the transactions of life; excepting the cases above explained, and when the persons spoken to are entitled to a higher mark of respect by calling them Usia, (Vuestra Señoria, V. S., your Lordship or Ladyship,) &c.

Usted, and its plural Ustedes, are common to both genders, and agree with the verb in the third person singular or plural, according to their respective number; as, You are a good boy, Usted es un buen muchacho: You are good boys, Ustedes son buenos muchachos.

Usted, and Ustedes, have been always written in abbreviation, thus: Vmd., Vmds.—Vm., Vms. At present, Usted is represented by a V., and Ustedes by VV.

The speaker by using Usted may be sure never to give offence. The omission of it is considered vulgar; for instance, Dígame que hora es, (tell me what hour it is,) instead of Dígame V. que hora es.

When Usted is made use of at the beginning of a phrase, to avoid its repetition the cases of the pronouns he, él, or she, ella, are employed; as, When I saw you this morning, I told you, that I would accompany you and present you to him this afternoon—Cuando yo ví á Usted esta mañana le dije, que yo le (or la) acompañaria, y le (la) presentaria á él esta tarde

In translating ancient history, public speeches, &c., tú, vos, or vosotros must be used; because Usted is of a very modern introduction into the language.

With the view to make the scholar perfectly familiar with the use of these three modes of address, some of the exercises are translated in one and some in another; but preference is given to Usted, because it is the most necessary and usual in the colloquial polite intercourse.

AUGMENTATIVE AND DIMINUTIVE NOUNS.

Augmentative and Diminutive nouns, in Spanish, are those which by the addition of a certain termination increase or diminish the signification of their primitives

The augmentative nouns are formed by adding on, ote, azo, or onazo, to the masculine nouns, and ona, ota, aza, or onaza to the feminine; suppressing their last letter, should it be a, e, or o; as,

A boy.	Un muchacho.	A girl.	Una muchacha
A big boy.	Un muchachon.	A big girl.	Una muchachona

On and ote, ona and ota, generally indicate goodness in the object; azo, aza, onazo, onaza, most commonly refer only to size.

The termination azo frequently signifies the blow or injury caused by the object to which it is added; as,

Whip.	Látigo.
A very large whip.	Un latigazo.
A stroke with a whip.	Un latigazo.

The termination azo added to the noun to express a blow, or injury, has no change when it is formed out of a noun feminine; as,

Hand.	Mano.
A large hand.	Manaza.
A blow, or stroke with the hand.	Manazo.

The diminutive nouns are formed by adding ito, illo, uelo for the masculine, and ita, illa, uela for the feminine, to the noun, which drops its last letter if it be a, e, or o; as,

A boy.	Un muchacho.
A little boy.	Un muchachito
A girl.	Una muchacha.
A little girl.	Una muchachita.

Ito and ita generally express love towards the object, and beauty in it; illo and illa sometimes mean pity, and sometimes contempt; uelo and uela formerly were used in the same sense as ito and ita, at present they indicate only contempt.

The greatest part of nouns ending in an, in, on, che, ge, que, re, te, ve, add cito, cillo, zuelo, or cita, cilla, zuela to the noun, which in such case does not drop the last letter; as,

Lion	Leon.	Pretty little lion.	Leoncito.
Man.	Hombre	Good little man.	Hombrecito
Woman.	Mujer.	Handsome little woman.	Mujercita
Exception.	Gentleman, } Mister, } Señor.	Young gentleman, } Master, } Señorito, &c.

Nouns ending in z change it into c, and add cito, cita, &c.; as,

Cross.	Cruz.	Little cross.	Crucecita.
Fish	Pez.	Little fish.	Pececito, pececillo

Nouns ending a co or ca change this syllable into quito, quita; as,

Boat.	Barco.	Little boat.	Barquito.
Barge.	Barca.	Little barge.	Barquita.

Nouns ending in oo or oa. drop the o and add uito. uita. &c.: as,

Friend.	Amigo.	Dear little friend.	Amiguita.
Friend.	Amiga.	Dear little friend.	Amiguita.

Nouns ending in io, ia, generally do not admit the termination, and express the diminutive by translating the adjective; as, The little Claudius, El pequeño Claudio, or El niño Claudio. Sometimes they drop the last two vowels and add the regular termination; as, Julia, Julita; indio, indito. When the letter n precedes the said last syllables io, ia, it is generally changed into ñ; as, Antonio, Antoñito.

SEVENTEENTH LESSON.—Leccion Décima séptima.

OF THE INFINITIVE.

There are in Spanish three conjugations, which are distinguished by the termination of the present of the infinitive, viz.:

1. The first has its infinitive terminated in AR; as:—

Hablar,	to speak;
Comprar,	to buy;
Cortar,	to cut.

- 2 The second.....in ER; as:—

Vender,	to sell;
Comer,	to eat, (to dine;)
Beber,	to drink.

- 3 The third.....in IR; as:—

Recibir,	to receive;
Dividir,	to divide;
Abrir,	to open.

Each verb we shall hereafter give will have the number of the conjugation to which it belongs marked after it. The verbs marked with an asterisk (*) are irregular.

Fear.	Miedo de.
Shame	Vergüenza de.
Right.	Razon de.
Time.	Tiempo de.
Courage.	Valor de, (para.)
A mind, (or a wish.)	Gana, (or deseo de.)

Obs. A. When a pronoun object is governed by a verb in the infinitive, it is placed after the infinitive, and joined with it, so as to form a single word

Still.	Aun, (or Todavía.)
Have you still a mind to buy it?	¿Tiene V. todavía deseo de comprarle?

Have you time to cut the bread?
 I have time to cut it.
 Has he a mind to cut trees?
 He has a mind to cut some.

 Él tiene tiempo, pero no tiene gana.
 Él tiene tiempo, pero no tiene gana de hacerlo, (to do it.)

Obs. B. To avoid the immediate repetition of a verb in the same mood or tense, it is more elegant to suppress it, or to make use of the verb hacer in its stead, as in the example.

To be right.
 Am I right in buying horses?

Tener razon de, (or hacer bien en)
 ¿ Tengo yo razon de comprar caballos.

To be wrong.
 You are wrong in buying one.

No tener razon de, (or hacer mal en.)
 V. no tiene razon de comprar uno.

TO BE—SER and ESTAR.

To be may be expressed in Spanish by Ser or Estar; but the meaning of these verbs being very different, the scholar must pay particular attention to the following rules, in order to use them properly:

Ser is used to express the qualities inherent, or essential to persons or things; the state of fixed mind; the materials of which a thing is made; the condition, employment, rank, trade, &c. of persons; the object, purpose, destination, &c. of persons or things.

Estar is employed to denote the accidental, or temporary qualities or affections of persons or things, and is followed in English by a present participle.

These rules will be more easily understood by these examples:

This man is in good health.	Este hombre está bueno.
He was wicked during his youth.	Él fué malo en su juventud.

TWENTY-EIGHTH LESSON.—Leccion Vigésima octava.

It must be remembered that an interrogative sentence, in Spanish, depends rather on emphasis, than on its grammatical construction. Hence, an inverted interrogation is placed at the beginning of such sentences, as a guide to the reader in the modulation of his voice. The pronoun subject, therefore, may or may not be expressed, in conformity with the degree of emphasis that the writer may lay on it.—The English auxiliary verbs do, does, did—am, is, are, serve only to point out the person and tense, by which the principal verb must be expressed; but they are not translated.

	Do I wish?	¿ Quiero? ¿ Quiero yo?
Can I?	Am I able?	¿ Puedo? ¿ Puedo yo?
	Am I doing?	¿ Hago? ¿ Estoy haciendo?

What am I doing?	¿ Que estoy haciendo? ¿ Que hago?
What do I say?	¿ Que digo?
Where am I going to?	¿ Á donde voy?
To whom do I speak?	¿ Á quien hablo?
Where do you go?	¿ Á donde va V.?
Where does he go?	¿ Á donde va?

It will be seen from the last two sentences, that the omission of V in the first would lead to ambiguity.

When do is used in English with a certain emphasis to give more power to the sentence, the pronoun subject should be expressed in Spanish Examples:—

Does he speak to you?	¿ Habla él á V.?
Yes, he does speak to me.	Si, él me habla.
Do you drink cider?	¿ Bebe V. sidra?
I do drink cider, but my brother drinks wine.	Yo bebo sidra, pero mi hermano bebe vino.
Cider.	Sidra, (feminine.)
Do you receive a note every day?	¿ Recibe V. un billete todos los dias?
Yes, I do receive one.	Si, yo recibo uno.

To begin.

Do I begin to speak Spanish?	¿ Comienzo á hablar español?
You begin to speak it.	V. comienza á hablarle.
When do you begin?	¿ Cuando empieza V.?
I begin now.	Empiezo ahora.

Before.

Do you speak before you listen?	† ¿ Habla V. ántes de escuchar?
I listen before I speak.	† (Yo) escucho ántes de hablar
Does he go to market before he breakfasts?	† ¿ Va al mercado (á la plaza) ántes de almorzar?

To breakfast.

The breakfast.	El desayuno. El almuerzo.
Does he go there before he writes?	¿ † Va allá ántes de escribir?
He goes there before breakfast.	Va allá ántes del almuerzo.
Do you take off your pantaloons before you take off your shoes?	¿ Se quita V. los pantalones ántes de quitarse los zapatos?

To depart, to set out.	{ Marcharse 1, (reflective verb.)

Well.	Bien, (adverb.)
Badly.	Mal, (adverb.)

Obs. When an adverb modifies a verb, it is generally placed after the verb; when it modifies an adjective or another adverb, it is generally placed before.

Does he speak well?	¿Habla bien?
He speaks badly.	Habla mal.
Do you speak Spanish well?	¿Habla V. bien el español?
I speak Spanish well.	Yo hablo bien le español.

FORTIETH LESSON.—Leccion Cuadragésima.

OF THE IMPERFECT.

There are in Spanish two tenses corresponding to the English Imperfect viz: the Imperfect, Pretérito Imperfecto, No. 2; and the Preterit, Pretérito Perfecto Remoto, No. 3.

The Imperfecto, No. 2, represents the action as present, or still going on at the time spoken of, and corresponds to the English was, or were, followed by the present participle. Example:—I studied my lesson when you came in; that is, I was studying, &c.: Yo estudiaba mi leccion cuando V. entró.

It also expresses habitual actions, and in this case answers to the English used to. Example:—When I was at Madrid, I went to the Prado every day; that is, I used to, &c.: Cuando yo estaba en Madrid, iba al Prado todos los dias.

The Pretérito Perfecto Remoto, No. 3, expresses an action that has taken place in a time entirely past, but that may be specified by some circumstances; it corresponds to the English did, followed by an infinitive. Example:—I read your letter yesterday, (I did read :) Yo leí su carta, de V. ayer. I stayed two hours in my room, (I did stay :) Yo me quedé dos horas en mi cuarto.

HOW TO TRANSLATE THE ENGLISH IMPERFECT.

In all cases in which the English Imperfect can be turned into used to and an infinitive, or was, were, and a present participle, use No. 2 in Spanish; in all other cases, use No. 3. Example:—I wrote letters every morning, (that is, I used to write.) Here use No. 2, and say: Yo escribía cartas todos los días.—I wrote a letter when you came in, (I was writing when you did come in.) In this case use No. 2 for the first verb, and No. 3 for the second, and say: Yo escribía una carta cuando V. entró.—I was three days in Madrid. In this example we cannot say I used to be; therefore, use No. 3, and say: Yo estuve tres días en Madrid.

For the formation of these two tenses, see the table in the Appendix.

Either of them may be used when the action of the verb refers to the mind, and por only, when otherwise. [F] Observe that the past participle of the principal verb must agree in gender and number with the subject of the verb.

FORTY-FOURTH LESSON.—Leccion Cuadragésima cuarta.

OF REFLECTIVE VERBS.

When the action falls upon the agent, and the object refers to the same person as the subject, the verb is called reflective or pronominal. In Spanish almost all active verbs may become reflective, and used as pronominal. These verbs form their compound tenses with the auxiliary haber, (to have.) The pronoun object must be of the same person as that of the subject, and each person is conjugated with a double personal pronoun. However, the pronoun subject is almost always understood in Spanish, while in English it is the object.

I—(myself.)	(Yo) me—(á mí mismo.) ¹
Thou—(thyself.)	(Tú) te—(á tí mismo.)
He—(himself.)	(Él) se—(á sí mismo.) •

FIFTY-SEVENTH LESSON.—Leccion Quincuagésima séptima.

OF THE GERUND.

The Gerund (by which the English present participle is translated) is formed from the present of the infinitive mood, by suppressing the terminations ar, er, or ir, and adding in their place ando to the verbs of the first conjugation, and iendo to those of the second and third.

1. To speak,	hablar.	Speaking,	hablando.
2. To sell,	vender.	Selling,	vendiendo.
3. To receive,	recibir.	Receiving,	recibiendo.

Obs. A. Verbs ending in eer, and uir, (when the u is sounded, as in atribuir,) change the i, with which the termination begins, into y; thus, yendo, instead of iendo; as—

To read,	leer.	Reading,	leyendo.
To instruct,	instruir.	Instructing,	instruyendo.

Obs. B. The English present participle may be translated into Spanish by the Gerund, when it expresses the action of the verb as continuing, and unfinished. It is then used alone, or preceded by the verb Estar, but by no means by other words; as, He corrects whilst reading, él corrige leyendo, or estando leyendo, miéntras está leyendo, († miéntras lee, or al leer;) but it cannot be said, él corrige miéntras leyendo.

OF THE CONDITIONAL OR POTENTIAL SIMPLE

This tense corresponds to No. 8, the second termination of the Imperfect of the subjunctive mood. The Imperfect of the subjunctive has three terminations for each person: the first, No. 7, is ra; the second, No. 8, is ría; and the third, No. 9, is se. (See the table of the terminations of the verbs.) In phrases in which the Potential is used, there are generally two sentences, one of which is the principal, and the other the subordinate. In Spanish, the verb of the principal is in the termination marked No. 8, and the verb of the subordinate is in the terminations marked Nos. 7 or 9. Example:—If I had money, I would buy books—Si yo tuviese (tuviera) dinero compraria libros. The sentence in italics is the principal, and although, in the above example, it is placed after the subordinate it might be placed before. It is easy to distinguish the principal from the subordinate: the last is always preceded by a conjunction.

Well, (y bien,) does your sister make any progress?—She would make some, if she were as assiduous as you.—You flatter me.—Not at all; I assure you that I should be highly satisfied, (muy,) if all my pupils worked like you.—Why do you not go out to-day?—I would go out if it were fine weather.—Shall I have the pleasure of seeing you to-morrow?—If you wish it I will come.—Shall I still be here when you arrive, (llegue?)—Will you have occasion (ocasion) to go to town this evening?—I do not know, but I would go now if I had an opportunity, (una buena ocasion.)—You would not have so much pleasure, and you would not be so happy, if you had not friends and books.—Man (el) would not experience so much misery (la miseria) in his career, (la carrera,) and he would not be so unhappy, were he not so blind, (ciego.)—You would not have that insensibility (esa insensibilidad) towards the poor, and you would not be so deaf (sordo) to their supplication, (el ruego,) if you had been yourself in misery for some time.—You would not say that if you knew me well.—Why has your sister not done her exercises?—She would have done them if she had not been prevented.—If you worked more, and spoke oftener, you would speak better.—I assure you, Sir, that I should learn better if I had more time.—I do not complain of you, but of your sister.—You would have no reason (motivo) to complain of her, had she had time to do what you gave her to do.—Do you already know what has happened?—I have not heard any thing.—The house of our neighbor has been burnt down, (quemado.)—Have they not been able to save any thing ? —They were very fortunate (muy afortunados) in saving the persons that were in it ; but out of the (de las) things that were there, they could save nothing.—Who has told you that ?—Our neighbor himself has told it me.

Why are you without a light ?—The wind blew it out when you came in.—What is the price of this cloth ?—I sell it at three dollars and a half the ell, (la vara.)—I think it very dear. Has the price of cloth not fallen ?—It has not fallen : the price of all goods has fallen, except that of cloth, (ménos el del paño.)—I will give you three dollars for it.—I cannot let you have (dar) it for (por) that price, for it costs me more.—Will you have the goodness to show me some pieces (la pieza) of English cloth ?—With much pleasure.—Does this cloth suit you ?—It does not suit me.—Why does it not suit you ?—Because it is too dear ; if you will lower the price, (rebajar alguna cosa,) I shall buy twenty yards of it.—Not having asked too much, I cannot take off any thing.—You learn Spanish : does your master let you translate ?—He lets me read, write, and translate.—Is it useful to translate in learning a foreign language ?—It is useful to translate when you (sabe) nearly know the language you are learning, but while (cuando) you do not yet know any thing it is entirely (de todo) useless.—What does your Spanish master make you do ?—He makes me read a lesson ; afterwards he makes me translate English exercises into Spanish on the lesson which he has made me read ; and from the beginning to the end of the lesson he speaks Spanish to me, and I have to answer him in the very language (la misma lengua) which he is teaching me.—Have you already learned much in that manner ?—You see that I have already learned something, for I have hardly been learning it three months, and I already understand you when you speak to me, and can answer you.—Can you read (it) as well ?—I can read and write as well as speak, (it.)—Does your master also teach German ?—He teaches it.—Wishing to make his acquaintance, I must beg of you (yo le suplico) to introduce me to him, (que me presente V. á él.)

206.

How many exercises do you translate a day ?—If the exercises are not difficult I translate from three to four every day ; and when they are so I translate but one.—How many have you already done to-day ? —It is the third which I am translating ; but to-morrow I hope to be able to do one more, for I shall be alone, (solo.)—Have you paid a visit to my aunt ?—I went to see her two months ago, and as she looked displeased, I have not gone to her any more since that time.—How do you do to-day?—I am very unwell.—How do you like that soup?—I think it is very bad; but since I have lost my appetite (el apetito) I do not like any thing.—How much does that employment yield to your father?—It yields him more than four thousand dollars.—What news do they mention, (decir?)—They say nothing new.—What do you intend to do to-morrow?—I propose joining a hunting party.—Does your brother purpose playing (hacer) a game at billiards?—He proposes playing a game at chess.—Why do some people laugh when I speak?—Those are unpolite people; you have only to laugh also, and they will no longer laugh at you. If you did as I do (como yo) you would speak well. You must study (es menester) a little every day, and you will soon be no longer afraid to speak.—I will endeavor to follow your advice, for I have resolved (proponerse) to rise every morning at six o'clock, to study till ten o'clock, and to go to bed early.—Why does your sister complain?—I do not know; since she succeeds in every thing, and since (y que) she is happy, even happier than you and I, Why does she complain?—Perhaps she complains (quejarse) because she is not thoroughly acquainted with that business.—That may be.

I should like to (querria) know why I cannot speak as well as you? —I will tell you: you would speak quite as well (tan bien como) as I, if you were not so bashful, (corto.) But if you had studied your lessons more carefully you would not be afraid to speak; for in order to speak well one must know, (sepa,) and it is very natural that he who does not know well what he has learned, should be timid, (sea corto, pres. subj.) You would not be so timid as you are, if you were sure to make no faults.

I come to wish you a good morning.—You are very kind, (bondoso.) —Would you do me a favor?—Tell me what you want, for I would do any thing (cualquiera cosa) to oblige you, (servirle.)—I want five hundred dollars, and I beg you to lend them to me. I will return them to you as soon as I have received my money. You would oblige (favorecer) me much if you would render (hacer) me this service.—I would do it with all my heart if I could; but having lost all my money, it is impossible for me (me es imposible) to render you this service.—Will you ask your brother whether he (si) is satisfied with (con) the money which I have sent him?—As to my brother, he is satisfied with it, but I am not so; for having suffered shipwreck (naufregar) I am in want of the money which you owe me.

Have they served up the soup?—They have served it up some minutes ago.—Then it must be cold, and I only like soup hot, (caliente.) —They will warm it for you.—You will oblige me, (favorecer.)—Shall I help you to some of this roast meat?—I will trouble you for a little.—Will you eat some of this mutton?—I thank you, I like fowl better.—May I offer you (le ofreceré) some wine?—I will trouble you for a little.—Have they already brought in the dessert?—They have brought it in.—Do you like fruit?—I like fruit, but I have no more appetite.—Will you eat a little cheese?—I will eat a little.—Shall I help you to English or Dutch cheese?—I will eat a little Dutch cheese.—What kind of fruit is that?—It is stone-fruit.—What is it called?—It is called thus.—Will you wash your hands?—I should like to (querer) wash them, but I have no towel to (para) wipe them with.—I will let you have (mandaré que le den) a towel, some soap, and some water.—I shall be much obliged (agradecer) to you.—May I ask you for (me hará V. el favor de) a little water?—Here is some, (aquí la tiene V.)—Can you do without soap?—As for soap I can do without it, but I must have a towel to wipe my hands with.—Do you often do without soap?—There are many things which we must do without.—Why has that man run away?—Because he had no other means of escaping the punishment (castigo) which he had deserved, (merecer).—Why did your brothers not get a better horse?—If they had got rid of their old horse, they would have got a better.—Has your father arrived already?—Not yet, but we hope that he will arrive this very day, (hoy mismo).—Has your friend set out in time?—I do not know, but I hope he has set out in time.

Will you endeavor to commit no errors, (hacer faltas)?—We shall endeavor to commit none.—Is this bread sufficient for you?—It would be sufficient for me if I was not very hungry.—When did your brother embark for America?—He sailed on the 30th of last month.—Do you promise me to speak to your brother?—I promise you, you may depend upon it.—I rely upon you.—Will you work harder (mejor) for next lesson than you have done for this?—I will work harder.—May I rely upon it?—You may.

SIXTY-EIGHTH LESSON.—Leccion Sexagésima octava.

THE PLUPERFECT, (No. 2, p.)—Pretérito Pluscuamperfecto, (No. 2, p.)

This tense is formed with No. 2, the imperfect of the auxiliary haber, and the past participle (p.) of the verb to be conjugated.

This tense is used to express an action which was already past when an action also past took place. Example:—I had already finished my task when you came in—Ya habia acabado mi tarea, cuando V. entró.

I had dined when he arrived.

You had lost your purse when I found mine.

Had you finished your exercise when I came in?

No, Sir, I had not finished it.

We had dined when it struck twelve.

Yo habia comido cuando llegó.

V. habia perdido su bolsa cuando yo hallé la mia.

¿Habia acabado V. su ejercicio cuando yo entré?

No, señor, yo no le habia acabado.

Habíamos comido cuando dieron las doce.

I had read your letter when I wrote mine.

Yo habia leído la carta de V cuando escribí la mia.

It will be perceived that this tense is used in connection with the Pretérito Perfecto Remoto, (No. 3.) For the use of that tense see Lesson XL. Observe that the Pretérito Imperfecto (No. 2) answers to the English used to; the Pretérito Perfecto Remoto (No. 3) to did; and that the Pretérito Pluscuamperfecto (No. 2, p.) corresponds to the English pluperfect.

He came (used to come) to see me every day.

They came (did come) yesterday.

I had seen them before.

After you had spoken you used to go out.

After shaving I washed my face.

The king had appointed an admiral when he heard of you, (did hear.)

After having warmed themselves they went into the garden.

As soon as the bell rung (did ring) you awoke, (did wake.)

EXERCISES.

Have patience, my dear friend, and be not sad; for sadness alters (en nada remedia) nothing, and impatience makes bad worse, (lo malo peor.) Be not afraid of your creditors; be sure that they will do you no harm. They will wait if you cannot pay them yet.—When will you pay me what you owe me?—As soon as I have (tenga) money I will pay all that you have advanced (for) me. Thou art accused (acusar) of having been idle and negligent in thy affairs. Thou knowest, however, that thy brother has been punished for having been naughty. Being lately (el otro día) in town, I received a letter from

Do not weep; now go into thy room, learn thy lesson, and be a good boy, (bueno;) otherwise (de otro modo) thou wilt get nothing for dinner.—I shall be so good, my dear father, that you will certainly be satisfied with me.—Has the little boy kept his word, (cumplir con su palabra?) —Not quite; for after having said that, he went into his room, took his books, sat down at the table, and fell asleep.—“He is a very good boy when he sleeps,” said his father, seeing him some time after.

It is a fine house, you will find it easily.—I thank you, Sir.—Does Count N. live here?—Yes, Sir, walk in, (sírvase V. pasar á dentro,) if you please.—Is the count at home? I wish to have the honor (el honor) to speak to him.—Yes, Sir, he is at home; whom shall I have the honor to announce, (anunciar?)—I am from B., and my name is (llamarse) F.

Which is the shortest (corto) way to the arsenal, (un arsenal?)—Go down this street, and when you come (llegue) to the bottom, (caí,) turn to the left, and take (pase por) the cross-way; you will then enter into a rather narrow (bastante estrecha) street, which will lead you to a great square, (la plaza,) where you will see a blind alley.—Through (por) which I must pass?—No, for there is no outlet, (la salida.) You must leave it on the right, and pass under the arcade which is near it.—And then?—And then you must inquire, (further.)—I am very much obliged to you.—Do not mention it, (no hay de que.)—Are you able to translate an English letter into Spanish?—I am.—Who has taught you?—My Spanish master.

Why does your mother fret?—She frets at receiving no news from her son who is with the army.—She need not be uneasy about him, for whenever he gets into a bad scrape he knows how to get out of it again.—Last summer when we were a-hunting together (juntos) night grew upon us (se cerró la noche) at at least ten leagues (una legua) from our country-seat, (la quinta.)—Well, (pues,) where did you pass the night?—I was very uneasy at first, but your brother not in the least, (no;) on the contrary, he tranquillized me, so that I lost my uneasiness. We found at last a peasant's hut where we passed the night. Here I had an opportunity to see how clever your brother is. A few benches and a truss of straw (un haz de paja) served him to make a comfortable (bueno) bed; he used a bottle as a candlestick, our pouches served us as a pillow, and our cravats as nightcaps. When we awoke in the morning, we were as fresh and healthy as if we had slept on down and silk.—A candidate (un candidato) petitioned (pedir) the king of Prussia (Prusia) for an employment, (un empleo.) This prince asked him where he was born. "I was born at Berlin," answered he. "Begone!" said the monarch, (el monarca,) "all the men of Berlin (los hijos de Berlin) are good for nothing." "I beg your majesty's (la majestad) pardon," replied the candidate, "there are some good ones, and I know two." "Which are those two?" asked the king. "The first," replied the candidate, "is your majesty, and I am the second." The king could not help laughing (no pudo ménos que reir) at this answer, and granted (conceder) the request, (la súplica.)

EXERCISES.

A thief having one day entered a boarding-house, stole three cloaks, (la capa.) In going away he was met by one of the boarders who had a fine laced (galoneado) cloak. Seeing so many cloaks, he asked the man where he had taken them. The thief answered boldly (con mucho sosiego) that they belonged to three gentlemen (caballeros) of the house, who had given them to be cleaned, (para que los limpiase.) "Then you must also clean mine, for it is very much in need of it," said the boarder; "but," added he, "you must return it to me at three o'clock." "I shall not fail, (faltar,) Sir," answered the thief, as he carried off (llevar) the four cloaks, with which he (que) is still to return, (todavía no han farecido.)—You are singing, (cantar,) gentlemen, but it is not a time for singing; you ought to be silent, and to listen to what you are told.—We are at a loss.—What are you at a loss about?—I am going to tell you: the question is with us how we shall pass our time agreeably.—Play a game at billiards or at chess.—We have proposed joining a hunting-party; do you go with us, (venir?)—I cannot, for I have not done my task yet; and if I neglect it, my master will scold me.—Every one according to his liking; if you like staying at home better than going a-hunting we cannot hinder you.—Does Mr. B. go with us?—Perhaps.—I should not like to go with him, for he is too great a talker, (muy hablador,) excepting that (ménos eso) he is an honest man.

What is the matter with you? You look angry.—I have reason to (motivo) be angry, for there is no means of getting money now.—Have you been to Mr. A.'s?—I have been to his house; but there is no possibility (ningun medio) of borrowing from him. I suspected that he would not lend me any, that is the reason why I did not wish to ask him; and had you not told me to do so, I should not have subjected myself (exponer) to a refusal, (á una negativa.)

I suspected that you would be thirsty, and (that) your sister (would be) hungry; that is the reason why I brought (traer) you hither. I am sorry, however, not to see your mother.—Why do you not drink your coffee?—If I were not sleepy I would drink it.—Sometimes you are sleepy, sometimes (otras) cold, sometimes warm, and sometimes something else is the matter with you, (y muchas veces otras cosas.) I believe that you think too much of the misfortune that has happened to your friend, (fem.)—If I did not think about it, who would think about it?—Of whom does your brother think?—He thinks of me, for we always think of each other (uno de otro) when we are not together, (juntos.)

The Biscayans are excellent ball-players, (jugadores.)—The two chess-players were very skilful.—Do you know any flute-player, (flautista,) or any violin-player, (violinista?)—I know a very good flute-player, but I do not know any violin-player.—For what purpose do you ask?—Because I intend to have a musical entertainment.—Do you sometimes practise (hacer) music?—Very often, for I like it much.—What instrument do you play?—I play the violin, and my sister plays the harpsichord. 228.

Have you made your Spanish composition?—I have made it.—Was your tutor pleased with it?—He was not. In vain I do my best; I cannot do any thing to his liking.—You may say what you please, (lo que quiera,) nobody will believe you.—Can you, without putting yourself to inconvenience, lend me five hundred dollars?—As you have always used me well I will use you in the same manner, (modo.) I will lend you the money you want, but on condition that you will return it to me next week.—You may depend upon it, (poder contar.)—How has my son behaved towards you?—He has behaved well towards me, for he behaves well towards everybody. His father told him often: The behavior of others is but an echo of our own. If we behave well towards them, they will also behave well towards us; but if we use them ill, we must not expect better (mas) from them.—May I see your brothers?—You will see them to-morrow. As they have just arrived from a long journey they long for sleep, for they are very tired.—What has my sister said?—She said that she longed for dinner, because she was very hungry.—Are you comfortable at your boarding-house?—I am very comfortable there.—Have you imparted to your brother what I told you?—As he was very tired, he longed for sleep; so that I have put off imparting it to him till to-morrow.

I have the honor to wish you a good morning. How do you do?—Very well at your service.—And how are all at home?—Tolerably well, thank God, (á Dios gracias!) My sister was a little indisposed, but she is better; she told (encargar) me to give you (que le presentase) her best compliments.—I am glad (alegrarse) to hear that she is well. As for you, you are health itself, (la misma salud;) you cannot look better, (es imposible tener mejor semblante.)—I have no time to be ill: my business would not permit me. Please to sit down; here is a chair.—I will not detain you from your business; I know that a merchant's time is precious.—I have nothing pressing (urgente) to do now, my courier is already dispatched, (mi correo esta despachado.)—I shall not stay any longer. I only wished in passing to inquire about your health.—You do me much honor.—It is very fine weather to-day. If you will allow me I shall have the pleasure of seeing you again this afternoon, (al pasar por aquí,) and if you have time we will take a little turn together.—With the greatest pleasure. In that case I shall wait for you.—I will come for you about seven o'clock.—Adieu, then, till I see you again.—I have the honor to bid you adieu.

230.

The loss of time is an irreparable loss. A single minute (un solo) cannot be recovered (pagar) for all the gold in the world. It is then of the greatest importance to employ well the time, which consists only of minutes, of which we must make good use, (buen uso.) We have but the present ; the past is no longer any thing, and the future is uncertain, (incierto.)—A great many people ruin themselves (arruinarse) because they wish to indulge themselves too much, (quieren pasarlo bien.) If most men knew how to content themselves (contentarse) with what they have, they would be happy ; but their greediness (codicia) very often makes them unhappy.—In order to be happy we must forget the past, not trouble ourselves about (acongojarse) the future, and enjoy the present.—I was very much dejected (triste) when my cousin came to me. “What is the matter with you ?” he asked me. “Oh, (¡Ay de mi !) my dear cousin,” replied I, “in losing that money I have lost every thing.” “Do not fret,” said he to me, “for I have found your money.”

EXERCISES.

Why have you played a trick upon that man?—Because he always finds fault with every thing he sees.—What does that mean, Sir?—That means that I do not like to deal with you, because you are too particular.—I wonder why your brother has not done (haya hecho) his task.—It was too difficult. He has sat up all night, and has not been able to do it, because it was out of his reach.—As soon as Mr. Flausen sees me he begins to speak English, in order to practise, (ejercitar,) and overwhelms me with politeness, (cortesías,) so that I often do not know what to answer. His brothers do the same, (lo mismo.) However, they are very good people, (gentes;) they are not only rich and amiable, but they are also generous and charitable. They love me sincerely, therefore I love them also, and consequently shall never say any thing to their disadvantage. I should love them still more, if they did not make so much ceremony; but every one has his faults, and mine is to speak too much of their ceremonies.

232.

Have the enemies surrendered?—They have not surrendered, for they did not prefer life to death. They had neither bread, nor meat, nor water, nor arms, nor money; notwithstanding they determined to die rather than surrender.—Why are you so sad?—You do not know what makes me uneasy, my dear friend, (fem.)—Tell me, (lo,) for I assure you that I share your sufferings as well as your pleasures.—I am sure that you feel for me, (que V. me compadece,) but I cannot tell you now what makes me uneasy. I will however tell you when an opportunity offers, (se presente.) Let us speak of something else now. What do you think of the man who spoke to us yesterday at the concert?—He is a man of much understanding, (talento,) and not at all wrapt up in his own merits, (y nada presumido.) But why do you ask me that?—To speak of something.—It is said: contentment (contento) surpasses (valer mas) riches; let us then always be content. Let us share (partir) (with each other) what we have, and remain our lifetime (miéntras vivamos) inseparable friends. You will always be welcome at my house, and I hope to be equally so at yours. If I saw you happy I should be equally so, and we should be more contented than the greatest princes, who are not always so. We shall be happy when we are perfectly contented with what we have; and if we do our duty as we ought, God will take care of the rest. The past being no longer any thing, let us not be uneasy about the future, and enjoy the present.

233.

Behold, ladies, (señoras,) those beautiful flowers, with their colors so fresh and bright ; they drink nothing but water. The white lily has the color of innocence, (inocencia ;) the violet indicates gentleness, (indica la dulzura;) you may see it in Louisa's eyes. The forget-me-not has the color of heaven, our future dwelling, and the rose, the queen of flowers, is the emblem of beauty and of joy. You see all that personified (personificado) in seeing the beautiful Amelia, (Amalia.) How beautiful is the fresh verdure ! It is salutary to our eyes, and has the color of hope, (de la esperanza,) our most faithful friend, (fem.,) who never deserts (abandonar) us, not even in death, (en el momento de la muerte.) —One word more, my dear friend.—What is your pleasure ?—I forgot to tell you to present my compliments (que me encomendara) to your mother. Tell her, if you please, that I regret (sentir) not having been at home when lately she honored me with her visit.—I thank you for her, (en su nombre,) I shall not fail.—Farewell then.

EXERCISES.

Has your sister been out to-day?—She has been out to buy several things.—What has she bought?—She has bought a silk gown, a velvet bonnet, and a lace veil, (un velo de encaje.)—What have you done with my silver tankard?—It is on the kitchen table (together) with the oil-bottle, the milk-pot, the pitcher, the mustard-pot, and the coffee-mill.—Do you ask for a wine-bottle?—No, I ask for a bottle of wine, and not for a wine-bottle. If you had the goodness to give me the key of the wine-cellar, (la bodega,) I would go for one.—What does that man want of me?—He exacts nothing; but he will accept what you will give him, for he is in want of every thing.—I will tell you that I am not fond of him, for his behavior raises suspicions in my mind. He exaggerates all that he says and does.—You are wrong in having such a bad opinion of him, for he has been a father to you.—I know what I say. He has cheated me on a small and on a large scale, and whenever he calls he asks me for something. In this manner he has alternately asked me for all I had: my fowling-piece, my fishing-line, my repeater, and my golden candlesticks.—Do not give yourself up so much to grief, else (si no) you will make me melt in tears, (deshacerse.)

Democritus and Heraclitus were two philosophers of a very different character: the first laughed at the follies (la locura) of men, and the other wept at them.—They were both right, for the follies of men deserve to be laughed (se debe reir) and wept at, (llorar por ellas.)

235.

Have you seen your niece?—Yes; she is a very good girl, who writes well, and speaks Spanish still better; therefore she is loved and honored by everybody.—And her brother, what is he doing?—Do not speak to me of him; he is a naughty boy, who writes always badly, and speaks Spanish still worse; he is therefore (así) loved by nobody. He is very fond of dainties, but he does not like books. Sometimes he goes to bed at broad daylight, (cuando es,) and pretends to be ill; but when we sit down to dinner he is generally better (again.) He is to study physic, (la medicina,) but he has not the slightest inclination for it, (aficion.)—He is almost always talking of his dogs, which he loves passionately, (apasionadamente.) His father is extremely sorry for it. The young simpleton (el tontuelo) said lately to his sister, “I shall enlist as soon as a peace (la paz) is proclaimed, (que se publique.”)

My dear father and my dear mother dined yesterday with some friends at (el palacio) the King of Spain.—Why do you always speak English and never Spanish?—Because I am too bashful.—You are joking: is an Englishman ever bashful?—I have a keen appetite, (grande apetito :) give me something good to eat.—Have you any money?—No, Sir.—Then I have nothing to eat for you.—Will you not let me have some (no me dará V.) on credit? I pledge my honor.—That is too little.—What, (como,) Sir!

SEVENTY-EIGHTH LESSON.—Leccion Septuagésima octava.

PRESENT OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE.

(Presente del Subjuntivo.)

N. B For the sake of brevity, the Present of the Subjunctive is designated by N. 6. For the formation of this Tense, see Appendix.

N. 6 of To HAVE, (active.)
That I may have.

N. 6 of To HAVE, (auxiliary.)
That I may have.

N. 6 of To BE.
That I may be.

N. 6 of MAY OR CAN, (to be able.)
That I may be able.

N. 6 de TENER, (activo *.)
Que tenga, tengas, tenga, tengamos, tengais, tengan.

N. 6 de HABER, (auxiliar *.)
Que haya, hayas, haya, háyamos, háyais, háyan.

N. 6 de SER and ESTAR.
Que sea, seas, sea, seamos, seais, sean
Que esté, estes, esté, estemos, esteis, esten.

N. 6 de PODER *.
Que pueda, puedas, pueda, podamos, podais, puedan.

Obs. A. May and can are not translated, when the emphasis is on the principal verb. Example:—

May you live happy.
I fear he may be displeased.

Viva V. feliz.
Temo que él se enfade.

REMARKS.

In Spanish a verb governs another verb in the infinitive, in the indicative, or in the subjunctive mood. To elucidate this subject, the following rules are laid down, in which the governing verb will be designated by the name of THE LEADING VERB, and the governed verb, by that of THE SUBORDINATE VERB.

RULE I.

THE SUBORDINATE VERB is in the INFINITIVE, when the action it expresses refers to, and is to be performed by, the subject (nominative) of THE LEADING VERB. Example:—

Peace is the greatest good that men can wish for in this life.	La paz es el mayor bien que los hombres pueden desear en esta vida. ¹
---	--

RULE II.

The SUBORDINATE VERB is in the indicative, when the LEADING VERB merely declares, or points out a fact, or action expressed by the subordinate. Example:—

I will tell them that they do not know what they say.	Yo les diré que no saben lo que dicen.

RULE III.

The SUBORDINATE VERB is in the subjunctive, when the action expressed by it is indicated as doubtful, uncertain, conditional, or contingent, by THE LEADING VERB. Examples:—

Even if this should not happen, but merciful Heaven guard and pre- serve him safe and sound, he con- tinues as poor as ever.	Y cuando eso no suceda , sino que el Cielo piadoso le guarde y conserve sano y vivo, podrá ser que se quede en la misma pobreza que antes estaba. ¹
I doubt he will come this evening.	Dudo que él venga esta noche.
You are not sure that they will do it.	V. no está seguro de que ellos lo ha- gan .
What do you want me to do?	¿Que quiere V. que yo haga ?

Remark.—It must be observed, that although in the paradigms of the conjugations the English POTENTIAL, as well as the SUBJUNCTIVE moods are translated into Spanish by the SUBJUNCTIVE, the use of the latter depends entirely on the meaning of the leading verb; in consequence of which, a verb in the present of the infinitive mood, or in the future tense in English, requires often to be placed in the subjunctive. Examples:—

It is necessary for you to write to them.	Es necesario que V. les escriba .
He says he will do it, whenever they shall pay him what he asks.	Él dice que lo hará, siempre que ellos le paguen lo que pide.

USE OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE.

1. When THE LEADING VERB means admiration, application, approbation, command, demand, duty, doubt, fear, fondness, ignorance, intelligence, intention, permission, prohibition, satisfaction, supplication, sorrow, surprise, suspicion, expediency, wish, necessity, will, asking, advising, counselling, entreating, rejoicing, soliciting, or any act of the mind, such as thinking, believing, &c., it governs THE SUBORDINATE VERB in the SUBJUNCTIVE, preceded by the conjunction QUE.

2. THE SUBORDINATE VERB must also be placed in the subjunctive, preceded by QUE, when THE LEADING VERB is preceded by an interjection expressing wish or desire, or when it is an impersonal verb, indicating doubt, duty, obligation, or some contingent and future effect produced by the action of such SUBORDINATE VERB. But this is placed in the present of the infinitive mood, without the conjunction, when its subject is not expressed. Example:—

It is necessary that you should do it. $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Es necesario que V. lo haga.} \\ \text{Es necesario hacerlo.} \end{array} \right.$

3 THE LEADING VERB governs THE SUBORDINATE VERB in the subjunctive, when the former is connected with the latter by a conjunction implying condition, (conditional terms or clause,) doubt, exception, such as if, unless, provided that, although, &c., when they mean also a contingent and future effect of the action expressed by THE SUBORDINATE VERB.

GOVERNMENT OF THE VERBS SET DOWN AND SPECIFIED IN THE THREE PRECEDING RULES.

Any of the verbs contained and set forth in the preceding rules, being THE LEADING VERB, and in the present or future tense of the indicative, or in the imperative mood, governs THE SUBORDINATE VERB in the PRESENT of the SUBJUNCTIVE.

N. B. To show to the learners the relation of the tenses, and in order to make easy to them the use of the above rules, the number of each tense is here employed for the sake of brevity, instead of the name of the tense. Should they not remember them, they must consult the Appendix.

☞ N. 1 stands for the present of the indicative—N. 6 for the present of the subjunctive—p. for participle.

I will be very glad for your having spoken so.
 He will give you paper, without your asking for it.

EXERCISES.

236.

Will you relate (contar) something to me?—What do you wish me to relate to you?—A little anecdote, if you like.—A little boy one day at table (á la mesa) asked for some meat; his father said that it was not polite to ask for any, and that he should wait until some was given to him, (que le dieran, imperf. subjunctive; see the following Lesson.) The poor boy, seeing every one eat, and that nothing was given to him, said to his father: “My dear father, give me a little salt, if you please.” “What will you (tú) do with it?” asked the father. “I wish to eat it with (echarla en) the meat which you will give me,” replied (replicar) the child. Everybody admired (admirar) the little boy’s wit; and his father, perceiving that he had nothing, gave him meat without his asking for it, (sin que la pidiera).—Who was that little boy that asked for meat at table?—He was the son of one of my friends.—Why did he ask for some meat?—He asked for some because he had a good appetite.—Why did his father not give him some immediately?—Because he had forgotten it.—Was the little boy wrong in asking for some?—He was wrong, for he ought to have waited.—Why did he ask his father for some salt?—He asked for some salt, that his father might perceive that he had no meat, and that he might give him some.

Do you wish me to relate to you another anecdote?—You will greatly (muchísimo) oblige me.—Some one purchasing some goods of a shopkeeper, said to him: "You ask too much; you should not sell so dear to me as to another, because I am a friend." The merchant replied: "Sir, we must gain something by (con) our friends, for our enemies will never come to the shop."

A young prince, seven years old, was admired by everybody for his wit, (á causa de su ingenio.) Being once in the society of an old officer, the latter observed, in speaking of the young prince, that when children discovered so much genius in their early days, they generally grew very stupid when they came to maturity.—"If that is the case," said the young prince, who had heard it, "then you (vos) must have been very remarkable for your genius when you were a child."

An Englishman, on first visiting France, met with a very young child in the streets of Calais, who spoke the French language with fluency and elegance.—"Good heaven, (Santo cielo,) is it possible?" exclaimed he, "that even children here speak the French language with purity, (pureza.)"

Let us seek (solicitar) the friendship of the good, and avoid the society of the wicked; for bad company corrupts good manners.—What sort of weather is it to-day?—It snows continually, as it snowed yesterday, and according to all appearances, will also snow to-morrow.—Let it snow; I should like it to snow (que nevase, imperf. subjunctive; see next Lesson) still more, for I am always very well when it is very cold.—And I am always very well when it is neither cold nor warm.—It is too windy to-day, and we should do better if we stayed at home.—Whatever weather it may be I must go out; for I promised to be with my sister at a quarter past eleven, and I must keep my word.

Quienquiera. Cualquiera.

Obs. C. The indeterminate pronouns quienquiera, cualquiera, whoever, whosoever; quienquiera, or cualquiera que sea, whoever, whosoever; nadie, nobody; ninguno, ni uno solo, no one, not any; nada, nothing; require the next verb in the subjunctive.

Of whomsoever you may speak, avoid slander. De quienquiera que V. hable, evite murmurarlo.

Obs. E. The subjunctive is also sometimes employed at the beginning of a sentence, when for the sake of energy an ellipsis is made of the conditional conjunctions aunque, si, &c

Though it cost me all I have, I shall know how to preserve myself from such a misfortune. Costárame todo cuanto tengo, yo me sabría precaver de una tal desgracia.¹

Were he to do what they advise him, plain.

*Hiciera él lo que le aconsejan, y no tendría motivo de quejarse*¹

REMARK B, ON THE USE OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

It may be remarked, in conclusion, on the use of the subjunctive, that whenever the subordinate verb, or the second member of a sentence, is united to the leading verb, or the first member of a sentence, by one of the relative pronouns, que, quien, cual, &c., it is put in the indicative when it expresses any thing certain or positive, and in the subjunctive when it relates to any thing uncertain, doubtful, or contingent. Examples:—

Here is a book for you, which you may consult occasionally.

Give me a book that I may be able to consult occasionally.

Lend me that book which you do not want.

Lend me a book which you may not be in want of.

Do not leave a place where you are comfortable, and whence you hear well.

Choose a place where you may be comfortable, and whence you may hear well.

Ind. Aquí tiene V. un libro que puede consultar á ocasiones.

Subj. Deme V. un libro que yo pue- da consultar † cuando se ofrezca.

Ind. Présteme V. aquel libro de que no necesita.

Subj. Présteme V. un libro de que
no necesite.

Ind. No deje V. un asiento en que
V. está cómodamente, y desde el cual V. oye bien.

Subj. escoja V. un asiento en que esté cómodamente, y desde el cual
V. oiga bien.

You must have patience, though you have no desire to have it, for I must also wait till I receive my money. Should I (en caso que) receive it to-day I will pay you all that I owe you. Do not believe that I have forgotten it; for I think of it every day. Or do you believe, perhaps, that I have already received it?—I do not believe that you have already received it; but I fear that your other creditors may already have received it.—Would to God (Ojalá que) you had what I wish you, and that I had what I wish.—Though we have not had what we wish, yet we have almost always been contented; and Messieurs B. have almost always been discontented, though they have had every thing a reasonable man (un hombre racional) can be contented with.—Do not believe, Madam, that I have had your fan, (abanico).—Who tells you that I believe it?—My brother-in-law would wish he had not had what he has had.—Wherefore?—He has always had many creditors, and no money.—I wish you would always speak French to me; and you must obey, if you wish to learn, and if you do not wish to lose your time uselessly, (inútilmente.) I would wish you were more industrious and more attentive when I speak to you. If I were not your friend, and if you were not mine, I should not speak thus to you.—Do not trust (no se fie V.) Mr. N., for he flatters you. acted differently.—Whatever the reasons (razon) be which you may allege, they will not excuse your action, blameable in itself.—Whatever may happen to you in this world, never murmur (murmurar) against Divine Providence; for whatever we may suffer we deserve it.—Whatever I may do, you are never satisfied.—Whatever you may say, your sisters shall be punished, if they deserve it, and if they do not endeavor to amend, (enmendar.)—Who has taken my gold watch?—I do not know. Do not believe that I have had it, or that Miss C. has had your silver snuff-box, for I saw both in the hands of your sister when we were playing at forfeits, (juegos de prendas.)—Tomorrow I shall set out for Dover; but in a fortnight I shall be back again, (*olver,) and then I shall come and see you and your family.—Where is your sister at present?—She is at Paris, and my brother is at Berlin.—That little woman is said (se dice) to be going to marry General (el general) K., your friend; is it true?—I have not heard of it.—What news is there of our great army?—It is said to be lying (estar) between the Weser (el Véser) and the Rhine, (el Rhin.)—All that the courier told me seeming (parecer) very probable, I went home immediately, wrote some letters, and departed for London.

EIGHTY-FIRST LESSON.—Leccion Octogésima primera.

FUTURE OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE.

Remark.—This tense expresses a positive future conditional action, and is governed by the same verbs and conjunctions that govern the present of the subjunctive mood, in consequence of which it is sometimes mistaken for and used instead of that; but it is very different, and expresses the idea with more energy and precision. Therefore the rules laid down for the use of the present of the subjunctive are applicable to this tense when the sense is conditional and future. It frequently answers to the future of the indicative, or present of the potential mood in English; but most frequently to the auxiliary verb should, as may be observed by the following examples:—

I do not tell thee to live, or to die : live, if thou canst ; die, if thou canst not do better.	No te digo que vivas , ni que mueras vive, si PUDIERES , y muere, si no PUDIERES mas. Quevedo.

Obs. A. The definite article is used in Spanish before substantives taken in a general sense, and in the whole extent of their signification. In such instances no article is made use of in English. Examples:—

Men are mortal.	Los hombres son mortales.
Gold is precious.	El oro es precioso.

---------------------------	--------------------------------

Obs. B. The definite article is used, of late, before the names of kingdoms, provinces, and countries; not by the best writers, however, excepting when those names are accompanied by an adjective, or when the countries admit of a division. It is required to be placed before a few names by general usage. Examples:—

Spain. Spain ultramarine, of this side or of that side of the sea.	España. La España ultra mar ó citra mar.
Asia. Asia major, or minor.	Asia. Asia mayor, or menor
Havana.	La Habana.
Peru.	El Perú.
Italy is the garden of Europe.	Italia es el jardin de Europa

Obs. C. The articles are repeated before every substantive when a particular emphasis is placed on them ; otherwise they may be omitted.

We were not long in finding out that those questions were calculated to ground us in the rules, and to exercise us in conversation, by the contradictory answers we were obliged to make.

We can now almost keep up a conversation in Spanish.

This phrase does not seem to us logically correct.

preguntas algo ridículas ; pero llenos de confianza en el método de V., (vuestro método,) las respondimos tan bien como nos le permitió el corto número de palabras y reglas que entónces poseíamos, (sabíamos.)

No tardamos mucho en hallar que aquellas preguntas estaban calculadas para inculcarnos las reglas, y ejercitarnos en la conversacion, por (medio de) las respuestas contradictorias, que estábamos obligados á hacer.

Al presente podemos mantener casi toda una conversacion en español.

Esta frase no nos parece lógicamente correcta.

EXERCISES.

243.

Will you drink a cup of coffee ?—I thank you, I do not like coffee.—Then you will drink a glass of wine ?—I have just drunk some.—Let us take a walk.—Willingly, (con mucho gusto;) but where shall we go to ?—Come with me into my aunt's garden ; we shall there find very agreeable society.—I believe it ; but the question is (el caso es) whether this agreeable society will admit me.—You are welcome everywhere.—What ails you, my friend ? How do you like that wine ?—I like it very well, (muy bien;) but I have drunk enough of it.—Drink once more, (otra copita.)—No, too much is unwholesome ; I know my constitution.—Do not fall. What is the matter with you ?—

I do not know ; but my head is giddy, (estoy aturdido ;) I think I am fainting, (pienso que me desmayo.)—I think so also, for you look almost like a dead person, (un cadáver.)—What countryman are you ? —I am an American.—You speak Spanish (español) so well that I took you for a Spaniard by birth.—You are jesting.—Pardon me ; I do not jest at all. How long have you been in Spain, (España ?)—A few days.—In earnest ?—You doubt it, perhaps, because I speak Spanish ; I knew it before I came to Spain.—How did you learn it so well ?—I did like the prudent starling.

Tell me, why are you always on bad terms (en discordia) with your wife ? and why do you engage in unprofitable trades, (meterse en negocios inútiles ?) It costs so much trouble (cuesta tanto) to get (tener) a situation ; and you have a good one and neglect it. Do you not think of the future ?—Now allow me to speak also, (á mi turno.)—All you have just said seems reasonable ; but it is not my fault, if I have lost my reputation ; it is that of my wife : she has sold my finest clothes, my rings, (anillos,) and my gold watch. I am full of (cargado) debts, and I do not know what to do.—I will not excuse your wife ; but I know that you have also contributed to your ruin, (la ruina.) Women are generally good when they are left so, (cuando se dejan ser tales.)

DIALOGUE.

The Master.—If I were now to ask (hacer) you such (algunas preguntas) questions as I did in the beginning of our lessons, viz. (por ejemplo :) Have you the hat which my brother has ? am I hungry ? has he the tree of my brother's garden ? &c. What would you answer ?

The Pupils.—We are obliged (estar obligado) to confess that we found these questions at first rather (algo) ridiculous ; but full of confidence in your method, we answered as well as the small quantity of words and rules we then possessed allowed us. We were, in fact, (pero,) not long (to be not long, no tardar mucho) in finding out that these questions were calculated to ground us in the rules, and to exercise us in conversation, by the contradictory answers we were obliged to make. But now that we can almost keep up a conversation in the beautiful language which you teach us, we should answer : It is impossible that we should have the same hat which your brother has, for two persons cannot have one and the same thing. To the second question we should answer, that it is impossible for us to know whether you are hungry or not. As to the last, we should say : that there is more than one tree in a garden ; and in asking us whether he has the tree of the garden, the phrase does not seem to us logically correct. At all events we should be ungrateful (ingrato) if we allowed such an opportunity to escape, without expressing (expresar) our liveliest gratitude to you for the trouble you have taken. In arranging (por el arreglo) those wise combinations, (combinación), you have succeeded in grounding us almost imperceptibly (imperceptiblemente) in the rules, and exercising us in the conversation, of a language which, taught in any other way, presents to foreigners, and even to natives, almost insurmountable difficulties, (insuperables.)

The Emperor Charles the Fifth (Carlos Quinto) being one day out a-hunting lost his way in the forest, and having come to a house entered it to refresh himself. There were in it four men, who pretended to sleep. One of them rose, and approaching the Emperor, told him he had dreamed he should take his watch, and took it. Then another rose and said he had dreamed that his surtout (sobretudo) fitted him wonderfully, and took it. The third took his purse. At last the fourth came up, and said he hoped he would not take it ill if he searched him, and in doing it perceived around the emperor's neck a small gold chain to which a whistle was attached, which he wished to rob him of. But the emperor said: "My good friend, before depriving me (privar á uno) of this trinket, (alhaja,) I must teach you its virtue." Saying this, he whistled. His attendants, who were seeking him, hastened to the house, and were thunderstruck (quedáron pasmados) to behold his majesty in such a state. But the emperor seeing himself out of danger, (fuera de peligro,) said: "These men (aquí teneis unos hombres que) have dreamed all that they liked. I wish in my turn also to dream." And after having mused a few seconds, he said: "I have dreamed that you all four deserve to be hanged:" which was no sooner spoken than executed before the house.

A certain king making one day his entrance into a town at two o'clock in the afternoon, (de la tarde,) the senate sent some deputies (un diputado) to compliment him. The one who was to speak (habia de hablar) began thus: "Alexander the Great, the great Alexander," and stopped short, (se cortó.)—The king, who was very hungry, (tenia hambre,) said: "Ah! my friend, Alexander the Great had dined, and I am still fasting, (estar en ayunas.)" Having said this, he proceeded so (siguió su camino) the City Hall, or State House, (á la casa consistorial,) where a magnificent dinner had been prepared for him.

A good old man, being very ill, sent for his wife, who was still very young, and said to her: "My dear, you see that my last hour is approaching, and that I am compelled to leave you. If, therefore, you wish me to die in peace you must do me a favor. You are still young, and will, without doubt, marry again, (se volverá á casar :) knowing this, I request of you not to wed (no se case con) M. Louis; for I confess that I have always been very jealous of him, and am so still. I should, therefore, die in despair (desesperado) if you did not promise me that." The wife answered: "My dear husband, (alma mia,) I entreat you, let not this hinder you from dying peaceably; for I assure you that, if even I wished to wed him I could not do so, being already promised to another."

It was customary with Frederick the Great, whenever a new soldier appeared in his guards, to ask him three questions; viz.: "How old are you? How long have you been in my service? Are you satisfied with your pay and treatment?" It happened that a young soldier, born in France, who had served in his own country, desired to enlist in the Prussian service. His figure caused him to be immediately accepted; but he was totally ignorant of the German dialect; and his captain giving him notice that the king would question him in that tongue the first time he should see him, cautioned him at the same time to learn by heart the three answers that he was to make to the king. Accordingly he learned them by the next day; and as soon as he appeared in the ranks Frederick came up to interrogate him: but he happened to begin upon him by the second question, and asked him, "How long have you been in my service?" "Twenty-one years," answered the soldier. The king, struck with his youth, which plainly indicated that he had not borne a musket so long as that, said to him, much astonished, "How old are you?" "One year, an't please your majesty, (con permiso de Vuestra Majestad.)" Frederick, more astonished still, cried, "You or I must certainly be bereft of our senses." The soldier, who took this for the third question, replied firmly, (con denuedo,) "Both, an't please your majesty."

A man (cierto) had two sons, one of whom liked to sleep very late in the morning, (á pierna suelta), and the other was very industrious, (aplicado y trabajador), and always rose very early. The latter having one day gone out very early, found a purse well filled with money. He ran to his brother to inform him (á contarle) of his good luck, (la buena fortuna), and said to him : " See, Louis, what is got (ganarse) by rising early ?"—" Faith, (cierto !)" answered his brother, " if the person to whom it belongs had not risen earlier than I, (he) would not have lost it."

A lazy young fellow being asked, (preguntado), what made him lie (porqué se estaba) in bed so long ?—" I am busied, (estar ocupado,") says he, " in hearing counsel every morning. Industry (el trabajo) advises me to get up ; sloth (la pereza) to lie still ; and so they give me twenty reasons pro and con, (en pro y en contra.) It is my part (tener obligacion de) to hear what is said on both sides ; and by the time the cause is over (acabarse) dinner is ready."

It was a beautiful turn given by a great lady, who, being (se cuenta un hermoso rasgo—) asked where her husband was, when he lay concealed (estar escondido) for having been deeply concerned in a conspiracy, (á causa de haber tomado gran parte en una conspiracion), resolutely (resueltamente) answered, she had hid him. This confession (esta confesion) drew her before the king, who told her, nothing but her discovering where her lord was concealed could save her from the torture, (que si no descubria donde se hallaba su señor marido, nada podria librarla de la tortura.) "And will that do, (bastar?)" said the lady. "Yes," says the king, "I will give you my word for it." "Then," says she, "I have hid him in my heart, where you will find him." Which surprising answer (esta admirable respuesta) charmed her enemies.

Cornelia, the illustrious (ilustre) mother of the Gracchi, (de los Gracqs.) after the death of her husband, who left her with twelve children, applied herself to (dedicarse á) the care of her family, with a wisdom (una discrecion) and prudence that acquired for (*adquirir) her universal esteem, (estimacion universal.) Only three out of the twelve lived to years of maturity, (edad madura;) one daughter, Sempronius, whom she married to the second Scipio Africanus; and two sons, Tiberius and Caius, whom she brought up (crió) with so much care, that, though they were generally acknowledged (confesar generalmente) to have been born with the most happy dispositions, (la disposicion,) it was judged that they were still more indebted (deber) to education than nature. The answer she gave (*dar) a Campanian lady (una dama de Campania) concerning them (con respecto á ellos) is very famous, (famoso—sa,) and includes in it (*contener) great instruction for ladies and mothers.

That lady, who was very rich, and fond of pomp and show, (apasionado á la pompa y á la ostentacion,) having displayed (mostrar) her diamonds, (el diamante,) pearls, (la perla,) and richest jewels, earnestly desired (suplicar con ahinco) Cornelia to let her see her jewels also. Cornelia dexterously (diestramente) turned the conversation to another subject to wait the return of her sons, who were gone to the public schools. When they returned, and entered their mother's apartment, she said to the Campanian lady, pointing to them. (mostrar :) "These are my jewels, and the only ornaments (adornos) I prize, (apreciar.") And such ornaments, (unos ornamentos,) which are the strength (la fuerza) and support (el sosten) of society, add a brighter lustre (mayor lustre) to the fair (la hermosura) than all the jewels of the East, (del Oriente.)

The vowels are a, e, i, o, u, and y when it stands by itself, or at the end of a word, or of a syllable immediately followed by a consonant. These letters must be sounded as they are in the following English words, which must be regarded as a Standard :—

A M E N I T Y.—O H !—F U L L.

SYLLABLES.

Obs. A. Pronounce the vowels of the following table, as directed above but be particular to sound the u as oo in coo, or u in full. Every must be fully pronounced, h excepted.

Obs. B To make it easier for a young scholar to learn at sight the pronunciation of every letter, the sound of it is represented in the following table by an English syllable, in italics, under it. H, under j or g, must be strongly aspirated; th, under c or x, lisped as in thin, truth; and r harshly pronounced

¹ Th lisped as in path, truth, theft, thin.

Obs. C. The vowels are never silent, except u in the syllables gue, gui, que, qui, the sound of which corresponds to that heard in the English words get, geese, etiquette, quint. When the u in these syllables is to be sounded it is marked with a diæresis; thus, argüir, aqüeducto. But, in conformity with the present use, the words in which the u is pronounced after q are written with c; thus, cuatro, acueducto.

Obs. D. The consonants that are pronounced differently from the English are the following:—

C before a, o, u, l, r, and when it is at the end of a syllable, sounds like k in English; as canal, cólico, cura, clamor, crédito, pacto. C before e, i, sounds lisped, like th in the English words theft, thin.

Ch sounds like the same letters in the English words chaf, chess, chir, chop, choose, much.

When ch is followed by a vowel marked with a circumflex accent, it must be pronounced as k; as, Châribdis. But all the words derived from the Greek having ch, are at present written in Spanish with c before a, o, u, r, and with qu before e or i; as, arcángel, cristiano, eco, monarquía.

D must be pronounced as the same letter in English. In some parts of Spain it is pronounced as th in father; and in others, where it occurs at the end of words, as th, or as t, or is even silent; thus, ciudad, ciudath, ciudat, ciudá. This pronunciation is considered provincial, and not Castilian.

G before a, o, u, l, r, sounds as in English; as, galan, gobierno, gusto, gloria, gracia. Before e or i, it sounds like the English h aspirated; as, genio, (hen'-e-o,) gitano, (he-tan-oh.)

H is always mute, or silent, except at the beginning of words followed by ue, in which case it has a very soft and slightly nasal sound, as in hueso, (bone.) The vulgar pronounce such words as if written with g.

J has a guttural sound, harsher, however, than the aspirated h in English. Before e or i it sounds as the g does in Spanish before the same letters.

LL is sounded by placing the tip of the tongue against the lower teeth, and turning the thick part of it towards the roof of the mouth while emitting the breath with rapidity. It may be heard in the English word million; but the ll must be pronounced more quickly and strongly than in that. LL is considered in Spanish a single letter with a double character, consequently it cannot be divided; thus, ca-llar.

N has a strong nasal sound, somewhat like n in poniard. The gn in French gives the exact sound.

Q is always followed by u, and is pronounced like k. In conformity with the modern orthography, the syllables in which u is sounded before a, e, o are written with c instead of q; thus, cuando, cuestion.

R, at the beginning of a word, after n, l, s, and in compound words the primitive of which begin with r, has a harsh and rough sound; as, rata, enriquecer, malrotar, cariredondo. When ab and ob are not prepositions as in abrogar, obrepacion, the r becomes liquid; as in abrejo, obrero.

R, in the middle of a word, or between two vowels, has a very smooth sound; as in morosidad, mérito.

The harsh and rough sound of r between two vowels, in the middle of simple words, is always expressed by double rr; thus, barraca, correcto, horror.

Common people frequently clip the r; saying paa instead of para.

N. B. Some Spaniards make in manuscript the letter r thus, x; as, cuezdas paxa amazzazle, (cuerdas para amarrarle,) cords to tie it. The scholar will do well to take notice of, but not to follow this old fashion. If the English r be not well formed, it will be mistaken for i or x.

S has always a harsh, hissing sound, like ss in English; as in desapose-sionar. (to dispossess.) There is not a word in Spanish beginning with s followed by a consonant. S is not written double, except when the pronoun se comes after the first person plural of a verb; as, dímossele, (we gave it to him.)

T must be pronounced as in the words tart, ten, tin, tone. It never undergoes the variations it does in English, in creature, nation, &c.; consequently creatura, patio, tia, &c., must be pronounced cray-ah-toor'-ah, pah'-tee-oh, tee-ah, &c. T is never written double.

N. B. As the English capital T, in manuscript, has in Spanish a different name and power, the learner is advised always to use this T. Observe, also, that this T is called by the Spaniards T, not F.

U always sounds as it does in English in the words full, pull.

V must be pronounced as in English. It is frequently used in manuscript instead of the capital U; thus, Vn dia, for Un dia.

X sounds like cs or ks in English; as, experiencia. When it is the last letter of a word it has a guttural sound, like that of the Spanish j, as in carcax, (quiver;) but such words are no longer written with x, but with j; thus, reloj, (watch,) formerly relox.

Y, when alone, or after a vowel, and followed by a consonant, or at the end of a word, is a vowel, and sounds like ee in English; as, él y ella, (he and she,) convoy. Y, before a vowel in the same syllable, or between two vowels, is a consonant, and sounds like the English j, though somewhat softer. Some persons write i in estoy, soy, voy, y, muy, instead of y.

Thus—estoi, soi, voi, i, mui.

In Spanish manuscript capital Y is to be used instead of capital I; thus—

Don Ysidro Ysla informa que el coronel Don Ygnacio Izquierdo salió ayer de Yrun con un batallón del regimiento del Ynfante.

These nouns, in printing, would be Isidro, Isla, Ignacio, Izquierdo, Irun, Infante.

Z must be pronounced as th in the English words thank, theft, thin, thorn, path, tenth, truth.

N. B. Particular care must be taken to pronounce fully and distinctly the letters e, d, r, and s, at the end of the words.

REMARKS ON THE PRONUNCIATION.

Every well-educated person in old Spain, as well as in its former and actual possessions in America, speaks and writes correctly the Spanish or Castilian language; but as the Spanish Peninsula consists of several provinces, that once were states and kingdoms independent from each other, and (Biscay excepted) were settled and governed by various nations, there are to be observed, in the mass of the people of each of its present divisions, certain peculiarities, propensities, and even animosities, that make the inhabitants of each division appear almost a different people. Some of them have had a peculiar idiom; hence it is that the Lengua Castellana is not spoken in all its purity by every person, except in both Castiles, and particularly in the districts of Burgos, Salamanca, Toledo, &c.

* The most frequent faults to be observed, and which the scholar is warned to avoid, are the following:—

B	instead of V;	as,	él bibe,	in lieu of	él vive,	he lives.
V	“ B;	“	él bebió,	“	él bebió,	he drank.
S	“ C;	“	seremonia,	“	ceremonia,	ceremony
C	“ S;	“	selebro,	“	celebro,	the brain.
S	“ Z;	“	casa,	“	caza,	hunting.
R	“ L;	“	craro,	“	claro,	clear.
Y	“ LL;	“	cavayo,	“	caballo,	a horse.
LL	“ Y;	“	pollo,	“	poyo,	a bench.
N	“ M;	“	onbro,	“	hombro,	a shoulder

H is used in words that have it not, and is omitted in others that have it: as, handan instead of andan, (they walk;) él iso for él hizo, (he made;) ollo for hoyo, (a hole.) J is sometimes used instead of h; as, él se juió for él se huyó, (he ran away.) In the terminations ado and ido they generally suppress the d, both in writing and pronouncing, and say, un bestio coloráo for un vestido colorado, (a red dress.) The first e, in the verbs of the first conjugation, that double that letter, as pasear, (to walk,) is sounded, and even written i; thus, yo me pasié tóa la tarde instead of yo me paseé toda la tarde, (I walked all the afternoon;) diendo for yendo, (going,) &c.

Vallejo, Palomares, and other Spanish authors, may be consulted on the subject.

DOUBLE LETTERS.

In simple words, e, i, c, r, are the only letters that may be written double.

E is double in the verbs of the first conjugation, when it is the last of their radical letters, and the termination begins with e; as, pasear, (to walk.) The radical letters are pase. The termination of the first person singular of the preterit is e—paseé, (I did walk.)

I is double in the superlative degree of the monosyllables ending in io as, frío, (cold;) frísimo, (very cold.)

C is double only before e or i, and is pronounced with both syllables; as, acceder, (to accede;) accidente, (accident.)

Remark.—Almost all words ending in English in ction, and their derivatives, change the t into c, and become Spanish; as, diction, (diccion;) dictionary, (diccionario.)

R is written double in the middle of words, between two vowels, to point out its harsh sound; as, carro, (a cart;) corro, (I run,) &c., to distinguish them from caro, (dear;) coro, (choir,) &c. (See R.)

In compound words all the vowels, and also n and s, are written double, whenever any of them are the last of the component and the first of the word to be compounded; as, contraabertura, (a counter-opening;) preeminente, (pre-eminent;) amandoos, (ye loving each other;) dannos, (they give us;) dámosselos, (we give them to him.)

DIVISION OF SYLLABLES.

Vowels forming a diphthong or triphthong must not be separated; as, gra-cio-so, pre-ciais, and not gra-ci-os-o, pre-ci-ais.

A single consonant between two vowels must be joined to the vowel after it; except x, that must be left with the preceding; as, bue-no, flo-res, me-lo-co-to-ne-ro, ex-á-men. LL, being considered a single letter, follows the same rule, which is also the case with ch; as, ca-ba-lle-ro, mu-cha-cho.

Two consonants between two vowels are divided by placing one to each syllable; as, car-ga-men-to, en-ter-ne-ci-mien-to. Except if the first of them be an f, or any of the mute letters, followed by l or r, for then both are joined to the second syllable; as, a-flic-cion, ha-blan-chin, co-bre.

When three consonants come between two vowels, the first two of them belong to the first syllable, if the second of said consonants be s, and the third to the second syllable; as, cons-ti-tu-cion, ins-pi-rar. But if the second letter be f, or any of the mute letters, followed by l or r, one belongs to the first, and the other two to the second syllable; as, con-flic-to, an-cla.

Four consonants between two vowels are equally divided; as, abs-trac-cion.

Compound words are to be divided into their component parts; as, des-or-de-nar. But should the simple word in its Latin origin begin with s, followed by a consonant, the s is to be placed with the preceding syllable; as, ins-tru-ir.

PUNCTUATION.

The notes used in Spanish for punctuation are the same as in English. A difference, however, is to be observed in the points of exclamation and interrogation, which in long sentences are placed upside down at the beginning of them, in order that the reader may calculate, and apply the proper emphasis and tone of voice ; as—

{ ; Como no! respondió Sancho. ¿ Por ventura el que
 { ; Coh-moh noh! res-pon-deeoh' San-tchoh. ¿ Por ven-toor-rah ell kay
 { ayer manteáron era otro que el hijo de mi padre?
 { ah-jer man-tay-ar-on er-ah oh-troh kay ell ee-hoh day me pah-dray?
 { ¿ y las alforjas que hoy me faltan son de otro que de él
 { ¿ ee lass al-for-hass kay oh-ee may fal-tan son day oh-troh kay day ell { mismo? Que! ¿ Te faltan las alforjas, Sancho?
 { miss-moh? Kay! ¿ Tay faltan lass al-for-hass, San-tchoh?

DON QUIJOTE, Cap. xviii., part 1

Translation.—How now! answered Sancho. Mayhap, then, they whom they tossed up in the blanket yesterday was not the son of my father? and did the saddle-bags that are lost to-day belong to some other person? How! Hast thou lost the saddle-bags, Sancho?

N. B. No apostrophe is used in Spanish. It is found, however, in very old books, and particularly in poetry; at present it is entirely expunged. Formerly it was also customary to suppress the e of words beginning with that letter, when they came after the preposition de, joining both words in one; thus, dél, deste, dellos, &c., instead of de él, de este, &c

ACCENT.

The Spanish vowels have always the same unvaried sound, whether they be at the beginning, in the midst, or at the end of a word. They, in all situations, must be fully and distinctly pronounced. The only difference to be observed in them, is the time requisite in their pronunciation. This time is called accent.

An accent is that peculiar stress of the voice laid on a vowel of a syllable, in consequence of which it is more distinctly and forcibly pronounced than the other vowels of the same word. Hence the vowels are called long or short.

A vowel is termed long when it requires a peculiar stress of the voice to be laid upon it; dwelling, consequently, on it a longer time than on any other vowel of the same word; as e in the first syllable of reverence, which is distinguished from the other two e's by the time spent in pronouncing it. The latter are therefore called short, because the stress of the voice is not laid on them, they being pronounced rapidly.

The following English words will elucidate this explanation.

No. 1. An abstract,	an accent,	the torment,	the conduct.
No. 2. To abstract,	to accent,	to torment,	to conduct.

The words in line No. 1 have the accent on the first syllable, and those at No. 2 on the last. Consequently it is said of the former, that they have the first syllable long; and the second short; and of the latter, that their first syllable is short, and the second long.

The little line, or mark set over a vowel, to point out that it must be pronounced long, is also called an accent. In the Spanish language the only accent used at present is that styled the acute (') In old books there is found also the circumflex, to indicate that the ch preceding the vowel marked with it must be pronounced as c (k) before a, o, or u, and as qu before e or i; and that x is to be sounded as cs; as, archângel, Achîles, prôxîmo, which at present are written arcângel, (ar-can'-hell,) Aquiles, (ah-key-less,) prôximo, (prok-see-moh.)

The vowels á, é, ó, ú, when used as prepositions or conjunctions, are always accented; as, ama á tu prójimo, sabios é ignorantes, grandes ó pequeños. The accent is never placed over y. But in printing (dictionaries excepted) the capitals are seldom accented; and in manuscript are almost always unaccented.

Monosyllables of more than one signification are accented on that syllable in which the vowel is pronounced longer; as—

Tú , thou.	Tu , thy.	Sí , himself, &c.	Si , if.
Él , he.	El , the.	Dé , give you.	De , of.
Mí , me.	Mi , my.	Té , tea.	Te , thee.
Sé , I know.	Se , himself, &c.	&c.	&c.

THE USE OF THE ACCENT.

Nouns ending in a vowel have, for the most part, the penultimate, or last syllable but one, long, and consequently they do not require the mark or accent to point it out; as, publico, habito; but if the stress of the voice is to be laid on any other syllable, it must be indicated by placing the accent upon such syllable; thus, público, public; publico, I publish; publicó, he published; hábito, a habit; habito, I inhabit; habitó, he inhabited.

WORDS FOR EXERCISE.

Animo,	calculo,	intimo,	participe,	numero.
Capitulo,	domestico,	limite,	practico,	titulo.
Celebre,	ejercito,	cantara,	termino,	vario.

But if to a person of a verb ending in an accented vowel the case of a pronoun be added, the accent must be retained, although it fall on the penultimate; as, pagó, he paid; pagóle, he paid him.

Words ending in a consonant have, generally, the last syllable long, and do not require the mark of the accent; as, caridad, animal, capitan, favor, interes, lobreguez. But should the accent be on any other syllable it must be marked; as, órden, íris, mártir, carácter, caractéres, (pl.)

Exception 1.—The plurals of nouns and adjectives, which, though they terminate in s, retain the accent they have in the singular; as, padres, amorosos, capitanes, from padre, amoroso, &c.

Exception 2.—Family names in ez or iz that generally have their penultimate syllable long; as, Fernandez, Armendariz.

Exception 3.—The persons of the verbs ending in s or x in which the penultimate is pronounced long ; as, miraras, entraran. When the stress of the voice is to be laid upon any other syllable, it is accented ; as, mirarás, entrarán, pasáramos.

READING-LESSONS.

☞ The learner is reminded to pronounce the vowels in the following lessons as set forth in page 402, to wit: a ah, e ay, i ee, o oh, u oo: to sound the syllables al and ad as they are sounded in the English words alcana, comical, lad; and to lisp the th, as in theft, thin, path, tenth, &c.

The English words in the third line are intended rather as a vocabulary than as a translation.

N. B. A — under a word indicates that it must not be translated.

In the Old Books,—

ā stands for an or am.ē “ en or em.ī “ in or im.o stands for on or om.ū “ un or umq “ que.

OTHER ABBREVIATIONS.

¶ is read Párrafo, a paragraph.① “ } Mil, a thousand.

B

J. M. J., at the beginning of writings of religious persons, means Jesus, María, José.

The Jesuits always begin and finish their letters and other writings with Jhs, which means and is read Jesus.

¹ An s is added to these abbreviations when more than one person is addressed; and then they stand for vuestras mercedes, vuéssas mercedes or ustedes, in the plural. At present the word usted and its plural are expressed by a V. or VV.

ETYMOLOGY.

THERE are in Spanish nine sorts of words, or, as they are commonly called, Parts of Speech; namely, the ARTICLE, the NOUN, the PRONOUN, the VERB, the PARTICIPLE, the ADVERB, the PREPOSITION, the CONJUNCTION, and the INTERJECTION.

The meaning of a word must be first ascertained, in order to classify it. Example:—Claro, clear. Ese claro (a substantive) es muy pequeño, that skylight is very small. Un día claro, (an adjective,) a clear day. El no habla claro, (an adverb,) he does not speak plain.

Take notice, that henceforth the numbers placed thus (1) after a word or at the end of a sentence or a paragraph, refer to the page which the learner must consult in the preceding Method.

ARTICLE.

There are two articles: the Indefinite and the Definite.

INDEFINITE ARTICLE.

Masculine Sing.	A or an.	Un , (38.)	Plur.	Some.	Unos or algunos
Feminine	"	Una , (162.)	"	"	Unas or algunas

DEFINITE ARTICLE.

Masculine Sing.	The.	El , (9.)	Plur.	The.	Los , (26.)
Feminine	"	La , (159.)	"	"	Las , (159.)

When the masculine definite article el comes after the preposition á (to) or de, (of, from,) the e is suppressed, and the two words are written as one; thus, al, del, instead of á el, de el. The pronoun él (he, it) is distinguished by the accent, and it is always written separately from the said prepositions; thus á él, de él.

Obs. El, los, (34,) la, las, are articles when they are before a noun, to point out how far its signification extends; but they are pronouns when él is the subject of a verb, or comes after a preposition; and la, (her, it,) los, las, (them,) are governed by a verb; as—

The bed of Don Quixote was foremost, and next to it Sancho made his.		El lecho de Don Quijote estaba primero, y luego junto á él hizo Sancho el suyo.
		DON QUIJOTE, cap. xvi. pt. i.

NOUNS.

NOUNS are either SUBSTANTIVE or ADJECTIVE.

Nouns Substantive have Persons, Numbers, Genders, and Cases.

PERSONS.

There are three persons: namely, the speaker, who is called the first person; the person spoken to, who is styled the second person and the person or thing spoken of, which is said to be the third person: as—

Make haste, son Sancho, (second person,) and tell (second person) that Lady of the hawk, (third person,) that I, the knight of the lions, (first person,) send my respects to her exceeding beauty.

Corre, hijo Sancho, y dí á aquella señora del azor, que yo, el caballero de los leones, beso las manos á su gran fermosura.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxx. pt. ii

The speaker seldom refers to himself by name.

When brutes, or inanimate objects, stand as speakers or persons spoken to, they are said to be personified; as—

Oh Jars of Toboso, which have recalled to my mind the dear object of my greatest sorrow!

¡ O tobosescas Tinajas, que me habeis traído á la memoria la dulce prenda de mi mayor amargura!

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xviii. pt. ii.

NUMBERS.

There are two numbers, the Singular and the Plural. (Less. IX. p. 26.)

RULE 1. Nouns ending in a short vowel, that is to say, a vowel having no accent over it, form their plural by adding s to the singular; as, head, cabeza, heads, cabezas; eye, ojo, eyes, ojos.

RULE 2. Nouns terminating in a long vowel, that is to say, a vowel having an accent over it; or in any consonant, or in y, add es to the singular; as, ruby, rubí, rubies, rubíes; lion, leon, lions, leones; law, ley, laws, leyes. Except papá, mamá, pié, &c. Maravedí, the smallest Spanish brass coin, has three plurals, maravedíes, maravedís, maravedises. Nouns terminating in z change it into c, or retain it and add es to form the plural; as, cross, cruz, crosses, cruces, or cruzes.

RULE 3. Nouns of two syllables ending in s, being accented on the penultimate, admit of no change for the plural, and distinguish it by means of the article; thus, Monday, lúnes, Mondays, los lunes:—

He had lentils on Fridays, and an addition of a pigeon on Sundays.

El tenia lentejas los viérnes, y algun palomino de añadidura los domingos.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. i. pt. i.

The same is to be observed with nouns compound of a verb, and a noun plural; as, the penknife, el cortaplumas, the penknives, los cortaplumas.

There are some nouns with a plural termination without reference to any singular; as,

Alfileres, ladies' pinmoney.

Esposas, handcuffs.

Grillos, fetters.

Albricias, a present for good news.

Alicates, pincers.

Preces, prayers, &c.

Zelo, (zeal,) has no plural; Zelos, (jealousy,) has no singular.

Don and Doña, as Spanish titles for a gentleman or lady, are not used in the plural ; and in conformity with the present custom they are placed only before prenomens, or baptismal names ; as, Messrs. Nicholas and Leandro F. Moratin, Don Nicolas y Don Leandro Fernandez de Moratin. Mr. Capmany, el Señor Capmany, and not Don Capmany.

GENDER.

There are two genders, the masculine and the feminine.

Every he, or male animal, is of the masculine gender ; as, boy, muchacho ; lion, leon. Every she, or female animal, is of the feminine gender ; as, girl, muchacha ; lioness, leona.

The collective nouns gente, people ; turba, torpa, crowd ; multitud, multitude ; plebe, common people ; juventud, youth, vejez, old age ; asamblea, assembly ; ave, bird ; bestia, beast, &c., require the articles, the adjectives, and the pronouns that agree with or refer to them, to be of the feminine gender ; as—

The coach must belong to some travelling people.

El coche debe de ser de alguna gente pasagera.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. viii. pt. i.

Nouns signifying dignities, offices, trades, professions, &c., proper to men, are masculine ; and those proper to women, feminine.

REMARK. There are some nouns of animals which custom¹ has made to express both genders, under either the masculine or feminine termination, preceded by the corresponding article. Nouns of this description are called in the grammatical language epicenos, epicene. Such are the following:—

MASCULINE.		FEMININE.
El avestruz ,	the ostrich.	La ardilla ,	the squirrel.
El buitre ,	the vulture.	La becada ,	the woodcock.
El cisne ,	the swan.	La calandria ,	the lark.
El cuervo ,	the crow.	La grulla ,	the crane.
El gilguero ,	the goldfinch.	La perdiz ,	the partridge.
El ruiseñor ,	the nightingale.	La tortuga ,	the turtle.

The rest of these nouns will be found in the dictionary.

The word macho, male, or hembra, female, with the corresponding article, is prefixed to any noun of this kind when it is necessary to distinguish the sex ; as, the partridge, la perdiz—the male, or he partridge, el macho de la perdiz ; the sparrow, el gorrion—the female, or she sparrow, la hembra del gorrion.

Obs. A. The pronouns he or she, and the nouns male and female, are not translated into Spanish when the gender may be distinguished by changing the termination of the noun masculine ; as,

A wolf,	un lobo.	A she wolf,	una loba.
A male servant,	un criado.	A female servant,	una criada.

¹ Si volet usus, quem penes arbitrium est, et jus, et norma loquendi.—HORACE.

RULES TO FORM THE FEMININE OF COMMON NOUNS OF ANIMATE BEINGS.

RULE 1. Common substantives ending in o, and the most part of those in e, change the o or e into a to form the feminine ; as,

Son,	hijo.	Daughter,	hija.
Brother,	hermano.	Sister,	hermana.
A male relative,	pariente.	A female relative,	parienta.

Except testigo, (witness,) that admits of no change, and distinguishes the gender by the article ; thus, el, or la testigo.

Obs. B. The feminine nouns formed out of the substantives signifying dignity, trade, &c., mean not only the female who enjoys the dignity, or follows the same trade or profession, but most frequently the wife, and even the daughter of the person that has the dignity, or follows the trade, &c. ; as,

Superiora ,	a female superior.	Confitera ,	confectioner.
Capitana ,	a captain's wife.	Confitera .

Confitera, may signify a female confectioner, or a confectioner's wife or daughter.

RULE 2. Most of the common nouns ending in an and on, add an a for the feminine ; as,

Capitan ,	captain.	Capitana ,	a female commander.
Patron ,	patron.	Patrona ,	a patroness.
Pastor ,	shepherd.	Pastora ,	a shepherdess.

RULE 3. National nouns, that is, nouns that express the nation or country of persons, or where the thing is produced, or comes from, whether they be substantive or adjective, if they terminate in o, change it into a ; and if they end in a consonant, add an a to form the feminine ; as,

Americano, Americana, American. | Español, Española, Spaniard.

RULE 4. Common substantives ending in a, and most of those terminating in en or ir, admit of no change, and distinguish the gender by the articles—(Obs. D, 162 ;) as,

Un pensionista ,	a pensioner.	El mártir ,	the martyr.
Una pensionista ,	"	La mártir ,	the female martyr.

RULE 5. Almost all words compound of the substantives man or woman, and an adjective, distinguish their gender, in Spanish, by prefixing to them the corresponding article and omitting said substantives ; as,

Un jóven ,	a young man.	Una jóven ,	a young woman.
Los Ingleses ,	the Englishmen.	Las Inglesas ,	the English women.

Man and woman are translated when a particular emphasis is placed on them.

Obs. C. Many of the nouns compound of said substantives, or of an adjective, are translated in Spanish by a single word, to be found in the dictionary, in the masculine gender, out of which the feminine may be formed in conformity with the foregoing rules ; as,

El lechero ,	the milkman.	La lechera ,	the milk-woman.
Un naranjero ,	an orange-man.	Una naranjera ,	an orange-woman.

RULE 6 Some nouns express their gender by different terminations (See Lesson LVI., page 246.)

RULE 7. Some nouns distinguish their gender by different words. (See Lesson LVI., page 247.)

GENDER OF NOUNS NEUTER IN ENGLISH.

The nouns that are neuter in English are masculine or feminine in Spanish, according to their signification or their termination.

BY THE SIGNIFICATION.

Arte, canal, capital, corte, dote, frente, guardia, óraen, mar, &c., are masculine or feminine according to their meaning, to wit:

Arte, (art,) in the singular, may be used in either gender; in the plural, only in the feminine. Should arte be qualified by an adjective, the latter agrees with it in the feminine termination; as,

El delicado gusto de V. en el arte	Your fine taste in the rhymic art.
rítmica.	MORATIN, Comedia Nueva .

Mar, (sea,) when it is alone, may be used in either gender. When it is accompanied by the adjectives Mediterranean, White, Red, &c., it is masculine; as, el or la mar; el mar Rojo. With other adjectives it is generally feminine: la mar estaba algo mas sosegada, (CERVANTES.) However, the use is not fixed.

Orden (order) is masculine when it signifies arrangement, or refers to architecture; as,

All was in good order.	Todo estaba en buen órden.
The edifice is of the Ionic order.	El edificio es del órden Jónico.

Orden, signifying command, or a religious or military institution, is feminine; as,

I received your order.	Yo recibí la órden de V.
Two friars of the order of St. Benedict.	Dos frailes de la órden de San Benito.
	CERVANTES.

Dueño, (master, owner, lord, mistress, lady,) in a figurative sense, is used only in the masculine termination for both sexes; as,

From that instant I made her mistress of my heart.	Desde aquel instante la hice dueño
	(señora) de mi corazon.

BY THE TERMINATION.

Obs. D. The proper names of kingdoms, provinces, cities, &c., when they stand alone, are generally of the gender of their termination; as, España está casi aislada del resto del continente | Spain is almost insulated from the rest of the continent.

But when they are qualified by common nouns of different terminations, they agree with them accordingly; as,

Toledo es una antigua ciudad.	Toledo is an ancient city
Sevilla fué un reino poderoso.	Seville was a powerful kingdom.

The following general rules are subject to many exceptions, of which only the most usual are pointed out.

RULE 1.—Nouns ending in a are feminine, (162.)

Except most of those derived from the Greek; as,

Antipoda.	antipode.		Clima,	climate, &c.
------------------	-----------	--	---------------	--------------

And also the following:—

Dia,	day.		Guarda-costa,	custom-house cutter
Mapa,	map.		Paragua,	umbrella.
Idioma,	idiom.		Viva,	huzza.

Activity,	actividad.		Veracity,	veracidad.
-----------	-------------------	--	-----------	-------------------

RULE 3.—Nouns ending in e, i, o, or u, are masculine Except—

Calle,	street.		Noche,	night.
Carne,	flesh, meat.		Tarde,	afternoon
Clase,	class.		Llave,	key.
Especie,	species.		Leche,	milk.
Suerte,	chance		Nieve,	snow.
Hambre,	hunger.		Nave, nao,	vessel.
Costumbre,	custom.		Mano,	hand.
Mente,	mind.		&c.	&c.

RULE 4.—Nouns ending in l, n, on, r, s, or z, are masculine. Except—

Sarampion,	measles.	Turbion,	shower.
Bastion,	bastion.	&c.	&c.

CASES.

There are three cases: the Subject, or nominative case; the Object, or the direct objective case; and the Complement, or the indirect objective case, (69.) The object is the accusative in Latin; and the complement answers to the dative, or any of the oblique cases, except the vocative, which in Spanish is a subject absolute.

When two pronouns, object and complement, come together in a sentence, the complement is always set before the object. When they are governed by a verb in the infinitive, or in the imperative mood, they are placed after it, and written so as to form one word with it; as—

He promised to send them to me. | El prometió enviármelos.

In cases where the stress of the voice is on the last syllable of the verb, it is preserved on the same syllable; which, on account of changing its place, requires the mark of the accent; thus, dan, dunme, dánmelos, they give them to me.

REMARK.—When the object of a transitive verb is the noun of a rational being, or a proper noun, or a thing personified, it must be preceded by the preposition á, (which in that case being an idiom,¹ is not translated into English;) but the preposition is not required in other cases.

The surgeon cured the wounded woman.	El cirujano curó á la mujer herida.
The surgeon dressed the woman's wound.	El cirujano vendó la herida de la mujer.
There is a God in heaven, who takes care to chastise the wicked, and to reward the righteous.	Dios hay en el cielo que no se descuida de castigar al malo, y de premiar al bueno.
His impatience killed Chrysostom.	DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxii. pt. i. Su impaciencia mató á Crisóstomo. Ditto, cap. xiv. pt. i.

¹ Idiom is the peculiar construction of a language which distinguishes it altogether from others.—Crabb.

It was known there that Signor Don Juan had taken Tunez.

Se supo en ella que el Señor Don Juan habia tomado á Tunez.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix. pt. i.

We must, in slaying giants, kill pride

ADJECTIVES

Adjectives have persons, cases, numbers, and genders; they admit, besides, several degrees of signification.

Honor is more precious than riches.		El honor es mas precioso que las riquezas. (108-9.)
---	--	--

When the comparative in English is formed by the addition of the termination er, as fairer, it must be translated as if written more fair; thus,

He is richer (more rich) than his brother.		El es mas rico que su hermano.
--	--	---------------------------------------

The comparative of inferiority is formed by translating literally the adverbs less, MÉNOS, than, QUE; as,

Silver is less useful than iron.		La plata es ménos útil que el hierro.
----------------------------------	--	--

It may also be expressed negatively; as,

She is as tall as a spear, and as fresh as an April morning.		Ella es tan grande como una lanza, y tan fresca como una mañana de Abril.

El tiene tanto honor, y tanta instruccion, como su competidor ; pero él no tiene tantos años de servicio, ni ha dado tantas pruebas de sus conocimientos prácticos.

So as is rendered by de modo que, de suerte que, de manera que ; as—
Do (you) it, so as to please him.

Hágalo V. de modo que él quede contento.

As much — as, as many. — as, with reference to a noun, are translated by tanto or tanta — como, cuanto, or cuanta, according to the gender and number of the noun they refer to ; as—

He spends as much money as he receives.

El gasta tanto dinero como, or cuanto recibe.

As for dolls, Anastasia has as many as she wants.

En cuanto á muñecas, Anastasia tiene tantas cuantas quiere.

Usted tiene aquí cuanto (or tanto cuanto) ha menester.

As much, or so much, with reference to a verbal adjective, is translated tan—como ; as,

They are as much interested as you. | Ellos estan tan interesados como V.

When the second as, in this kind of phrases is followed by a verb in the present of the infinitive mood, it must be translated que, and the verb in the indicative mood ; as,

She is so charitable as to deprive herself even of the most necessary things to give them to the poor.

Ella es tan caritativa que se priva aun de las cosas mas necesarias para darlas á los pobres.

The most—the least, (109,) with reference to verbs, must be translated only by mas or ménos, omitting the article the ; as,

He is the man they praise the most.

El es el hombre que ellos mas alaban.

Such is the person they oppose the least.

Tal es la persona á quien menos se oponen.

Obs. When the adjective in the comparative degree, in English, (whether it be formed through the adverbs more or less, or through the affixes r or er,) is preceded by the definite article the, and the same article (the) is repeated in the second part of the sentence, before an adjective in the comparative degree ; the article the is omitted in both parts, and cuanto is used instead of it in the first, and tanto in the second part of it ; as,

The shorter (more short) time is, the more precious it is.
CUANTO mas breve el tiempo es, TANTO mas precioso él es.

The more, or the less, (110,) repeated in the same sentence with reference to a verb, must also be translated cuanto mas or ménos, tanto mas or ménos ; as.

No here is no doubt that this exercise exceeds all others, and that it ought to be the more esteemed, because it is the more exposed to danger.

Ahora no hay que dudar sino que este ejercicio excede á todos los otros, y tanto mas se ha de tener en estima, cuanto á mas peligros está expuesto.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvii. pt. i.

The more, the less, may be also rendered by miéntras mas or ménos; as,
The more he plays, the less he learns. | Miéntras mas juega, ménos aprende, or tanto ménos aprende.

When the more and the least relate to a noun, cuanto and tanto change their number and gender so as to agree with it; as,

The more pride he shows, the more enemies he makes. | Cuanta mas soberbia muestra él, tantos mas enemigos se hace.

Tanto may be omitted in the second part of the sentence; as,
The more he has, the more he wants. | Cuanto mas tiene, mas quiere, or tanto mas quiere.

So or such — as, followed by a verb in the infinitive mood, is rendered by tan — que, placing the verb in the same tense as the one that precedes it in the same sentence as,

His friend's failure was so unexpected, as to oblige him to stop his business. | La quiebra de su amigo fué tan inesperada, que le obligó á suspender sus negocios.

SUPERLATIVE.

The Superlative is absolute or relative.

The superlative absolute (110) is formed by prefixing the adverb muy (very) to the adjective; as—

Fair.

Hermoso, hermosa.

Very fair, fairest.

Muy hermoso, muy hermosa.

It is also formed by adding the termination ísimo to the adjective, which drops the last letter, if it be o or e; as—

Very fair, most fair, fairest.

Hermosísimo, hermosísima.

Merry.

Alegre.

Very merry, most merry, merriest.

Alegrísimo, alegrísima.

Useful.

Util.

Very useful, most useful.

Utilísimo, utilísima.

Adjectives terminating in { ble change ble into bil; as, amable, amabilísimo.
 co " co " qu; " rico, riquísimo.
 go " go " gu; " largo, larguísimo.
 z " z " c; " feliz, felicísimo.

The most part of the dissyllables in io, drop the i; as—

Pio, pious.

| Piísimio,

most pious.

Adjectives in iente, drop the i; as—

Valiente,

valiant.

| Valentísimo,

most valiant.

The adjective in the superlative degree, in English, whether formed by the terminations st or est, or by the adverbs most or least, being preceded by the article the, (which constitutes it a superlative relative,) must be translated by the definite article, and the adverbs mas or ménos, according to the gender and number of the substantive it refers to ; as—

He has the finest broadcloth, but they want the least expensive. | El tiene el paño mas fino, pero ellos quieren el ménos costoso.

N. B.—The adverbs mas or ménos must always be placed immediately before the adjective ; thus—

The most innocent pleasures are always the most pure. | Los placeres mas inocentes son siempre los mas puros, or los mas inocentes placeres, &c., but not los mas placeres inocentes.

An adjective in the superlative degree, in English, preceded by the definite article the, taken substantively, must be translated by the superlative formed by the termination ísimo ; as,

The Highest (or the Most High) ordered it so. | El Altísimo lo dispuso así.

An adjective in the superlative degree, preceded by the article, being used with a reference to a verb, or a sentence, must be translated by using the pronoun lo instead of the article, and placing the adjective in the comparative degree ; as,

The best that he can do, is to pay immediately. | Lo mejor que puede hacer, es pagar inmediatamente.

One thousand and eleven.	Mil y once.
One thousand one hundred and one.	Mil, ciento y uno.
One thousand five hundred.	Mil y quinientos.
Two thousand.	Dos mil.
Five hundred thousand.	Quinientos mil.
A Million.	MILLON, (cuen to.)

Two numbers coming together in an inverted order in English, are translated by placing the highest in the first place ; thus,

Three and thirty. | Treinta y tres.

Eleven hundred, fifteen hundred, and the like expressions, are always translated one thousand one hundred, one thousand five hundred, &c. ; thus, mil y ciento, mil y quinientos, and not once cientos, &c.

The cardinal numbers are used instead of the ordinal in speaking of the days of the month, excepting the first ; as,

The fourth of July. | El cuatro de Julio.
The first of May. | El primero de Mayo.

(See Obs. A, p. 46.)

The words o'clock (65, Obs. B,) are omitted in reference to the hours of the day, which are expressed by the cardinal numbers, preceded by the article las or la with reference to una, one ; as,

¹ From doscientos to novcientos, inclusively, the termination os is changed into as for the feminine ; as—

Three hundred miles. | Trescientas millas.

² Mil has neither gender nor number ; but it may be used in the plural, speaking, as in English, in a vague sense ; as—

In that railroad many thousands | En ese Ferro-carril se han gastado have been spent. | muchos miles.

What time is it?

It is one o'clock.

It is two o'clock

| ¿Que hora es?

| Es la una.

| Son las dos.

ORDINAL NUMBERS

First, primero, | Second, segundo, &c. (46.)

Ordinal numbers change o into a for the feminine, and admit the same variation of numbers as the adjectives.

Obs. The adjectives uno, one, primero, first, (46,) alguno, some, ninguno, none, bueno, good, malo, bad, postrero, (little used,) last, drop the o when they are immediately followed by a substantive alone, or preceded by an adjective in the singular. Ciento, hundred, loses the last syllable before nouns of either gender, (Obs. A, p. 139.) Grande, great, generally loses the last syllable when it is not applied to size; as, el Gran Capitan, (Obs. C, p. 97.) Santo, saint, also drops the last syllable before nouns masculine in the singular, except Domingo, Tomas, &c.

The ordinal numbers are used in speaking of the chronological order of kings, &c., but the article is suppressed; as,

AUGMENTATIVE AND DIMINUTIVE NOUNS. (31-2.)

REMARK. Many of the nouns signifying relationship, as sister, hermana, as well as the baptismal, and even family names, such as Luis, Catalina, Rivero, Gonzalez, are used, in colloquial and familiar style, with the terminations ito or ita; but for the most part they are not diminutive nouns, for they have no reference to the size, beauty, age, or moral qualities of the persons. They are, properly, endearing words, that express affection, friendship, or regard. Therefore, hermanita, Luisito, Catalinita, Riverito, or Riverita, Gonzalitos, do not signify precisely little sister, but rather a beloved sister, esteemed Luis, dear Catalina, friend Gonzalez.

These names are not always regularly formed by the addition of ito or ita; they frequently have other terminations, and are even changed into other odd words.

EXAMPLES. From MARIA, (Mary or Maria,) are derived Mariquita, Mariquilla, Maruca, Maruja. From MARIA DE LA CONCEPCION, Concepcion, Concha, Conchita, Chona, Cota, Cotita. From MARIA DE JESUS, Jesusa, Jesusita, Chucha, Chuchita. From FRANCISCO, (Francis,) Francisquito, Frazco, Frazquito, Paco, Paquito, Pacorro, Pancho, Panchito, Curro, Currito, &c. FRANCISCA (Frances) changes the o of the above names into a

PRONOUNS.

Pronouns are divided into personal, possessive, relative, interrogative, demonstrative, and indefinite.

The personal pronouns are, singular—I, yo, thou, tú, you, (your honor or worship,) usted, he, él, she, ella, it, él, ella, ello, or lo. Plural—we, nosotros or nosotras, you, vosotros, vosotras, or vos, you, (your honors or worships,) ustedes, they, ellos, ellas. (See table of personal pronouns, p. 70.)

Vos is used in addressing a single person, and vosotros, when speaking of or to more persons than one. The objective case of vos after a preposition is also vos; as,

And what share of it falls to you, Sancho?		¿Pues que parte os alcanza á vos, Sancho?
		DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxi. pt. i.

The use of usted is explained in Observation A, pages 9 and 10, which the learner is desired to consult. What is said there about usted, is likewise applicable to usia, (V. S.,) your lordship, or ladyship; vucelencia, (V. E.,) your excellency, &c.

Me, te, se, nos, os, le, los, la, las, les, are governed by verbs; and (in conformity with the present use) never placed after prepositions.

When mí, tí, sí, nosotros, nosotras, vosotros, vosotras, él, ellos, ella, ellas, are used as objects, they are to be preceded by prepositions.

When mí, tí, sí, come after the preposition con, (with,) they are converted into conmigo, contigo, consigo, and admit no change in gender or number.

Mismo (self) is sometimes added to the personal pronouns to give them a particular energy. It changes its number and gender in conformity with the rules laid down for adjectives.

We must love our neighbor as our- selves.		Debemos amar á nuestro prójimo como á nosotros mismos.

The objective cases of the pronouns are generally placed before the verb when it is either in the indicative or in the subjunctive mood; and after the verb, and joined to it, so as to form one single word, when the verb is in the infinitive, or in the imperative mood; except when the verb in the imperative mood is preceded by an adverb of negation; as,

Let him who terms me a fierce basilisk, shun me as an evil being; let him who calls me ungrateful, refuse me his services.		El que me llama fiera y basilisco, déjeme como cosa perjudicial y mala; y el que me llama ingrata, no me sirva.
		DON QUIJOTE, cap. xiv. pt. i.

When two pronouns, object (the direct objective case) and complement, (indirect objective case,) come together, the complement must be placed before the object, (Obs. A, p. 69;) as,

He paid it to me.		El me le pagó.
-------------------	--	-----------------------

Should both pronouns, object and complement, be of the third person, the complement, or that which in English is governed by to, expressed or understood, must be rendered by se; as,

He will carry him to him.	El se le llevará.
He will carry her to him.	El se la llevará.
He will carry them to him.	El se los (las) llevará.
He will not carry it to him.	El no se le llevará.
Will he carry her to him?	¿ Se la llevará él ?
Will he not carry them to them ?	¿ No se los (las) llevará él ?

In order to avoid the ambiguity arising sometimes from such phrases, the other pronoun of the same person is frequently repeated after the verb; thus, él se le llevará á él, á ella, á ellos, &c.

You, when it is translated usted, must be rendered by se; as,

He presented him to you.	El se le presentó á V.
--------------------------	-------------------------------

POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS.

Possessive pronouns are conjunctive or absolute.

The possessive pronouns conjunctive are so called because they cannot be used alone, but must be accompanied by a noun. They have numbers, but admit no variation of gender. (160.)

SINGULAR.	PLURAL.		SINGULAR.	PLURAL.
My, mi,	mis.	Its,	su or de él,	sus or de ellos.
Thy, tu,	tus.		su or de ella,	sus or de ellas.
His, su or de él,	sus or de ellos.		su or de ellos,	sus or de ellos
Her, su or de ella,	sus or de ellas.		su or de ellas,	sus or de ellas

These pronouns agree in number with the noun that comes after them; as,

He paid his expenses.	El pagó sus gastos.
They fulfilled their promise.	Ellos cumplieron su promesa.

When you is translated usted or ustedes, YOUR is to be rendered by su or sus, de usted or ustedes; as,

He thinks that the letter is yours.	El piensa que la carta es de V.
-------------------------------------	--

REMARK. The use of su and sus (your) without the addition of usted, in addressing respectable persons, is considered vulgar and impolite. No person accustomed to good society will ever say, Señor N. ¿ como está su hermana ? Mr. N. how is your sister? Amigo, ¿ dígame que hora es ? Friend, tell me what o'clock it is? instead of, Señor N. ¿ como está su (or ía) hermana de V. ? or la Señora hermana de V. Amigo, ¿ dígame V que hora es ? or sírvase V. decirme que hora es.

The following quotations from the celebrated modern dramatist, Moratin, who wrote in Madrid, and frequented the best society of that court, will corroborate this remark.

I do not know your mother.	Yo no conozco á su madre de usted EL SI DE LAS NIÑAS, act ii. sc. 17
----------------------------	---

Your uncle wishes to know what all this means.

Quiere saber el tio de usted lo que hay en esto.

Ditto, act iii. sc. 10.

How do you do, good man?—I would speak more politely, answered Don Quixote, were I you; is that the language used in this country to knights errant?—you blockhead.

¿ Como va, buen hombre?—Hablara yo mas bien criado, respondió Don Quijote, si fuera que vos. ¿ Usase en esta tierra hablar de esa suerts á los caballeros andantes?—majadero.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xvii. pt. i.

The possessive pronouns absolute (244) may be used with or instead of the noun to which they refer; when used with a noun, they are placed after it, (31;) as,

Your hat cost five dollars, mine three dollars, and John's only twenty shillings; but his is better than yours, and as good as mine.

El sombrero de usted costó cinco pesos, el mio tres, (pesos,) y el de Juan solamente veinte reales; pero el suyo (de él) es mejor que el de usted, y tan bueno como el mio.

Come here, my Anastasia.

Ven acá, Anastasia mia.

Mine,

mio, mios, mia, mias.

Thine,

tuyo, tuyos, tuya, tuyas.

His, hers, its, theirs, suyo, suyos, suya, suyas.

el suyo, los suyos, la suya, las suyas.

el de él, los de él; el de ella, los de ella.

los or las de él, &c.

Our, ours,

nuestro, nuestros, nuestra, nuestras.

Your, yours,

vuestro, vuestros, vuestra, vuestras de Usted or de Ustedes.

el, los, la, las de V. or de VV.

suyo, suyos, suya, suyas; as—

I am your servant, sir.

Yo soy servidor de V. caballero.

When mine, thine, &c., stand instead of the noun they refer to, they must be preceded by the corresponding article; as,

Has the postman brought the letters?

¿ Ha traído el cartero las cartas?

Yes, he brought thine, but not mine.

Sí, él trajo las tuyas pero no las mias.

These pronouns agree in gender and number with the substantives expressing the thing possessed; as,

These houses are his.

Estas casas son suyas, (de él.)

The gardens were hers, but now they are theirs.

Los jardines eran suyos, (de ella;) pero ellos son ahora suyos, (de ellos or ellas.)

The conjunctive pronouns are used in speaking of, and the absolute in addressing to ; as,

My friends, these are my children. | Amigos mios, estos son mis hijos.

When the noun is accompanied by an adjective, either of them may be used ; as,

My dear brother, farewell !

| Mi querido hermano, (querido hermano mio,) pásalo bien !

Vuestro is not used in colloquial, polite style, therefore your and yours must be translated de usted or de ustedes, or suyo, suya, according to the sense of the phrase ; as,

He bought his umbrella in Pearl-street, and you brought yours from London.

| El compró su paraguas en la calle de la Perla, y V. trajo el suyo (el de V.) de Londres.

RELATIVE PRONOUNS. (73.)

The relative pronouns simple, are quien, que, cual, and cuyo ; and the compound, quienquiera and cualesquiera.

Quien, in the plural quienes or quien, (who, which, that,) admits of no change for the gender, and is used only with reference to persons, or objects personified. (73.)

Que (who, which, what, that) has no variation of gender or number, and is used with reference both to persons and things.

Cual, in the plural cuales, (who, which, what, that,) refers to persons or things, without any change of gender ; but it requires the corresponding article whenever it is necessary to distinguish it ; thus, el cual, los cuales, la cual, las cuales.

Cuyo (whose, which) forms its number and gender like the adjectives in o, and agrees with the noun that comes after it.

Cualquiera, in the plural cualesquiera, (whoever, whichever, whatever,) has no change for the gender, and is common to persons and things. It generally drops the last letter when the noun following begins with a vowel, or an h.

Quienquiera (whoever, whichever) is applied to persons, or personified nouns of either gender. The Academy sets it down as invariable in number but quienesquiera is found in classic authors.

INTERROGATIVE PRONOUNS.

The relative pronouns are called interrogative when they are used in asking a question ; as,

Who wrote the letter ?

To whom did you write ?

Which of the two does he want ?

Of what does she complain ?

Whose image and inscription is this ?
Cesar's.

| ¿ Quien escribió la carta ?

| ¿ A quien escribió V. ?

| ¿ Cual de los dos quiere él ?

| ¿ De que se queja ella ?

| ¿ Cuya (de quien) es esta imagen é inscripción ? Del César.

DEMONSTRATIVE PRONOUNS, (21, 28, 161.)

	SING.	PLUR.	SING.	PLUR.	SING.	PLUR.

Feminine.	Esta.	Estas.	Esa.	Esas.	Aquella.	Aquellas.

Este denotes proximity ; ese, some distance ; and aquel, remoteness of place or time. (24.)

Esto, (this,) eso or aquello, (that,) and ello or lo, (it,) are used only in the singular, with reference to whole sentences, or to the actions expressed by the verbs, and frequently to avoid the repetition of a verb or a noun ; as, Be that as it may.

He was one of those, who being no princes by birth, know not how to direct those who are princes to act as such.

Sea lo que se fuere.

El era uno de estos que como no nacen príncipes, no aciertan á enseñar como lo han de ser, los que lo son.

Brother, if you are buffoon, keep your jokes for a place where they may turn to account.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxi. pt. ii.

Hermano, si sois juglar, guardad vuestras gracias para donde lo parezcan. Ditto, ditto.

OF THE VERB.

A VERB is a word that signifies to be, to do, or to suffer, as,

I live.	Yo vivo.
He commands.	El manda.
They are commanded.	Ellos son mandados

Verbs are divided into active transitive, active intransitive, passive, and neuter. They may be also pronominal or reflective, reciprocal, impersonal, and auxiliary. These verbs being the same as in English, mention will be made only of such as require particular explanation in regard to the Spanish language.

A pronominal or reflective verb (181) is that which has the same person or thing as subject and object ; as,

He flatters himself.	El se lisongea á sí mismo.
----------------------	-----------------------------------

Almost all active verbs may be made pronominal.

Impersonal verbs (191) are those which are used only in the third person singular, without a subject or nominative ; as,

It snows.	Nieva.
It happened.	Sucedió.
It is said.	Se dice.

Auxiliary verbs are those through the help of which the compound tenses of all other verbs, and their passive voice, are formed ; such are,

To have.	Haber.
To be.	Ser, or estar, &c.

To verbs belong Numbers, Persons, Moods, Tenses, and Conjugation.

NUMBERS AND PERSONS.

Verbs have singular and plural numbers ; and in each number there are three persons, which are distinguished by the different terminations corresponding to each person.

☐ The first person singular terminates in o, e, a, é, i.

Except to have, to be, to give, to go, and to know, the first person of which is, respectively, he, soy, estoy, doy, voy, sé.

The second person singular terminates in as, es.

Except the preterit indefinite of the indicative and the imperative mood

The third person singular terminates in a, e, o, ó, or ío.

The first person plural terminates in mos.

The second person plural terminates in ais, eis, or is.

Except the 2d of the imperative that ends in ad, ed, or id.

The third person plural terminates in an, en, or on.

Obs. A. When nos (us) is placed after the first person plural of a verb, the verb generally drops the s ; as,

Cuidémonos. (Cuidémosnos.)	Let us take care of ourselves.
-----------------------------------	--------------------------------

The second person plural of the imperative drops also the d when os is placed after it ; as,

Amaos (amados) sinceramente. | Love each other sincerely.

Obs. B. The vowel by which the termination of the second person singular of each tense begins, is also the first of the termination of every person of the same tense ; as, estudiabas, estudiaba, estudiábamos, estudiábais, estudiaban. Except the imperative in all the conjugations, and the preterit indefinite of the first conjugation.

MOODS.

There are four moods: the Infinitive, the Indicative, the Imperative, and the Subjunctive.

Obs. C. The English potential mood is generally rendered by the subjunctive in Spanish.

TENSES.

Tense is that variation of a verb that distinguishes its time

Tenses are simple or compound. The former consist of one word, the latter of two ; the first of which is the auxiliary verb, and the second the participle past of the verb that is conjugated.

Obs. D. The verb to write, (escribir,) will be made use of, the better to elucidate the following explanations ; and the numbers, 1, 2, &c., to avoid the repetition of the whole name of the tense in the rules.

The Infinitive Mood has three simple, and two compound tenses.

OF THE CONJUGATION.

The Conjugation of a verb, is the regular combination and arrangement of its several numbers, persons, moods, and tenses.

These combinations are made and formed in the Spanish language, out of the present of the infinitive mood of any verb, which invariably terminates in either ar, er, or ir, which syllables are called its TERMINATION; and the letters that remain of the said present of the infinitive, after separating one of the said terminations, whatever they may be, are called its ROOT, and the letters of such root are called its RADICAL LETTERS; as, to esteem, estim r; to offend, ofend-er, to permit, permit-ir; in which verbs ar, er, ir are the TERMINATIONS; and estim, ofend, permit, the RADICAL LETTERS of each respectively, to which the other combinations must be added to form the various persons and tenses of a verb.

All the Spanish verbs are, therefore, classed into three conjugations. Verbs ending in ar belong to the first; those in er to the second; and those in ir to the third.

Obs. E. It is not necessary to express the pronouns subject or nominative, in the colloquial style, (usted and ustedes excepted;) but they must be used whenever elegance or clearness requires it.

Obs. F. The numbers before the terminations point out the different persons. N. 2, before usted and ustedes, denotes that they are of the second person, but that the verb agrees with them in the third, (by Enallage.)

TERMINATIONS OF ALL THE REGULAR VERBS.

Obs. G. The grave accent (`) upon a vowel in the following terminations, points out the syllable on which the stress of the voice is laid, but over which the mark of it must not be set. The acute accent (') marks the syllable on which the stress of the voice lays, and over which the accent is to be written. When there is no mark of an accent in the termination, the syllable that precedes it is long.

2. You united, íais.
3. They united, ían.
2. You united, VV. — ían.

¹ V. in the singular, must be read Usted; VV. means Ustedes, and must be pronounced so.

² When the English imperfect tense, for instance, he was uniting, or he was united, may be expressed by, he was uniting, or he was united, or was accustomed to unite, preserving the same sense, then it is to be translated by the imperfect tense in Spanish; thus—él unía. When that cannot be done, but it may be changed into did, then the preterit must be used—él unió. (See Lesson XL., page 157.) The same must be understood of all the verbs in the imperfect tense.

REMARK.—Could, would, or should express as well as might any of the above tenses, numbers 7, 8, and 9; but the translation of the verb preceded by them in English, depends entirely on the meaning of the Spanish verb or conjunction, that governs, or requires it in the subjunctive mood, as it is explained in Lesson LXXIX. p. 256, which the learner must study with attention.

The future of the subjunctive, N. 10, might be translated in English, would I shall, and the verb in the usual way.

PASSIVE VERBS. (175.)

Passive verbs are formed from active-transitive verbs by adding their participle past, or passive, to the auxiliary verb ser, (to be,) through all its changes, as in English; thus, from the active verb amar, (to love,) is formed the passive verb ser amado, (to be loved.)

Obs. A. The participle must agree in gender and number with the nominative it refers to; consequently it changes the o into a when the subject is feminine, and adds s for the plural; thus,

SINGULAR.

He is loved.	El es amado.
She is loved.	Ella es amada.
You are loved	V. es amado, (amada.)

They are loved.	Ellas son amadas.
You are loved.	VV. son amados, (amadas.)

Obs. B. In the compound tenses the participle of the principal verb is the only one that admits the change; the participle of the auxiliary verb to be (been, sido) is unchangeable; as,

He has been rewarded.	El ha sido premiado.
They have been rewarded.	Ellos han sido premiados.
She had been admired.	Ella habia sido admirada.
They had been admired.	Ellas habian sido admiradas.
You could have been employed.	V. habria sido empleado, (empleada.)
You could have been assisted.	VV. habrian sido asistidos, (asistidas.)

Obs. C. Passive impersonal verbs, and those referring to inanimate subjects or things, are translated by placing the verb which is in the participle past in English, in the same person and number in which the verb to be is in the English sentence, placing the pronoun se before it; thus, This ship was built in less than three months—Esta fragata se construyó en ménos de tres meses, instead of fué construida. It is said—Se dice, instead of Es dicho.

PRONOMINAL, OR REFLECTIVE VERBS.

A pronominal, or reflective verb, is that which has the same person or thing as subject and object; as,

He arms himself.	El se arma á sí mismo.
------------------	-------------------------------

These verbs terminate their present of the infinitive mood by the pronoun se, which must be suppressed in order to find out the conjugation; thus—

To approach.	Acercarse.
To be sorry.	Dolerse.
To repent.	Arrepentirse.

Taking off the se we here have, acercar, 1st conjugation; doler, 2d conjugation; and arrepentir, 3d conjugation. (80.)

These verbs are conjugated by placing the pronouns me, te, se, se, nos, os, se, se, according to the number and person of the nominative they refer to, immediately before the verb, if the subject be expressed before it; and either before or after the verb, if the subject be not expressed or placed after it. When they are placed after the verb they must be written so as to form one word with it.

In the imperative mood they are always placed after the verb, which suppresses the s in the first person plural, and the d in the second person of the same number. When the second person singular or plural is used with the adverb no, the pronouns are placed before the verb. Examples:—

1. I congratulate myself.	Yo me congratula.
2. Thou congratulatest thyself.	Tú te congratulas.
3. He congratulates himself.	El se congratula.
2. You congratulate yourself.	V. se congratula.
1. We congratulate ourselves.	Nosotros nos congratulamos
2. You congratulate yourselves.	Vosotros os congratulaís.
3. They congratulate themselves.	Ellos se congratulan.
2. You congratulate yourselves.	VV. se congratulan.
1. I had congratulated myself.	Me habia congratulado.
2. I have armed myself.	Yo me he armado.
3. They had flattered themselves.	Ellos se habian lisonjeado

IMPERATIVE MOOD.

Behave (thou) well.	Pórtate bien.
Behave (you) well.	Portaos bien, (the a is suppressed.)
Behave not ill.	No te portes mal.
Behave (you) not ill.	No os portéis mal.
Let us prepare ourselves.	Preparémonos. (The s is suppressed.)

GERUND.—Gerundio.

The Gerund is that part of the verb that terminates in ando in the verbs of the first conjugation, and in iendo in those of the second and third; as, publicando, (publishing,) from publicar; prometiendo, (promising,) from prometer; asistiendo, (assisting,) from asistir. It does not admit any change of gender or number.

It is translated by the English present participle, and conjugated with the verb estar, (to be;) as,

Anastasia is reading, and Maria Ann is playing on the piano.	Anastasia está leyendo, y Maria Ana está tocando el piano.
--	---

It is used also absolutely; as,

By practising virtue thou wilt be happy	Practicando la virtud, serás feliz.
---	--

In such cases it may be expressed by the corresponding tense of its verb, and even by the noun derived from it; as,

Columbus discovered the new world in the reign of Isabella, the Catholic, and under her auspices.	Reinando Isabel, la Católica, y bajo sus auspicios, Colon descubrió el Nuevo Mundo, (or cuando reinaba Isabel, or en el reinado de Isabel.)

PARTICIPLE.

The passive or past participle terminates in ado in the first conjugation, and in ido in the second and third. It changes its termination according to the number and gender of the person it refers to; except when it follows immediately after the verb haber, or any other auxiliary, in which case it does not admit of any change.

All passive participles that do not terminate in ado or ido are called regular; such are the following, from the verbs—

To open,	abrir,	abierto.
To cover,	cubrir,	cubierta.
To say,	decir,	dicho.
To write,	escribir,	escrito.
To fry,	freir,	frito.
To do,	hacer,	hecho.
To print,	imprimir,	impreso.
To die,	morir,	muerto.
To solve,	resolver,	suelto.
To see,	ver,	visto.
To put,	poner,	puesto.
To turn,	volver,	vuelto.

Their compounds have the same irregularity.

Obs. The participles past of haber, ser, estar, and tener, do not admit any variation. The first and the last had it formerly.

VERBS THAT HAVE TWO PARTICIPLES.

There are some verbs that have two passive participles, the one regular and the other irregular. They are contained in the following list, in which, for brevity's sake, the irregular participle only is expressed.

To surfeit,	ahitar,	ahito.
To bless,	bendecir,	bendito.
To compel,	compeler,	compulso.

To loosen,	soltar,	suelto.
To suppress,	suprimir,	supreso.
To suspend,	suspender,	suspenso.

The regular participles of these verbs are used to form the compound tenses with haber ; as,

He has awaked early. | El ha despertado temprano.

The irregular participles are used as verbal adjectives, and with the verbs ser, &c., and do not form compound tenses with haber ; excepting preso, prescrito, provisto, roto, and a few others ; as,

He is early awaked. | El está despierto temprano.

They have provided. | Ellos han provisto, (proveído.)

ADVERBS.

Adverbs are formed from adjectives of one termination by adding to them mente ; as, dulce, dulcemente : and from those of two terminations by adding mente to the feminine ; as, gracioso, graciosamente. They admit the superlative ; as, graciosísimamente.

When two or more adverbs ending in ly occur in the same sentence, the termination mente is added to the last only ; as,

He speaks elegantly and correctly. | El habla correcta y elegantemente.

ANALOGY.

RULES TO TRANSLATE MANY OF THE ENGLISH AND SPANISH WORDS HAVING THE SAME GREEK OR LATIN ORIGIN.

¹ U is employed instead of ó, when the word immediately following it begins with o or ho; as,— into z ; as, efficacy, infancy, academy, mythology, melody, economy, theory, fantasy, courtesy—eficacia, &c.

| Plata ú oro

6. Those in chy change it into quia ; and those in phy into fia ; as, monarchy, monarquía ; philosophy, filosofía.

14. Proper nouns in us change it into o ; as, Publius, Publio ; Titus, Tito, (348.) Those in er change it into ro ; as, Alexander, Alejandro. Those in o add n ; as, Cicero, Ciceron. Those in es or on are the same in both languages. Nouns having the diphthongs æ, œ, retain the e only ; as, Æneas, Eneas ; Œdipus, Edipo ; Cæsar, César.

SYNTAX.

Syntax principally consists of two parts, Concord (Concordancia) and Government, (Régimen.)

Concord is the agreement which one word has with another in gender,

¹ Agreement is the similarity of words in number, gender, &c. As the articles and adjectives admit of no variation of either in English, it will be proper to explain here what that word imports and requires in Spanish, which will be better understood by the following examples:—

The rich man	El hombre rico.
The rich men.	Los hombres ricos.
The rich woman.	La mujer rica.
The rich women.	Las mujeres ricas.
A just man.	Un hombre justo.
Some just men.	Unos hombres justos.
A just woman.	Una mujer justa.
Some just women.	Unas mujeres justas.

It will be observed by these examples, that the article the has no change in English, and that el has four in Spanish. The same is the case with the adjectives rich and just, and with the articles un and unos.

number, case, or person. Government is that power which one part of speech has over another in directing its mood, tense, or case. The following rules contain the most important of both.

OF THE ARTICLE.

RULE 1. The article must agree in number, gender, and case, with the noun to which it refers; as,

Quiet solitude, pleasant fields, serene weather, purling streams, and tranquillity of mind contribute very much to the fecundity even of the most barren genius.

El sosiego, el lugar apacible, la amenidad de los campos, la serenidad de los cielos, el murmurar de las fuentes, la quietud del espíritu son grande parte para que las musas mas estériles se muestren fecundas

DON QUIJOTE, prol., pt. i.

Obs. 1. The nouns agua, (water,) águila, (eagle,) acta, (act, record) áncla, (anchor,) ála, (wing,) alma, (soul,) ave, (bird,) ama, (the mistress of a house, a housekeeper,) and a few others, though feminine, require the masculine article, but only in the singular number, and when they are immediately preceded by it. (285.)

They quenched their thirst in the water of the rivulet.

Ellos bebieron del agua del arroyo.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xviii. pt. i.

Some other nouns feminine beginning with a, or ha, having the first syllable long, are frequently used in the singular with the masculine article. This use, however, is not generally sanctioned; and the greatest number of the classic writers follow the rule laid down by the Spanish Academy, that excepts only the above nouns.

RULE 2. The English indefinite article before national nouns, as well as before those that signify the dignity, profession, trade, condition, &c., of persons, in the titles of books and other performances, and in exclamations, is not translated into Spanish; as,

The Monserrate of Cristobal de Virues, a Valencian poet.

El Monserrate de Cristobal de Virues, poeta Valenciano.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. vi. pt. i.

It was certainly known that Don Juan de Austria was appointed a general of the league.

Se supo por cierto que venia por General desta liga Don Juan de Austria. Ditto, cap. xxxix.

And ending in Zoilus or Zeuxis, though one was a backbiter, and the other a painter.

Y acabando en Zoilo, ó Zeuxis, aunque fué maldiciente el uno, y pintor el otro. Ditto, Pref.

What a pity!

¡ Que lástima !

Obs. 2. If the indefinite article be immediately followed by an adjective emphatically used, it must be translated; as,

There I obtained an ensign's commission in the company of a famous captain.	Alcancé á ser alférez de un famoso capitán. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix.
---	--

Obs. 3. Should a proper noun follow that of the dignity, &c., the definite article must be affixed to it ; as,

Whom continually in our Castilian language we call king Artus.	Que continuamente en nuestro romance Castellano llamamos el rey Artus. Ditto, cap. xiii
--	---

RULE 3. The definite article (el, &c.) is prefixed in Spanish to all common substantives, when they are used to express the whole extent of their signification ; which, for the same reason, do not require it in English ; as,

Vice is hateful. Men are mortal. Virtue is amiable. Riches shall not profit in the day of revenge.	El vicio es aborrecible. Los hombres son mortales. La virtud es amable Las riquezas no aprovecharán en el día de la venganza.

The nouns vice, men, virtue, riches, are used as collective nouns, and taken in a general sense ; that is to say, they mean that all vices are hateful, all virtues are amiable, that all men are mortal, and that no riches can prevent the vengeance of God.

Obs. 4. The article is retained in the phrase before the adjective, when a common noun, taken in the whole extent of its meaning, is omitted by ellipsis ; as,

Red wine is not so dear as white.	El vino tinto no es tan caro como el (vino) blanco.
---	---

RULE 4. Common nouns, used in an indeterminate sense, are used with or without the article, as in English ; as,

He asks three dollars for the hat. He asks for the three dollars, value of the hat.	El pide tres pesos por el sombrero. El pide los tres pesos, valor del sombrero.

RULE 5. When the names of the days of the week are used to mention the day with a reference to a certain day, they require the article ; as,

Thursday before the Friday on which she was to remove to her father's garden, she gave us a thousand crowns.	El juéves ántes del viérnes, que ella se habia de ir al jardín de su padre, nos dió mil escudos. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xl.

Casa, meaning home, and being preceded by a preposition, does not admit the article ; when it signifies house, it may be used with or without it ; as,

Wife, I will show you them at home.	En casa os las mostraré, mujer. Ditto, cap. lii.
---	--

Calle (street) requires the article before it, and before its name if it should be a common noun ; as,

He lives in Pearl street, (in the street of the Pearl.)

El vive en la calle de la Perla.

As he entered St. James street in Madrid.

Al entrar la calle de Santiago en Madrid.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xlviii. pt. ii.

RULE 6. The English indefinite article, before nouns of measure, weight or number, is translated by the definite article, according to the name it refers to. The prepositions á or por are sometimes added, which may as well be omitted; as,

This broadcloth is worth ten dollars a yard.

Este paño vale diez pesos vara, (or á diez pesos la vara, or diez pesos por vara.)

Butter sells at two shillings a pound.

La manteca (mantequilla) se vende á dos reales libra, (la libra, or por libra.)

RULE 7. The English definite article before ordinal numbers, when they are immediately preceded by a substantive, in quotations, divisions of books, names of dignity, &c., is omitted in Spanish; as,

Book the first, chapter the second, section the fifth, &c.

Libro primero, capítulo segundo, párrafo quinto.

The invincible Charles the Fifth.

El invictísimo Carlos quinto.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix.

Obs. 5. When the English definite article precedes an adjective used as an epithet before the nouns above stated, it must be translated; as,

Augustus Cæsar would have been in the wrong had he consented to the execution of what the divine Mantuan ordered on his death-bed.

No hubiera acertado Augusto César si consintiera que se pusiera en ejecucion lo que el divino Mantuano dejó en su testamento ordenado. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xiii.

RULE 8. The article a, and the adjective one, are not translated before hundred, thousand, million, half, &c.; as,

In the year one thousand, one hundred and one.

En el año de mil, ciento, y uno.

He asks, or wants one yard and a half.

El necesita, or quiere vara y media.

RULE 9. Proper names of persons and of countries do not admit the article; the former, however, in a colloquial and very familiar use, take it; as,

She was called Tolosa.

Se llamaba la Tolosa.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. iii.

Obs. 6. The nouns muerte, (death,) cielo, (heaven,) and the like names, take the article, except in exclamations or direct speeches; as,

If the power of death be your subject, apply "Pallida mors," &c.

Si tratáredes del poder de la muerte, acudid luego con "Pallida mors," &c. D. QUIJOTE, Prólogo

REMARK. " It is the rule of our language, (the Castilian,) that proper nouns are not accompanied by articles; excepting LA MANCHA, LA CORUNA, LA HABANA."—(Grammar of the Castilian Language, by the Royal Spanish Academy, part ii., ch. vi.) The preceding rule has been given in conformity with this decision of the Academy, which may be used as follows:—

The names of the countries that are not qualified by the adjectives old or new, upper or lower, &c., expressed or understood, are generally used without the article; as,

Mexico.	Méjico.		Malta.	Malta.
---------	----------------	--	--------	---------------

The names of the countries that are qualified by the said, or other adjectives, when these are not expressed, may be used with or without the article; as, América, or la América, (norte or sud.) Andalucía, or la Andalucía, (alta or baja.) When the adjective is expressed they require the article.

The following are exceptions, and must always be used with the article.

Brazil.	El Brasil.
Canada.	El Canadá.
Paraguay.	El Paraguay
Peru.	El Perú.
A province of New Castile.	La Alcarria.
Barbadoes.	La Barbada.
Florida.	La Florida.
Ferrol.	El Ferrol.
Corunna.	La Coruña.
Havana, &c.	La Habana, &c.

The article is omitted in the dates of letters written in the places above excepted.

Obs. 7. Proper names of mountains and rivers take the definite masculine article, without regard to their termination; as,

Those who feed their flocks upon the spacious meads of the meandering Guadiana; those who shiver with the chill blasts of the whistling Pyrenees	Los que su ganado apacientan en las extendidas dehesas del tortuoso Guadiana; los que tiemolan con el frio del silboso Pirineo. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xviii.

RULE 10. When several nouns come together in English, with an article before the first of them only, the article is repeated before every one, especially when they are of different genders, and a particular emphasis is placed on them. When they are used in English without any article, the same is done in Spanish, (372.)

They mention the father, mother, country, relations, age, and exploits performed by said knight.	Nos cuentan el padre, la madre, la patria, los parientes, la edad, y las hazañas que el tal caballero hizo. D. QUIJOTE, cap. l.
--	---

RULE 11. The article is omitted before nouns used in apposition ; as,
 O Envy, the root of all evils, and the destroyer of so many virtues ! | ¡ Ó Envidia, raíz de infinitos males y carcoma de las virtudes !
 DON QUIJOTE, cap. viii. pt. ii.

RULE 12. The definite masculine article, singular or plural, is used before the adjectives taken substantively ; as,

The wise man feareth and declineth from evil. | El sabio teme y se desvía del mal.

The expectation of the wicked shall perish. | La esperanza de los impíos perecerá

Obs. 8. When a noun, qualified by an adjective, is suppressed by ellipsis, the article that precedes the adjective must agree in number and gender with the noun that has been omitted ; as,

Black and white are two opposite colors. | El negro y el blanco son dos colores opuestos.

That is, el color negro y el color blanco.

RULE 13. The English definite article before adjectives used in an absolute sense, that is to say, comprehending in their meaning a generality of objects or things that may be masculine or feminine, singular or plural, is translated by the indefinite pronoun lo ; (344,) as,

Let no man judge the white black, and the black white. | Ninguno se ponga á juzgar lo blanco por negro, y lo negro por blanco.
 DON QUIJOTE, cap. iv. p. ii.

RULE 14. When the adjective todo (all, or whole) is placed before the substantive, it requires the article after it, whether it be expressed or not in English ; as,

All men, or all the men. | Todos los hombres.

The whole assembly. | Toda la asamblea.

REMARK. The meaning of many phrases depends on the use or omission of the article. A few examples may elucidate this remark.

To set up a store.	Abrir tienda.
To open the store.	Abrir la tienda.
To encourage, to support.	Dar alma.
To die.	Dar el alma.
To miss one's aim.	Dar en blanca.
To be successful.	Dar en el blanco.
To have an evil tongue.	Tener mala lengua.
To have the tongue sore.	Tener mala la lengua.

OF THE NOUN AND THE ADJECTIVE.

RULE 15.—The adjective must agree with the substantive in gender and number ; as,

The valiant boy. | El muchacho valiente.

The handsome girls. | Las muchachas hermosas.

Obs. 9. An adjective qualifying two or more nouns or pronouns of different genders, in the singular, agrees with them in the masculine termination in the plural ; as,

The father and the son are rich.	El padre y el hijo son ricos.
The mother and the daughter are handsome.	La madre y la hija son hermosas.
He and she are generous.	El y ella son generosos.
The house and the garden are magnificent.	La casa y el jardín son magníficos.

Obs. 10. Two or more adjectives qualifying a plural noun, which signifies them as separately considered, agree with it in the singular ; as,

She is unexcelled by Helen, unrivalled by Lucretia, or any other heroine of ages past, whether Grecian, Roman, or Barbarian.	A ella no la llega Elena, ni se alcanza Lucrecia, ni otra alguna de las famosas mujeres, que vivieron en las edades pretéritas, griega, latina, ó bárbara. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxv.
--	---

Obs. 11. An adjective qualifying two or more nouns of inanimate objects or things, having different gender and number, generally agrees with the nearest ; as,

A union which the equality of our family and riches seemed to point out.	Union que casi la concertaba la igualdad de nuestro linaje, y riquezas DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxiv
--	---

Obs. 12. A noun of the feminine gender in the plural, being in the same phrase with a noun masculine in the singular, having but one adjective, the adjective agrees in the plural, and in the masculine termination, if the verb agrees with the plural noun ; as,

His promises and his oath have been false.	Sus promesas y su juramento han sido falsos.
--	---

In such cases it is better to place the plural noun next the adjective, and make the agreement with it ; thus—Su juramento y sus promesas han sido falsas.

RULE 16.—An adjective qualifying two or more plural nouns or pronouns, of different genders, agrees with them in the masculine termination in the plural ; as,

Both the brothers and sisters are charitable.	Tanto los hermanos, como las hermanas son caritativos.
---	---

Obs. 13. This rule is strictly observed when the nouns or pronouns signify animate objects ; but when the nouns signify inanimate objects or things classic authors, both ancient and modern, generally make the adjective agree with the nearest substantive ; as,

His fears and hopes were vain. { Sus temores y esperanzas fueron vanas
Sus esperanzas y temores fueron vanos.
Vanas fueron sus esperanzas y temores.
Vanos fueron sus temores y esperanzas

Happy were my hours, my days, | Dichosas eran mis horas, mis días,
and my years. | y mis años.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. liii. pt. i.

RULE 17.—An adjective referring to Usted, (you,) Usia, (your lordship or ladyship,) &c., must agree in gender with that of the person spoken of or to, without any regard to the termination of these nouns ; as,

If your lordship would be pleased to | Si vuestra Señoría fuese servido de bestow on me, &c. | darme, &c.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xlii. pt. ii.

Your worship must be out of your | Vuestra merced debe de ser men-
senses, said Sancho. | guado, dijo Sancho.

Ditto, ditto.

RULE 18.—The English possessive case with the 's, is translated by omitting the 's, setting the preposition de (of) before the word to which the 's was annexed, and placing the noun which is the last in the English sentence the first in the Spanish translation, with the corresponding article ; and reversing in the same manner the order of the other nouns ; as,

He has read Pope's works.

He has read the works of Pope. { El ha leído las obras de Pope.

If there be more than two substantives, the last in English must be the first in Spanish ; as,

His brother's partner's house.

| La casa del compañero de su her- mano.

Obs. 14. In English the sign 's is frequently used instead of the noun of a place, house, office, store, &c., where a thing has happened or been done, which being omitted by ellipsis, it is perfectly understood by the whole of the sentence ; but the noun thus omitted must always be expressed in Spanish ; as,

Sancho figured to himself that he | would find at her's, (the duchess's | house,) what he had found at Don |
Diego's and Basil's.

| A Sancho se le figuraba que habia de hallar en ella, (la casa de la duquesa,) lo que habia hallado en la casa de Don Diego, y en la de Basilio.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxi. pt. ii.

RULE 19.—Common nouns of the masculine gender, in the plural number, are frequently used to express both genders ; as,

The duke and duchess, extremely | satisfied with the chase, returned | to their castle.

| Satisfechos los duques de la caza
volvieron á su castillo.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxv

RULE 20.—Adjectives signifying dimension, such as deep, high, low, long, wide, thick, &c., require the preposition de between them and the number, and also after the substantive they refer to ; and the verb to be is translated by tener, (290 ;) as,

They have a room twenty-four feet long, twelve wide, and fifteen high.	Ellos tienen un aposento (cuarto) de veinticuatro pies de largo, doce de ancho y quince de alto.
--	---

The adjectives in such cases are used only in the singular number, and in the masculine gender.

Obs. 15. When the nouns, length, width, height, &c., are made use of, they must be preceded by the preposition de ; and they may be translated as substantives or adjectives ; as,

The Giralda of Seville is 300 feet in height.	La Giralda de Sevilla tiene 300 de pies alto, (or de altura.)
---	--

RULE 21.—The adjective is to be always placed after the noun or nouns it qualifies ; as,

Take notice, doctor, that from henceforth you need not to take the trouble to provide dainty and delicate dishes for me.	Mirad, doctor, de aquí adelante no os cûreis de darne á comer cosas regaladas, ni manjares exquisitos. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xlix. pt. ii.
--	---

Obs. 16. When a particular emphasis is laid on the adjective, it is generally placed before the substantive ; as,

The limpid fountains and murmuring rills afforded them their savory and transparent waters in magnificent abundance.	Las claras fuentes, y corrientes rios en magnífica abundancia sabrosas y transparentes aguas les ofrecian. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xi. pt. i.

When one of two or more adjectives qualifying a substantive is more emphatically used than the other, or others, it is generally placed before the noun, and the other adjective after it ; as,

My good young lady, have pity on a poor fugitive slave.	Caritativa Señorita mia, compadecéos de una pobre esclava fugitiva. DE ALÉA.
---	--

RULE 22.—The adjectives uno, (one,) alguno, (some,) ninguno, (none,) are always placed before their substantives ; and when they are immediately followed by a masculine noun, or adjective in the singular, they drop the o. The same do bueno, malo, (12,) primero, and tercero, (46.) Grande, (97, 261,) ciento, (139,) and santo suppress the last syllable ; as,

As I was one day in Mercers street, in Toledo.	Estando yo un dia en el Alcana de Toledo. D. QUIJOTE, cap. ix.
Although the composition of it cost me some trouble.	Aunque me costó algun trabajo componerla. Ditto, Preface.

Obs. 17. Uno drops the o also before substantives in the plural ; as,

They could not find one in twenty-one days.	Ellos no pudieron hallar uno en veintium dias.

OF THE PRONOUN.

RULE 23.—The personal pronouns subject, or in the nominative case, are frequently omitted, (14,) especially in colloquial style, unless a particular emphasis is laid on them, or it is necessary to express them in order to avoid ambiguity, which may happen by their omission in the first and third person singular of the imperfect tense of the indicative, and of the imperfect tense of the subjunctive mood of all the verbs; as, Pensaba comprar la casa, which phrase may signify, “I thought, or he thought to buy the house,” for the want of the pronouns yo or él.

We know that thou wast at Algiers.

Sabíamos que estabas en Argel.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xli.

I watch while thou art sleeping, I weep while thou art singing.

Yo velo cuando tú duermes, yo lloro cuando tú cantas.

Ditto, cap. xl. pt. ii.

RULE 24.—Me, thee, him, &c., must be translated me, te, le, &c., when they are the immediate object of the verb; as,

As soon as she saw me, she told me,
be not uneasy, my friend.

Así como ella me vió me dijo: no te turbes, amigo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxvii.

He that is humble, God will exalt.

Aquien se humilla, Dios le ensalza

Ditto, cap. xi.

Obs. 18. Him, her, them, you, (when referring to usted,) being the direct object of a pronominal or reflective verb, must be translated se; as,

And a great friend of his dressed himself also as a shepherd.

Y juntamente se vistió con él de pastor otro su grande amigo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xiv.

Obs. 19. Me, him, her, you, &c., being the indirect objective, or complement of a verb governed or preceded by a preposition expressed or understood, are translated mí, él, ella, &c., after the preposition, (see Table of Pronouns, p 70.) Except should the preposition be á, for then they are generally translated me, le, &c., without the preposition, and frequently repeated with it before mí and él, to give more energy to the phrase; as,

He was informed of the departure, though not by me.

El supo la partida, y no de mí.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xliii.

For her I forsook my father's house.

Por ella dejé la casa de mi padre.

Ditto, ditto.

He keeps him here enchanted, as well as myself.

Tiénele aquí encantado, como me tiene á mí.

Ditto, cap. xxiii. pt. ii.

RULE 25.—As him, her, it, them, you, (usted,) may be in English the object or the complement of a verb, particular care must be taken to distinguish these cases. When they are the object of the verb they are translated le, la, los, or las, according to the gender and number of the noun or pronoun they stand for. When they are the complement, or indirect objective case, they must be expressed by le in the singular, and les in the plural, for both genders ; as,

He prostrated him on the ground.

El le derribó en el suelo.

The companions who saw them so.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. iii.

Los compañeros que tales los vieron.

Ditto, litto.

And who know her.

Y los que la conocemos.

Ditto, cap. xii.

Don Quixote called Sancho to give him his helmet.

Don Quijote llamó á Sancho que viniese á darle la celada.

Ditto, ditto.

The hostess recounted to them what had happened in her house between him and the muleteer.

La huéspeda les contó lo que con él y con el arriero les había acontecido. Ditto, cap. xxxii pt. i.

Don Quixote asked her what was her name.

Don Quijote le preguntó como se llamaba. Ditto, cap. iii.

But the deeds which they (the maids) had seen kept their mirth under the rein.

Pero las proezas que ya habían visto (las doncellas) les tenían la risa á raya. Ditto, ditto.

In order to prevent the ambiguity that in some phrases may result, the pronouns él ella, &c., are repeated ; as,

He delivered the letter to him, (to her.)

El le entregó la carta á él, (á ella.)

RULE 26.—Mismo (self) is sometimes added to the nouns or pronouns to give them particular energy. It changes its termination, like any other adjective, according to the number and gender of the noun or pronoun it refers to, and is placed near it ; as,

Without money, Alexander himself must have seemed frugal.

Sin hacienda Alejandro mismo pareciera estrecho.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix.

RULE 27.—The neuter pronoun it, is used in English to represent objects or things that by nature are neither male nor female ; and even animals, when their gender is not known. In Spanish all common nouns are either masculine or feminine, as has been explained in treating of gender ; consequently the pronoun it, and its plural them, must be translated el, ellos, ella, ellas, with the respective variation of the cases of said persons. The scholar, therefore, must be careful to ascertain the gender and case of the noun to which it refers in English before translating said pronoun ; as,

He read the project, and approved it.
She received the letter, and answered it.

El leyó el proyecto, y le aprobó.

Ella recibió la carta, y la contestó.

Obs. 20.—When the pronoun it is redundant in a phrase, it must not be translated. It is redundant when it is used instead of the words that come after the verb, and which constitute its subject or object ; as,

It is a matter of constant experience, that bodily exercise is conducive to health.

Es materia de constante experiencia, que el ejercicio corporal es conducente á la salud.

In which phrase the natural order is: that bodily exercise is conducive to health, is a matter of constant experience.

It, referring to the verbs, or to phrases and sentences to which no gender can be applied, is translated by the pronoun lo; and when it is to be placed after a preposition in Spanish, by ello; as,

The gallant shepherd begged him to accompany them to their tents; Don Quixote was fain to comply with it, and accordingly did it so.

El gallardo pastor le pidió que se viniese con él á sus tiendas; hubo de conceder Don Quijote, y así lo hizo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xlviii. pt. ii.

Whoever spends his time ill, sooner or later will repent of it.

Quienquiera que en plea mal el tiempo, tarde ó temprano se arrepentirá de ello.

It, in the impersonal verbs (as has been already explained) is not translated; as,

It rains,

llueve.

It is cold,

hace frio, &c.

In the phrases it is said, they say, it is rumored, &c., the pronouns it and they are not translated: the verb is placed in the third person singular, prefixing the pronoun se to it, or in the third person plural without any pronoun; as,

As they say, let the dead go to the bier, and the living to good cheer.

Y como dicen, váyase el muerto á la sepultura, y el vivo á la hogaza. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xix.

RULE 28.—When two or more objective cases of the pronouns occur in the same phrase, they must be arranged in the following order: se is to be placed before all others; then me, te, nos, or os; in the third place, le, los la, las, les; and él, ella, &c., with a preposition, the last of all; as,

He gave it (a book) to them.

El se le (un libro) dió á ellos.

RULE 29. Who, coming immediately after its antecedent, is translated que; when it stands by itself, or is governed by a preposition, it is rendered by quien; as,

Sancho came out to receive the commands of Don Quixote, who had sat down upon a bench.

Sancho salió á ver lo que le mandaba Don Quijote, que estaba sentado sobre un poyo.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. lix. pt. ii.

A student to whom you imparted your intentions, was he who disclosed it.

Un estudiante á quien disteis cuenta de vuestros pensamientos fué el que lo descubrió.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xliv. pt. ii.

Which, that, or any other two relative pronouns, being in the same sentence, the second may be translated cual, with the corresponding article.

to avoid the repetition of the same pronoun, unless a particular emphasis is placed on it; as,

The first person (whom) I met, was his father, who said to me.	La primera persona con quien encontré fué su padre, el cual me dijo. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xli.
---	--

Obs. 21. When these pronouns are governed by a preposition, whom is usually translated quien or cual, with reference to persons; and que, and sometimes cual, with the corresponding article, speaking of animals or things; as,

Indeed, Signior Don Luis, it suits well to whom you are the dress you wear, and the bed in which you now lie.	Por cierto, Señor Don Luis, que corresponde bien á quien vos sois el hábito que teneis, y la cama en que os hallo. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xliv.

RULE 30.—He who, she who, they who, those who, are translated el que, la que, los que, las que, and sometimes, for the sake of energy, aquel que, &c.; as,

Both she, and he who accompanied her.	Así ella como el que la acompañaba. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvii.
Don Fernando, and those who came with him.	Don Fernando y los que con él venían. Ditto, cap. xxxvi.

Obs. 22. What, when it is the same as that which, is translated lo que; as,

He could see it, for through what might be termed the roof, entered a stream of light.	Púdolo ver, porque por lo que se podía llamar techo, entraba un rayo de sol. DON QUIJOTE, cap. lv. pt. ii.
---	--

RULE 31.—Relative pronouns are called interrogative when they are employed to make a question. They are translated in the same manner as the relative pronouns. Which, referring to more than one object, is translated cual or cuales; as,

Who was the ignorant wretch who signed such a warrant?	¿ Quien fué el ignorante que firmó tal mandamiento?
What knight-errant ever paid tax or custom?	¿ Que caballero andante pagó pecho, ó alcabala?
Which of them will come?	DON QUIJOTE, cap. xlv ¿ Quien (or cual) de ellos (or ellas) vendrá?
Which of the two will you have?	¿ Cual de los (or las) dos quiere V.?
Who knocks at the door?	¿ Quien llama á la puerta? ¿ Quien llama? ¿ Quien está ahí? ¿ Quien es?

Obs. 23. When the interrogation begins by a preposition, the answer must begin by the same preposition; as,

Where are you going ?	¿ Adonde va V ?
To the Exchange.	A la Lonja.
Where do you come from ?	¿ De donde viene V. ?
From my counting-room.	De mi escritorio.
What way did you come ?	¿ Por donde vino V. ?
Through Broad street.	Por la calle Ancha.
With whom did you come ?	¿ Con quien vino V. ?
With my partner.	Con mi soco, (compañero.)
Where can I see you this afternoon ?	¿ En donde podré ver á V esta tarde ?
At home.	En casa.
What day of the month is this ?	¿ A cuantos estamos hoy ?
The thirtieth of January, 1848.	A treinta de Enero de 1848.

REMARK.—The pronouns who, whom, (quien, que,) which, that, (que,) and the conjunction that, (que,) although they are frequently omitted in English, must always be expressed in Spanish. The attention of the learner is particularly requested on this subject. Examples:—

He thinks you are in the right.	El cree que V. tiene razon.
The man you were speaking to.	El hombre á quien V. hablaba.
The letter she wrote.	La carta que ella escribió.
They thought he would do it.	Ellos pensáron que él lo haría.
Do you believe he will consent ?	¿ Cree V. que él consienta ?

RULE 32. The possessive pronouns conjunctive, referring to the parts or limbs of the body, or other things of common use in or about it, are generally expressed by the definite article ; as,

She saw him move his hand, and lay it upon his sword.	Ella le vió encaminar la mano á ponerla en la espada. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvi.
She threw her arms about his neck.	Ella le echó los brazos al cuello. Ditto, ditto.

Her, as an objective case of the personal pronoun, must be translated la or le, according to its relation to the verb ; and when it is preceded by a preposition, by ella. As a possessive pronoun it must be expressed by su, sus, suyo, &c., (de V.) de ella ; as,

They invited her , and with that object they wrote her a letter.	Ellos la convidáron, y con este objeto le escribiéron una carta.
The book was for her .	El libro era para ella.
She lost her gloves.	Ella perdió sus guantes.
He looked for her handkerchief.	El busca el pañuelo de ella.

In the last example her is not translated su in order to avoid the ambiguity, because su might mean in Spanish either his or her.

As the pronouns his, hers, yours, theirs, when they stand alone are all translated suyo, which pronoun agrees in gender and number with the person or thing possessed, and not with the possessor, as in English ; whenever an ambiguity may arise from the use of that pronoun alone, the pronoun that represents the person of the possessor, preceded by de, is to be repeated after it, or used in its stead ; as, Send me his (book, m. s.)—Envíeme V. el suyo de él ; or better, el de él alone.

Possessive pronouns must be repeated before every substantive in a sentence, though not expressed in English ; as,

He bought his hat and gloves in John street.

El compró su sombrero y sus guantes en la calle de Juan.

Suffer me to avail myself of the prop from which you could not disengage me with all your importunities, threats, promises, nor presents.

Dejadme llegar al arrimo de quien no me han podido apartar vuestras importunaciones, vuestras amenazas, vuestras promesas, ni vuestras dádivas.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvi. pt. ii.

OF THE VERB.

RULE 33.—A verb having several pronouns of different persons for its subject, (nominative,) must agree in the plural with the first of them in order ; as,

You, he, and I will do it.

V. él y yo lo harémos.

Thou and she wrote well.

Tú y ella escribisteis bien.

In the first example the verb is placed in the first person plural, because the pronoun I, together with the other two, is the same as we ; and in the second, because the two pronouns may be expressed by you.

They left Zoraida and me by ourselves, and we are going to see whether my father is still alive.

Solos quedamos Zoraida y yo, y vamos con intencion de ver si mi padre es vivo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xl.

The person speaking, out of civility always names himself the last.

When Usted and a pronoun of the third person singular form the subject of a verb, the verb is in the third person plural ; as,

You and he saw them.

Usted y él los viéron.

Obs. 24. A verb having for a subject a noun in the singular, that comprehends in itself the sense of the other subjects of the same verb preceding it, should it be the last, or the nearest to the verb, must agree with it in the singular ; as,

So that the solitude of the place, the darkness of the night, the noise of the water and rustling of the leaves, all together, caused horror and dismay.

De manera que la soledad, el sitio la oscuridad, el ruido del agua con el susurro de las hojas, todo causaba horror y espanto.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xx. pt. i.

Obs. 25. When the subject is a common noun plural, in which the speaker is included, the verb is placed in the first person plural ; as,

The Spaniards, whenever they have a choice, incline to that which is most difficult.

Los Españoles siempre que tenemos eleccion, nos inclinamos á lo mas dificultoso.

SOLIS, lib. iii. cap. viii.

Obs. 26. Two or more subjects of different number, connected by an adversative conjunction, require that the verb shall agree with the last of them ; as,

Not only the mother and the daughters, but the father also was then dead.

No solamente la madre y las hijas, sino tambien el padre habia muerto entonces. M'HENRY.

RULE 34.—Collective nouns definite, or such as denote a determinate number of persons or things, require the verb in the singular ; as, Seest thou that cloud of dust ? The whole of it is raised by a vast army of various and innumerable nations that are marching that way.

¿ Ves aquella polvareda ? Toda es cuajada de un copiosísimo ejército de diversas é innumerables gentes, que por allí viene marchando.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xviii

Collective nouns indefinite must have the verbs in the plural ; as,

Be that as it may, these people are carried, but not voluntarily, they are driven by force.

Como quiera que ello sea, esta gente, aunque los llevan, van de por fuerza. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxii.

Particular care, however, must be paid to the logical sense of the phrase, for it may sometimes require the singular ; as,

The greatest number of the people of the castle, who did not know the truth of the case, were surprised and astonished.

La mayor parte de la gente del castillo que no sabia la verdad del caso estaba suspensa y admirada.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xlvi. pt. ii.

RULE 35.—An active transitive verb requires the noun that is the object of its action, in the objective case ; and the preposition á must besides be prefixed to it, when the said object signifies a person or thing personified, or is a proper noun ; as,

Don Fernando, Cardenio, Lucinda, and Dorothea were struck dumb with astonishment, gazing in silence to one another.

Callaban todos, y mirábanse todos, Dorotea á Don Fernando, Don Fernando á Cardenio, Cardenio á Lucinda, y Lucinda á Cardenio. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvi.

We must conquer gluttony and sloth by temperance and watchfulness.

Hemos de conquistar á la gula y al sueño en el poco comer, y en el mucho velar. Ditto, cap. viii.

Next year he attacked the Goleta.

El año siguiente acometió á la Goleta. Ditto, cap. xxxix.

Obs. 27 The preposition á is not used before the pronouns me, te, se, nos, os, le, los, la, las, les, lo ; but it is required before the other cases of said pronouns ; as,

My beauty compels you to love me.	A que me ameis es mueve mi hermosura. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xiv.
Who would give thee islands to govern?	¿ Quien te habia de dar á tí islas que gobernar? Ditto, cap. liv. pt. ii.

Obs. 28. Active-transitive, and even intransitive verbs, and those signifying to adhere, to accede to, &c., require the preposition á, even before other objects, to prevent ambiguity; as,

The old man found a little kid that its mother had lost.	El viejo halló un cabrito que habia perdido á su madre.

Obs. 29. An active-transitive verb, having both as object and complement two nouns or pronouns, signifying rational beings, both cases requiring the position á, suppresses it before the object direct, and retains it before the object indirect or complement; as,

My dear father, I recommend to you the innocent Laura.	Querido padre, yo os recomiendo la inocente Laura.
I am not your daughter, you have taken away from me my husband.	Yo no soy vuestra hija, vos me habeis quitado mi esposo. JOVELLANOS, El Delincuente , [act v. sc. 3, 5]

RULE 36. The present of the infinitive mood in English, used substantively as a subject or object of another verb, does not admit any preposition before it in Spanish, and frequently takes the article el; as,

I have always heard it said, that to confer benefits on base-minded people is like throwing water into the sea.	Siempre he oido decir que el hacer bien á villanos, es echar agua en el mar. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxiii
I swear to go with you.	Yo juro ir con vos. Ditto, cap. xxx.

Obs. 30. The verbs, will, shall may, could, &c., when they are not auxiliary, but expressed by querer, deber, or poder, govern the verb that follows immediately after them in the present infinitive without a preposition; as,

I could do no less than answer him.	No pude dejar de responderle. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxii.
He would not pass these things in silence.	El no quiso pasar estas cosas en silencio. Ditto, cap. xvi.

RULE 37.—Verbs implying, to move, to begin, to compel, to teach, to learn, to exhort, to invite, to assist, to oppose, to accustom, &c., govern the verb that depends on them in the present of the infinitive mood, and generally require the preposition á; as,

The innkeeper returned to see what his guest commanded.	El ventero volvió á ver lo que su huésped mandaba. DON QUIJOTE, cap. ii
---	---

The companions of the wounded began to discharge a shower of stone upon Don Quixote.

Los compañeros de los heridos comenzaron á llover piedras sobre Don Quijote. D. QUIJ. cap. iii

Obs. 31. Verbs implying motion, govern the noun or verb, denoting from whence the motion proceeds, with de; the noun or verb which points out its direction, with á; and the noun expressing the space through which it passes, with por; as,

I come from the city of Baeza, in company with eleven other priests, and we are going to the city of Segovia.

Vengo de la ciudad de Baeza con otros once sacerdotes, y vamos a la ciudad de Segovia.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xix

As he entered the street of St. Jago, in Madrid, a judge was coming through it.

Al entrar en la calle de Santiago en Madrid, venía á salir por ella un Alcalde. Ditto, cap. xlviii.

RULE 38.—The present or active participle in English, being alone in the phrase, must be literally translated; as,

So saying, she entered into the thickest part of a wood.

Y en diciendo esto, se entró en lo mas cerrado de un bosque.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xiv.

Obs. 32. The English present participle, referring to a noun that is an object of the former verb, may be translated in the gerund, in the infinitive or in the indicative mood, according to the sense of the phrase; as,

I saw the boys playing, (that is, whilst they were playing.)

Yo ví á los muchachos jugando, (or jugar, or que jugaban.)

Obs. 33. Words ending in English in ing, prefixed to a common noun, are used as verbal adjectives; and they are most frequently translated by the Spanish participles terminating in ante or iente; as,

A loving father,

Un padre amante,

An obedient son,

Un hijo obediente,

The constituting assembly,

La asamblea constituyente, from the verbs amar, obedecer, constituir. But as not all the Spanish verbs have active participles, and as verbal adjectives in ante or iente can not be formed of all of them, the learner, before translating the English words terminating in ing, must consult the dictionary in order to find out the proper word to be used in the translation; as,

An affecting scene.

Una escena sensible, (not afectante.)

Meddling people.

Gente entremetida, (not entremetiente.)

Presuming ideas.

Ideas presuntuosas, (not presumientes.)

Obs. 34. A substantive, compounded of a present participle and a common noun, is generally translated by a particular name; as,

A speaking-trumpet.

Una vocina.

It is also expressed by the infinitive mood of the verb, and even by a substantive derived from it, preceded in either case by the preposition de; as,

A repeating-watch.

Un reloj de repeticion.

A fishing-rod.

Una caña de pescar.

RULE 39.—The English present or active participle, being preceded by a preposition, is translated by the present of the infinitive mood after the same preposition; as,

Wilt thou still persist, Sancho, in saying, thinking, believing, and affirming, that Dulcinea was employed in such a mean object?

¿ Que todavía das, Sancho, en decir, en pensar, en creer, y en afirmar que Dulcinea estaba ocupada en tan vil oficio?

DON QUIJOTE, cap. viii.

Obs 35. When the preposition is by, the English participle is frequently translated by the Spanish gerund, suppressing the preposition; as,

And by doing it you will oblige him to sign the deed.

Y haciéndolo, V. le obligará á firmar la escritura.

He lost his place by speaking too freely.

El perdió su plaza por hablar con demasiada libertad.

Obs 36. The English present participle used substantively with an article, is translated either as a substantive or in the present of the infinitive mood with the article; as,

The commencing of a thing is as good as half completing it.

El comenzar las cosas es tenerlas medio acabadas.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xli.

Obs 37. When the present participle of the verb to be, (being,) followed by a past participle, points out the action expressed by the latter as present and continuing, it is translated by the verb estar in the corresponding tense, preceded by the pronoun se, and the past participle is rendered by the Spanish gerund; as,

To let, one of the two houses now being finished in Pearl street.

Se alquila una de las dos casas, que se estan acabando en la calle de la Perla.

REMARK.

The following rules are devoted to the explanation of the tenses that claim particular notice: no mention, therefore, is made of those of which the literal translation is sufficient.

RULE 40.—As the tense called in English the Imperfect of the Indicative, may be translated into Spanish by the Imperfect Tense, N. 2, or by the Preterit Indefinite, N 3, as it has been explained in Lesson XL, pages 157–8, to the directions therein given the following explanations are added, the better to elucidate this subject.

1. When the imperfect tense in English expresses an action or a state of things that was going on at some time past, but was still unfinished or incomplete, it must be translated in the imperfect tense in Spanish; as,

In a town of La Mancha there lived a gentleman.....He maintained a female housekeeper turned of forty, and a niece who was not quite twenty.

En un lugar de la Mancha vivia un hidalgo.....Tenia en su casa una ama, que pasaba de los cuarenta, y una sobrina que no llegaba á los veinte. D. QUIJOTE, cap. i.

2. This tense denotes a former progressive state of existence; as,
I told him I thought about the preface.

Yo le dije que pensaba en el prólogo
D. QUIJOTE, Preface

That is to say, I was thinking.

3. It expresses a time present, with respect to another past, or that something was being done at a time in which another circumstance happened; as,

He died on the road to Constantinople, whither they were carrying him.

El murió en el camino de Constantinopla, adonde le llevaban cautivo. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix.

4. It denotes the recurrence or repetition of an action, at a time which is past; as,

This said gentleman, the hours that he was at leisure, (which were the greatest part of the year,) he ad-dicted himself to the reading of the books of chivalry.

Este dicho hidalgo los ratos que estaba ocioso, (que eran los mas del año,) se daba á leer libros de Caballerias.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. i.

5. The customs, habits, characters, professions, or occupations of individuals, when they are no longer in existence, or have undergone some change or alteration, are expressed by the imperfect; as,

He was of a rough constitution..... and was called Quijana.

El era de complexion recia.....y se llamaba Quijana.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. i.

The curate of his village was a learned man.

El cura de su lugar era hombre sabio. Ditto, ditto.

But Master Nicholas, who was the barber of the same village, affirmed that none of them equalled the Knight of the Sun.

Pero Maese Nicolas, que era el barbero del mismo pueblo, decia que ninguno igualaba al caballero del Febo. Ditto, ditto.

6. The verbs that imply continuance, or that express a state of things that was continued for some time or period, without any reference to the commencement, duration, or end of the action which they express, must be translated by the imperfect tense; as,

He was a native of Calabria, and treated his slaves with great humanity.

Era Calabres de naciòn, y trataba con mucha humanidad á sus cautivos. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xlii.

Don Antonio Moreno was called Don Quixote's entertainer, and he tried to find means, &c.

Don Antonio Moreno se llamaba el hiesped de Don Quijote, y andaba buscando medios, &c.

Ditto, cap. lxxii.

REMARK.—It may, therefore, be considered as a rule, that whenever the English imperfect tense may be expressed by the verb to be and the present participle of the same verb, or by the verbs used to, in the habit of, accustomed to, &c., preserving the sense of the phrase, it must be translated in Spanish by the imperfect tense.

But as the imperfect tense is frequently expressed in English by the auxiliary verb did, the scholar, before translating the principal verb, must ascertain whether did means at that time or then, expressing the action as entirely finished and completed, without requiring any other verb; or whether the verb following did may be rendered by to be and the present participle, as explained in the preceding paragraph. If the verb to which did is prefixed may be translated by the verb to be and the present participle, the verb must be translated by the imperfect tense in Spanish. But if the verb connected with did expresses an action entirely past, and that cannot be translated by to be and the present participle, without changing the meaning of the phrase, then it must be rendered by the preterit, N. 3, in Spanish; as,

Don Quixote did thank him for his good will, took a little sustenance, Sancho ate voraciously, and then both laid themselves down to sleep.	Agradecióselo Don Quijote, comió algo, y Sancho mucho, y echaronse á dormir entrámbos. D. QUIJOTE, cap. lix. pt. ii.

In the preceding example, the verbs took, ate, laid down, might be expressed by did take, did eat, did lay down; but not by was taking, eating, or laying down; the verb consequently must be translated in the preterit, N. 3, (as in the example,) and not in the imperfect tense.

RULE 41.—The imperfect tense of the subjunctive mood has three terminations, the first ending in ara or iera, N. 7; the second in aria, eria, or iria, N. 8; the third in ase or iese, N. 9.

1. The terminations ara or iera, ase or iese, ought to be used when the verb is governed by a conditional conjunction; and the verb that completes the sense of the sentence, (whether it be placed before or after the governing verb,) must be placed in the termination aria, eria, or iria, according to its conjugation; as,

If chance and fortune had not favored me, the world would have been deprived of this pleasure.	Si el acaso y la fortuna no me ayudaran, el mundo quedaría falta de este gusto. D. QUIJOTE, cap. ix.

2. When there is in English an inversion in the phrase, the sentence must be set first in the regular form, prefixing the corresponding conjunction to the verb; as,

Were it not, (if it were not,) because I do certainly know that all these inconveniences are annexed to the exercise of arms, I would lie still where I am, and die with pure vexation	Si no fuera, porque sé muy cierto que todas estas incomodidades están anejas al ejercicio de las armas, aquí me dejaría morir de puro enojo. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xv
--	---

3. When the sentence begins without a conditional conjunction, the terminations ra, 7, or ria, 8, may be used; and the verb necessary to complete the sense, (should there be any,) must be placed in the termination ase or iese, according to its conjugation; as,

I would not like that princes and kings run themselves into such dangers.

No querría (quisera) yo que los príncipes, y los reyes, se pusiesen en semejantes peligros.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxiv. pt. ñ

The termination ara or iera, is generally used in ejaculation; as,

Who could describe now the throbbings of my heart, while I remained there!

¡ Quien pudiera decir ahora los sobrecaltos que me dió el corazón, mientras allí estuve!

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxvii.

4. Two or more verbs in the imperfect tense of the subjunctive, governed by the same conjunction, or completing the sense of the same phrase, must be placed in the termination chosen for the first of them, whether ra, se, or ria, as,

The archbishop ordered one of his chaplains to go to the rector and inquire into the truth, and even to talk with the madman himself, and that if he should think that he was recovered, he might bring him away, and set him at liberty.

El arzobispo mandó á un capellán suyo que se informase (informara) del rector si era verdad, y que así mismo hablase con el loco, y que si le pareciese que tenía juicio, le sacase y pusiese en libertad.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. i. pt. ii.

5. When the imperfect tense of the subjunctive mood is governed by a verb in any of the past tenses of the indicative, and the governing verb signifies to speak, to think, to believe, or any other of the like meaning, any of the three terminations may be used with the conjunction que; provided the verb to be placed in the subjunctive mood has, as its subject or nominative, any other person but the one speaking; as,

I said that he would come.

Yo decía que él

I did say that he would come.

Yo dije que él

I have said that he would come.

Yo he dicho que él

I had said that he would come.

Yo había dicho que él

} viniera.
} vendría.
} viniese.

But when the verb governed or subordinate, has the same subject or nominative as the leading or governing verb, only the termination ria is used; as,

It is not that, said Sancho, but because I would not have any secret rot in my keeping.

No es eso, dijo Sancho, sino que yo no querría que se me pudriesen de guardadas.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xvii

It must be observed, that although any of the terminations may be used with the above-mentioned verbs, the termination ra generally indicates duty or obligation on the part of its subject, and the termination ria merely implies futurity or possibility; as,

The master told his servant to do it immediately.	El amo dijo a su criado que lo hiciera inmediatamente
The mistress promised that her servant would do it.	El ama prometió que su criada lo haría.

REMARK.

The use of the Subjunctive Mood is fully explained in Lessons LXXVIII., (351,) LXXIX., (356,) LXXX., (362,) and LXXXI., (368,) which the scholar is advised frequently and attentively to study, in order to make himself perfectly well acquainted with the rules therein set forth.

RULE 42.—Will and would, shall and should, can and could, may and might, used as auxiliaries, point out the tense of the verb that follows them, which is the only one that must be translated. But when they are used as principal verbs, they are translated querer, deber, poder.

1. When the emphasis of the phrase lies on the verb that follows them, will and shall point out the future of the indicative, and shall and should sometimes the future of the subjunctive; as,

She will come to-morrow.	Ella vendrá mañana.
He shall do it to-day.	El lo hará hoy.
Should they write, please to let me know it.	Si ellos escribieren, sírvase V. avisármelo.

Obs. 38. Will means the free determination, or ready disposition to do a thing. Shall, in the first person, simply indicates and declares, in English, what will take place; in the second and third persons, it implies a promise, command, and determination; and in the interrogative sentences, permission or direction. In translating these two verbs, attention must be paid to these remarks.

Therefore, he will not do it may mean he is not willing to do it, or he will not be willing to do it, or he certainly shall not do it, according to the sense of the preceding sentences. This phrase in the first example must be translated by the present of the indicative of the verb querer—él no quiere hacerlo; in the second, will is to be placed in the future of the same verb—él no querrá hacerlo; and in the third, the auxiliary will is not translated, and the verb to do (hacer) is translated in the future—él no lo hará.

The same rule is to be observed with may and can, which may be translated by the present of the indicative or subjunctive of the verb *poder, or in the present of the subjunctive of the principal verb.

2 When will and would are not joined to any verb, they must be translated by querer, (to wish, to be willing, to desire, to like;) as,

Why do you not write to-day?	¿Porqué no escribe V. hoy?
Because I will not, (I wont.)	Porque no quiero, (no me da la gana.)
He begged his uncle to sign, but he would not.	El suplicó á su tío que firmara, pero él no quiso.

3. Will and would, though followed by a verb, are translated by querer when they are used emphatically to express an absolute wish ; as,

He will be obeyed without any excuse.

El quiere ser obedecido sin excusa alguna.

They would have him go, and he was obliged to do it.

Ellos quisieron que él fuera, y estuvo obligado á hacerlo.

4. Would denotes sometimes the repetition of an act, or a custom, or the habit of doing a thing, and then it is frequently rendered by soler, usar, acostumbrar, or by the verb that follows it, in all cases in the imperfect of the indicative ; as,

In the summer the old man would sit at his cottage door, and draw letters in the sand for his darling.

En el verano el viejo solia (acostumbraba) sentarse á la puerta de su choza y dibujaba letras en la arena para su queridito ; or, El viejo se sentaba á la puerta, &c.

5. Should, used for ought to, denoting duty or necessity of acting, is translated by deber, in the tense of the other verb in the English sentence, or in the imperfect tense of the subjunctive ; as,

You should not do that, since you know it is wrong.

V. no debe (debiera or deberia) hacer eso, pues sabe que es malo.

If he wishes to do it, he should ask permission before.

Si el desea hacer eso, él debe ántes (debiera or deberia) pedir permiso

6. Can and could, may and might, signifying possibility, are translated by poder, (to be able ;) as,

You can speak to him whenever you please ; but they may not take that liberty.

V. puede hablarle siempre que quiera ; pero ellos no pueden tomarse esa libertad.

If I could, I would write.

Si yo pudiera, escribiria.

He might do it, if he pleased.

El podria hacerlo, si quisiera.

7. The auxiliaries would, could, should, might, being followed by have and a past participle, must be translated by poder, querer, deber, in the imperfect tense of the indicative, or in the termination, ra, N. 7, or ria, N. 8, of the imperfect of the subjunctive, according to the sense of the phrase, when the emphasis is on any of the said auxiliaries, leaving the verb have in the present of the infinitive ; but when the emphasis is not on them, but in to have, this is translated by haber in the corresponding tense, followed by the participle querido, podido, or debido ; as,

He should have spoken to them in time ; but he would not, and consequently he lost the best opportunity.

El les debia (debiera or deberia) haber hablado en tiempo ; pero no quiso, y por consiguiente perdió la mejor oportunidad.

I could have seen them, but I did not know that they were in town.

Yo hubiera podido verlos, pero no supe que estaban en la ciudad.

You could have written it.

V. podia haberle escrito.
V. pudiera (podria) haberle escrito
V. habia podido escribirle.
V. hubiera (habria) podido escribirle
Ellos debian haberle pagado.
Ellos debieran (deberian) haberle pagado.
Ellos le habian debido pagar.
Ellos le hubieran (habrian) debido pagar.

They should have paid it.

REMARK.

The scholar is reminded carefully to examine and ascertain the meaning of the phrases containing will, would, could, &c., before translating them; for, as it has been explained, these verbs may or may not be translated and placed in the indicative or in the subjunctive mood.

OF THE PARTICIPLE.

The Spanish past or passive participle, coming immediately after the verb haber, does not admit any change, (118;) as,

Let the shoes and bleeding stand for the stripes you have given him without cause; for if he wore out the leather of the shoes you paid for, you have torn the skin from his body.

Quédense los zapatos y las sangrias por los azotes, que sin culpa, le habeis dado, que si él rompió el cuero de los zapatos que vos pagasteis, vos le habeis rompido el de su cuerpo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. iv.

The passive participle, after the verbs ser and estar, changes its termination, like an adjective, according to the number and gender of the noun or pronoun it refers to. It does the same after tener, when it is used as an active verb; as,

I am Pasamonte, whose life is written by these fingers.

Yo soy Pasamonte, cuya vida esta escrita por estos pulgares.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxii.

I have written a letter to my wife.

Yo tengo escrita una carta á mi mujer. Ditto, cap. xxxvi pt ii

The passive participle is often elegantly used at the beginning of a sentence, like the ablative absolute in Latin; as,

Don Quixote starting up, and trembling from head to foot, said.

Levantado en pié Don Quijote, y temblando de los piés á la cabeza, dijo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxii. pt. i

Obs. 39 Words ending in ado or ido are participles, when they have the same meaning and government as the verbs from which they may be formed, having also a reference to time ; otherwise they are adjectives and have a different signification ; as,

The captain being informed of the danger, could avoid it.	Advertido el capitan del peligro, pudo evitarle.
The cautious captain avoided the danger.	El advertido capitan evitó el peligro

Advertido, in the first example, is a past participle ; in the second, an adjective.

There are some words in ado and ido, that have both an active and a passive signification, and may be used as verbal adjectives ; as,

Tired, tiresome.	Cansado.
Measured, unassuming, prudent.	Medido.
Caused, provoking.	Ocasionado.

OF THE ADVERB.

The following quotations from Cervantes, corroborate the rules already laid down for the Adverb.

When an adverb modifies a verb, it is generally placed after the verb ; when it modifies an adjective or another adverb, it is generally placed before, (106.) Except the adverbs of negation, as well as any other word expressing a negative, and when the adverbs are emphatically used, for then they are placed before the verb ; as,

I confess that I was wrong, and did not speak correctly.	Yo confieso que anduve mal, y no dije bien. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxiii. pt. ii.
As Horace did with so much elegance.	Como tan elegantemente lo hizo Horacio. Ditto, cap. xvi. pt. ii.

Nada, (nothing,) nadie or ninguno, (nobody,) nunca and jamás, (never,) when placed after the verb, require no or ni before it ; as,

Camacho the rich, in order to show how little he resented or thought of the trick, desired that the entertainments might proceed.	El rico Camacho por mostrar que no sentia la burla, ni la estimaba en nada, quiso que las fiestas pasasen adelante. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxi. pt. ii
---	--

Two negatives make the phrase more elegant in Spanish ; thus, No quiero nada, (I want nothing,) is more energetic than, nada quiero.

I say nothing, answered Sancho.	No digo nada, respondió Sancho
We are not at all in one another's debt.	No nos debemos nada. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxii. pt. ii.

The conjunction but, preceded by a negative in the same sentence, must generally be translated sino, and sometimes mas que or mas de ; as,

Sir, melancholy was not made for beasts but for men; and yet if men encourage melancholy too much, they become no better than beasts.

As if their profession (the military) was the office of a common porter, for which nothing else is wanting but good strength

Señor, las tristezas no se hicieron para las bestias sino para los hombres; pero si los hombres las sienten demasiado, se vuelven bestias.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xi. pt. ii.

Como si fuese su ejercicio (el de las armas) oficio de ganapanes para el cual no es menester mas de buenas fuerzas.

Ditto, cap. xxvii.

When two or more adverbs ending in mente, follow in succession in the same sentence, that termination is added to the last of them only, changing the others in the feminine termination, if they admit of it; as,

Cardenio heard these words very plainly and distinctly.

Oyó estas azones Cardenio bien clara (claro) y distintamente.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvi.

Nunca and jamás signify never, and are used separately or together; in the latter case, nunca must be placed before jamás, and thus they give greater energy to the phrase; as,

I shall never, never see them again. | Yo nunca jamás los volveré á ver.

Jamás is often used after siempre, (ever;) as, por siempre jamás, which means, for ever and ever.

No is sometimes used redundantly, to give more force to the sentence; as,

The mighty Homer did not write in Latin, because he was a Greek; nor Virgil in Greek, because he was a Roman.

El grande Homero no escribió en latin, porque era Griego; ni Virgilio no escribió en griego, porque era Latino.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xv. pt. ii.

OF THE PREPOSITION.

The government of the verbs through the prepositions is so varied, as to render it very difficult to explain and comprise it in a few rules adapted to the capacity of the younger classes of learners. The student, therefore, is requested to consult the "List of the Prepositions required by certain Verbs," &c., placed at the end of this part; and also a good dictionary, in which he will find the several meanings of the verbs in consequence of the prepositions that accompany them.

As the English prepositions for and by, may be translated into Spanish by para and por, the following rules and examples are laid down to assist the learner in the use of them.

PARA.

When for is used to denote the end or motive, the use of things, the relation or respect of one thing to another, it is generally translated para; as,

The honor of the invention will be for him	El honor de la invencion será para él.
It has been a great loss for them.	Ha sido una gran pérdida para ellos
The letter was for my friend.	La carta era para mi amigo.

For, with verbs of motion, is translated para, and also when it refers to time; as,

Mr. I. G. sailed for Europe last week.	El señor I. G. salió para Europa la semana pasada.
We will leave it for to-morrow.	Lo dejaremos para mañana.

To, when denoting the end or motive of acting, and signifying for the purpose of, in order to, the use of, is translated para; as,

He went to settle his accounts with them, and to buy a new assortment for his store.	El fué para ajustar sus cuentas con ellos, y para comprar un nuevo surtido para su almacén.
I read to instruct myself.	Yo leo para instruirme.

Para is used to express capacity or incapacity, fitness or unfitness, inclination or disinclination, disposition or propensity; as,

He is not a man to undertake it.	No es hombre para emprenderlo
He is fit for every thing.	Es hombre para todo.
That is fit for nothing.	Eso no es bueno para nada.
He is always inclined to play.	El siempre está para jugar.

In order that, considering, &c., may also be expressed by para; as,
She knows a great deal for her age. | Ella sabe mucho para su edad.

POR.

For, meaning by, through, for the sake of, by means of, in favor or in behalf of, in exchange of, &c., is translated por; as,

She obtained it through her brother.	Ella lo consiguió por su hermano.
Pardon your enemies for God's sake.	Perdonad á vuestros enemigos por amor de Dios.

He did it for his friend, (él lo hizo por su amigo.) This phrase means, he did it for the sake, or instead of his friend. Should para be substituted for por, it would signify, he did it for the use, benefit, or advantage of, or merely to please his friend.

For, with reference to time, or price, is translated por; as,

He is gone into the country for a week.	El se ha ido al campo por una semana.
I paid five dollars for the hat.	Pagué cinco pesos por el sombrero.

Por, before the infinitive of a verb, indicates sometimes the same as without; at other times in order to, so as to, or to; and also a future action; as,

The letters are yet to be written.	Las cartas estan por escribir.
He did it not to be thought insensible.	Lo hizo para no pasar por insensible.
The answer is about to come.	La respuesta está por venir.
The house is not yet finished.	La casa está por acabar.

Por, between two nouns, or two verbs in the present of the infinitive, denotes the choice between two things, as,

If I am to choose between an emperor and other emperor, between a monarch and other monarch, I have the great Count of Lemos, at Naples.	Emperador por Emperador, y Monarca por Monarca, en Nápoles tengo al gran Conde de Lemos D. QUIJOTE, Dedication , pt. 1.

Por is often prefixed to an adverb, and becomes an adverbial expression; as

On the top, por encima. | Underneath, por debajo.

Prepositions require the noun or pronoun governed by them to be in the objective case. Personal pronouns, governed by a preposition expressed, must be placed in the indirect objective case or complement: except the pronouns me and thee, which, in conformity with the modern use, are placed in the nominative when they are governed by the preposition entre, (between;) as,

Judge whether it will be reasonable to lay his sufferings to me.	Ved si será razonable que de su pena se me dé á mí la culpa. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xiv.
For your desire to know what is between us,—O'ermaster it as you may.	Reprimid cuanto os fuere posible el deseo de saber lo que ha pasado entre él y yo. HAMLET, act i., [translated by MORATIN]

REMARK.

When an English verb is accompanied by, or ends in a preposition, as, She asks for the letter, he asked after you, they could not bring it about, the scholar must first ascertain whether the preposition constitutes a part of the verb, so as to make one single meaning with it, or whether it gives the verb a different signification or not: if the preposition with the verb have one single meaning, the preposition is not translated; if it gives the verb a different signification, it must be translated as directed in the dictionary. In the first of the above examples for makes a part of the verb pedir, and it is not translated, ella pide la carta. In the second it gives a different meaning to the verb to ask, and is translated, él pregunta por V. In the third it is not translated, because it is also a part of the verb, which in that case signifies conseguir; thus, ellos no pudieron conseguirlo.

They made a secret of it, but he at last found it out.	Hicieron secreto de ello; pero él al fin le descubrió.

As the grammatical order of the prepositions is frequently inverted in English, and in the colloquial style, the object of them is for shortness sake sometimes omitted; the scholar must take care to put such phrases in their proper order, and to supply the word or words wanting, as the translation of a sentence would be otherwise very incorrect. Examples:—

Be careful in selecting the persons you accompany yourself with. Invert the construction thus, Be careful in selecting the persons with whom you accompany yourself.—Tenga V. buen cuidado en la eleccion de las personas con quienes se acompañe Where do you come from? (from whence do you come?)—¿De donde viene V.? Where are you going to? (to what part are you going?)—¿Adonde va V.? Eyes were made to see with, (to see with them.)—Los ojos se hicieron para ver, or para ver con ellos.

OF THE CONJUNCTION.

The conjunction é is used instead of y, when the word coming after it begins with i or hi; as,

THE IRREGULAR VERBS.

A verb is called irregular when, in some of its persons, it either takes letters that are not in its radicals, or suppresses or changes them, or the termination of its respective conjugation; as tener, to have; tengo, I have; tuve, I had; tendré, I shall have: instead of teno, tení, teneré. Dar, to give; doy, I give; di, I gave: instead of do, de

VERBS THAT, ON ACCOUNT OF THEIR PRONUNCIATION, REQUIRE A CHANGE IN THEIR RADICAL LETTERS.

1.	Verbs ending in	CAR	change the c into qu	{ When the first letter of the termination is E
2.	"	CER	"	O	" Z
3.	"	CIR	"	O	" Z
4.	"	GER 1	"	G	" J
5.	"	GIR 1	"	G	" J
6.	"	QUIR	"	QU	" O
7.	"	GUIR 2	drop	U	{ " " " O or A
8.	"	GAR	add	U
9.	"	ZAR	change	Z	" " " E

Obs. 1 and 2. Verbs ending in ger and gir, are written at present by many learned persons with j instead of g, in all the tenses; thus, escojer, escojí, &c.

Obs. 3. Verbs ending in uir drop the u, when it is liquid, in the infinitive mood, as in seguir; but they retain it when it is fully sounded, as in arguir.

Obs. 4. In the following examples, explanatory of the preceding rules, only the first person of an irregular tense is laid down, as it is easy to form the rest. When only one person is irregular, it is followed by the regular one, after which the rest may be formed. Examples:—

MARCAR, marqué, marcaste, &c. Marque, &c.—VENCER, venzo, vences, &c. Venza, &c.—RESARCIR, resarzo, resarces, &c. Resarza, &c.—ESCOGER, escojo, escoges, &c. Escoja, &c.—ELEGIR, elijo, eliges, &c. Elija, &c.—DELINQUIR, delinco, delinques, &c. Delinca, &c.—SEGUIR, sigo, sigues, &c. Siga, &c.—PAGAR, pagué, pagaste, &c. Pague, &c.—ALCANZAR, alcancé, alcanzaste, &c. Alcance, &c.

Obs. 5. The verbs of the third conjugation ending in llir or ñir, suppress the i of the termination when it is immediately followed by o or e; as, engullir, to swallow; engulleron, they swallowed; reñir, to fight.

While our masters are fighting, we must fight also.

Mientras nuestros dueños riñeren, nosotros hemos de reñir también.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xiv. pt. ii.

VERBS THAT ARE IRREGULAR IN THEIR RADICAL LETTERS.

The number of the Irregular Verbs in the Spanish language is upwards of five hundred and fifty; forty of which confine their irregularities to themselves, their compounds, and a few other verbs; the rest are arranged into several classes.

REMARK—In the following collection of verbs, only the irregular tenses and persons are laid down, and printed in italics: the regular ones are in Roman characters. The tenses and persons omitted are formed in the regular way.

GENERAL RULES.

1. Verbs of the second and third conjugations that have A, E, or U for the last of their radical letters, change the i, by which the termination begins, into y, when said i is immediately followed by e or o; as

VERBS.			GERUND.	PRET. INDEF.	N. 3.
			Termination	3 p. sing. term.	3 p. pl. term.
Rad. letters			IENDO.	IO.	IERON.
Caer ,	to fall,	ca	cayendo	cayó	cayéron
Leer ,	to read,	le	leyendo	leyó	leyéron
Atribuir ,	to attribute,	atribu	atribuyendo	atribuyó	atribuyéron

Obs. 6. The same change of i into y takes place in all the persons of the first, N. 7, and third, N. 9, terminations of the imperfect tense of the subjunctive, and in the future of the same mood; thus, Cayera, cayese, cayere. —Leyera, leyese, leyere. —Atribuyera, atribuyese, atribuyere.

Obs. 7. In the verbs in uir this change is made when the u is sounded, as in atribuir; but not when it is liquid, as in seguir.

2. Verbs ending in uir, when the u is sounded as in contribuir, (to contribute,) besides changing the i into y in the terminations beginning with io, ie, as explained in the preceding rule, add y immediately after the u in all the terminations beginning with o, e, or a; as,

INSTRUIR, to instruct.

A verb of the third conjugation { Radical letters, instru
Termination, ir.

GERUND, Instruyendo.—INDICATIVE PRESENT. 1 Instruyo, 2 instruyes, 3 instruye, 2 V. instruye. 1 Instruimos, 2 instruis, 3 instruyen, 2 VV. instruyen.—PRETERIT INDEFINITE. 1 Instruí, 2 instruiste, 3 instruyó, 2 V instruyo. 1 Instruimos, 2 instruísteis, 3 instruyéron, 2 VV. instruyeron.—IMPERATIVE. 1 Instruya yo, 2 instruye tú, 3 instruya él, 2 instruya V. 2 No instruyas tú. 1 Instruyamos nosotros, 2 instruid vosotros, 3 instruyan ellos, 2 instruyan VV., 2 No instruyais.—SUBJUNCTIVE PRESENT 1 Instruya, &c. IMPERFECT. 1st term., 1 Instruyera, &c. 2d term., 1 Instruiria, &c. 3d term., 1 Instruyese, &c. FUTURE. 1 Instruyere, &c.

3. Verbs ending in ACER, ECER, OCER, UCER, take a z before the radical c, when the first letter of the termination is o or a; as,

CONOCER, to know.

A verb of the second conjugation. { Radical letters, conoc
Termination, er.

INDICATIVE PRESENT. 1 Conozco, 2 conoces, &c. SUBJUNCTIVE PRESENT 1 Conozca, 2 conozcas, &c. IMPERATIVE. 1 Conozca yo, 2 conoce tú, 3 conozca él, 2 conozca V., 2 No conozcas, 1 conozcamos, 2 conoced, 3 conozcan, 2 conozcan VV., 2 No conozcais.

Except Hacer, Cocer, Torcer, and a few others, together with their compounds.

Obs. 8. Verbs ending in acer, &c., were formerly conjugated by changing the radical c into g, in the persons in which it was preceded by the z. Old people still do the same in some of the towns of Spain. Example: Y se reduzga á unidad, instead of reduzca—And it may be reduced to unity.

FR. LUIS DE LEON.

ANALOGY BETWEEN SOME OF THE TENSES.

1. When the first and second person singular of the present of the indicative mood have the same irregularity, the third person singular and plural of it are likewise irregular; and the same irregularity takes place in the three persons singular and third plural of the present of the indicative mood, and of the imperative. See the verbs Pensar, Entender, Sentir.—Except Haber, Ser, Estar, Dar, Saber, Ir, and their compounds.

2. When only the first person of the indicative mood is irregular, the same irregularity is to be observed in all the persons of the subjunctive and of the imperative mood; excepting the second person singular and plural of the latter, and also the six verbs, Haber, Ser, &c.

3. When the gerund has any irregularity, then the third person singular and the third person plural of the preterit indefinite (N. 3) have the same irregularity; which is also found in the first termination, (N. 7,) third termination, (N. 8,) and in the future of the same mood. If these verbs drop the i of the termination in the third person plural of the preterit definite, they do the same also in the first and second terminations of the imperfect tense of the subjunctive, and in the future of the same mood. See the verbs Pedir, Sentir, &c.

4. The same analogy is found between the future of the indicative mood and the termination ria (N. 8) of the imperfect of the subjunctive mood.—Consult verbs Tener, Poder, &c.

IMPERSONAL VERBS.

Impersonal verbs are those which are conjugated in the third person singular of each tense only, without expressing the nominative: as,

GRANIZAR, to hail.

It hails	graniza	It has hailed	ha granizado
It hailed	granizaba	It had hailed	habia granizado
	granizó	It shall have	habrá granizado
It will hail	granizará	hailed
Let it hail	granice	It may have	haya granizado
It may hail	granice	hailed
It might, could,	granizara	It might, could,	hubiera granizado would, or	granizaria	w'ld, or sh'd	habria granizado should hail	granizase	have hailed	hubiese granizado
When it shall	granizare	When it shall	cuando hubiere
hail		have hailed	granizado

The following are some of the impersonal verbs:

To freeze	helar, irr.	To thunder	tronar, irr.
To glare (speak- ing of the dew)	escarchar	To rain	llover, irr.
To thaw	deshelar	To happen	suceder
To drizzle	lloviznar		acaecer
To snow	nevar, irr.		acontecer
To lighten	relampaguear	To dawn	amanecer
		To become night	anochecer.

DEFECTIVE VERBS.SOLER, to accustom.

Indic. Pres. 1 Suelo, 2 sueles, 3 suele, 2 V. suele: 1 solemos, 2 soleia, 3 suelen, 2 VV. suelen.—Imperf. 1 Solia, 2 solias, 3 solia, 2 V. solia: 1 solíamos, 2 soliais, 3 solian, 2 VV. soliau.

PLACER, to please.

This verb is used only in the third person singular or plural, in the moods and tenses as follows: it is always accompanied by a personal pronoun in the objective case.

Indic. Pres. 1 Me place, 2 te place, 3 le place, 2 le place á V.: 1 nos place, 2 os place, 3 les place, 2 les place á VV.; or 1 Me placen, 2 te placen, &c.—Imperf. 1 Me placia, or placian, 2 te placia, or placian, &c.—Pret. 1 Me plugo, 2 te plugo, &c.: 1 me pluguíeron, 2 te pluguíeron, &c.—Subj. Pres. 1 Me plegue, &c.—Imperf., 1st term. Me pluguiera, &c.—3d term. Me pluguiese, &c.—Fut. Me pluguiere.

REMARK. The Spanish Academy observes that the subjunctive mood is used only in the following expressions: plegue, pluguiera, or pluguiese á Dios; and si me pluguiere, if it should please me.

Obs. The verbs gustar, to have a liking for; pesar, to be sorry for; acomodar, to suit; convenir, or no convenir, to comport, or not, with one's interests, &c., are frequently used only in the third person singular or plural; and in that case they take as a subject, the person or thing liked, &c., with which they agree in number; and the person who likes, is sorry, &c. becomes their complement, and is represented by the pronouns me, te, se, &c., as in the verb placer. Ex.: Music pleases him, le gusta la música, or él gusta de la música.

A LIST OF ALL THE IRREGULAR VERBS.

Obs. 1. The compound verbs are not comprehended, when they have the same irregularity as the simple ones from which they are derived: as, componer, contraponer, deponer, disponer, imponer, oponer, proponer, &c., all of which are conjugated like poner.

Obs. 2. The verbs that admit some change for the sake of the sound, are marked with a 2, as negar, 2 niegue.

Obs. 3. The most general irregularities of the Spanish verbs, as it has been already stated, consist in their taking i, j, y, or ue, or i, instead of o, or e. To find, therefore, the infinitive mood, and the person and tense of such verbs, the scholar must first separate the regular termination, and then the letter or letters that do not belong to the radicals of such verbs: as in comienzo, muestras, sintió, condujeron, trajéran, construyesen, the terminations are o, as, ió, eron, éran, esen. The remaining letters are, comienz, muestr, sint, conduj, traj, construy. Add to these the regular terminations of the infinitive mood, and they will read comienzar, mostrar, sintir, condujir, traer, constuyir. Take off the i, j, and y, change the ue into o, and the i into e; add a c before the termination to those in ij, or uj; and they will be comenzar, mostrar, sentir, conducir, traer, construir. It must be observed that verbs that have a y before their termination, may be of the second or third conjugation; in consequence of which the terminations of both may be tried in order to find them out in the dictionary. Example: creyó, huyen; take off o, yen, and add the terminations thus, creir, huer; the scholar will not find them, but he will find creer. huir.

Obs. 4. Verbs that have two participles are marked thus: Benlucir—2 Bendito, and the regular one is omitted.

Obs. 5. The irregular participles are set in italics after their verbs.

CARTAS MERCANTILES Y FAMILIARES.

INTRODUCCION.

Es muy necesario saber escribir bien una carta, porque ocurre casi diariamente, tanto para los asuntos de importancia, como para los de pura cortesía, ó mera diversion: y siendo las cartas una conversacion entre ausentes, deben tener fluidez, claridad, sencillez, y naturalidad á fin de decir á aquellas personas á quienes se las envían lo mismo que se les diría, si estuviesen presentes. Su estilo, por consiguiente, debe variar segun el objeto á que se contraen, la persona á quien se dirijen, y la que las escribe. Es preciso, pues, estudiar con atencion las reglas del estilo en las cartas; mas no siendo posible explicarlas en los estrechos límites de este Apéndice, se aconseja á los jóvenes estudiosos las aprendan en su respectiva lengua, (por ser las mismas en todas,) y por lo respectivo á la Castellana, hallarán excelentes modelos en las Cartas Familiares del P. Isla, en las Cartas Marruecas de Cadalso, en la Collección de Cartas de varios autores Españoles, recogidas por Don Gregorio Mayáns; en las de Antonio Perez, y por lo respectivo á las antiguas, en el Centon Epistolario del Br. Fernan Gomez de Ciudad Real, &c., pues como dice el erudito é ilustre autor español, Feijoo, “Los preceptos para escribir cartas pueden suplirse con la copia de buenos ejemplares.” (Teatro Crítico, tomo 7, discurso 10.)

La curiosidad en cerrar las cartas, y la propiedad del sobrescrito, deben tambien cuidarse; pues una palabra mas, ó ménos, en la cubierta de un papel, da ó quita satisfaccion al que le recibe, y suele influir mucho en la suerte de lo que se solicita.

CARTAS FAMILIARES.

Carta de Don Gregorio Mayáns al Dr. Don Assensio Sales sobre, el MODO DE RESPONDER.

Muy Señor mio, y mi Amigo: En el trato familiar solemos hablar con libertad, y con aquella confianza que merecen los amigos: pero por escrito suele ser peligroso explicarse con la misma claridad; porque permanece la memoria de lo que se escribe: y aunque el amigo sea fiel, tal vez no lo es el que hereda sus cartas, y con el tiempo paran estas en donde ménos se piensa. Por eso es muy prudente la duda de V. sobre el Modo con que uno debe portarse por escrito.

Hemos de distinguir el que pregunta del que responde. Aquel tiene mayor libertad; porque puede callar sin nota; ó hacer la pregunta con arte, del modo ménos ofensivo, y mas cauteloso. Si lo que se ha de preguntar tiene conexion con la ofensa, y leído no puede dejar de causarla; hemos de distinguir las preguntas á que no nos obliga la necesidad de las voluntarias. Las primeras son inescusables, y asi deben hacerse del modo mas cauto; esto es ménos circunstanciado, respecto de la inteligencia de otros, con quien no se trata. Las segundas deben evitarse cuanto sea posible. Hecha la pregunta, se ha de considerar, si conviene responder, ó no? Si es necesario, ó, si conviene responder, se puede hacer con palabras alusivas á la pregunta, callando la persona, ó el negocio de que se trata, y respondiendo en suposicion del hecho; si bien este á veces es tal, que él mismo señala la persona, y el hecho, por mucho que se quiera ocultar: como se ve en las cartas de Ciceron á Atico. Si es peligroso responder absolutamente, debe callarse: y en casos de traicion, entregarse la pregunta á quien convenga por no hacerse complice, ni aun disimulador en el delito de lesa Majestad.

Cuando Don Joseph Antonio de Quiros salió de la prision de la Inquisicion, y me escribió, pedia la Caridad que yo le respondiese, y lo hice de modo, que habiéndole aprisionado de nuevo, se alabaron mucho mis respuestas, pues dije á aquel insigne Varon lo que le convenia, pensando lo que lo podia suceder. Callar era contra la amistad, que siempre le habia yo profesado, y le debia; hablar pedia mucha prudencia.

Estoy leyendo, y apuntando los tres últimos libros de Dion Casio, que publicó en Roma en el año 1724 Nicolas Carminio Falcon, habiéndolos sacado de la Libreria Vaticana.

Usted me mande: y nuestro Señor guarde á Usted muchos años como deseo. Olivia á 6 de Junio de 1750.

B. L. M. de Usted,

Su mas seguro servidor, y amigo,

DON GREGORIO MAYANS, Y SICAR.

Al Dr. Don Assensio Sales.

Carta de Don Antonio Solis á Don Antonio Carnero, sobre asuntos familiares.

Seño y amigo mio: vamos al negocio, que es muy tarde para no decir lo que se viene á la pluma. La carta que vino en mi pliego se dió con la advertencia que V. previno, en cuanto á su seguridad.

Las vitelas han hecho ruido. Solo me han dicho que el San Vicente vienes gordo, y será menester enflaquecerle de manera que parezca algo mas penitente; y que tenga los brazos levantados en accion de predicar el juicio final. V. vaya teniendo cuidado con que ya se piden gollerias, como si fueran vitelas; y se han de pagar como las miniaturas: ponga V. uno y otro en el libro de las partidas que se deben, por lo que pudiere suceder.

Espero, en respuesta del correo que viene, la censura de V. y del señor marques sobre lo que ha parecido mi libro en esas regiones del norte, que por acá continúan sus aplausos; aunque se habrán vendido unos ciento y cincuenta tomos, pues en todo influye la falta de dinero y en Madrid hay pocos hombres que tengan dos reales de á ocho juntos.

He pagado enteramente á D. N., porque me tenia con cuidado el maestro de obras. A V. se debe la de la Nueva España y tengo por evidente que no se habria impreso si no fuera por el socorro de V.; porque la ayuda de costa todavía se está en el aire. Y así puede V. llamar suya la historia y las demas razones. A esta accion que ha hecho tanto ruido, de haber acompañado al Divinísimo nuestro rey, escribí estos dos sonetos, porque su Majestad se acordó de mi antigua vena. V. verá en ellos el trabajo que me han costado, por el que le costará el leerlos. A D. Martin tenemos ya con título de su Majestad, en que le nombra Corrector general de los libros de estos reinos; y está en ánimo de ser tan conocido como Murcia de la Llana. Tiene cincuenta doblones de salario, y lo que produjeren las erratas. Pone desde luego á las órdenes de V. esta dignidad, habiendo conseguido el ser persona de muchos envidiosos.

Sírvase V. ponerme A. L. P. de mi señora Doña N., y quédese lo demas para otra ocasion. Guarde Dios á V. muchos años. Madrid, &c.

DON ANTONIO DE SOLA

Carta del P. Jose Francisco de Isla á su hermana Doña Francisca de Isla y Lozada.

Villagarcia, á 24 de Julio de 1758.

Mujer de tu marido: has dado en la manía, de algunas semanas á esta parte, de que te pierdo el respeto, sin que yo acierte á concebir como se puede perder lo que jamas se ha tenido. Pero tú eres una pequeña diablesa, y sabes mas que Merlin, por lo que te estimaré me comuniques este secreto, que puede importar para mas de dos ocasiones. Hallar una cosa ántes de perderse es habilidad que á cada paso la usan los ladrones; pero perderse lo que jamas se poseyó, no lo habia tenido por posible, hasta que tú me aseguras que es cosa evidente. Al fin, si te he perdido el respeto, fijaré cedulones en las esquinas de los corréos, (porque has de saber que los corréos tienen esquinas,) para que qualquiera persona que haya hallado en respeto que se perdió, acuda á tí, á quien pertenece, que se le pagará el hallazgo, y por lo que toca á mí, doy palabra de guardar tan bien el primero que te tenga, que no solo no se pueda perder, pero que ninguno me le pueda encontrar. No sabia que estuviese por prior de ese convento de S. Agustin el Mro. Ocampo. Es de los hombres sabios, religiosos, honrados y atentos que he conocido. Dice bien: tratéle mucho en Pamplona, y siempre le he profesado singular estimacion. La he hecho muy grande de la memoria con que me honra, y de la amistad que me conserva. Te estimaré mucho; así á tí, como á Nicolas, que le correspondais en vuestro nombre y en el mio con el mas fino aprecio, tratándole con toda confianza, y sirviéndole en quanto se le ofrezca. Si ántes de ahora hubiera sabido su destino, ántes de ahora os habria hecho esta recomendacion; porque tengo singular complacencia en que los hombres particulares sean particularmente distinguidos. Si todos fueran como el Rmo. Ocampo, no habria quejas, porque no habria Gerundios. Díle cuanto quisieres de mi; arto, en la inteligencia de que en nada te excederás. Ahora vete á pasear, que yo voy á escribir otras cartas.

Señora, B. T. P. (con un cardo) el mas atento capellan de Tí.

Ella.

YO.

Carta de Luscinda á Cardenio.

Señor: La palabra que Don Fernando os dió de hablar á vuestro padre para que hablase al mio, la ha cumplido mucho mas en su gusto que en vuestro provecho. Sabed, señor, que él me ha pedido por esposa, y mi padre, llevado de la ventaja que el piensa que Don Fernando os hace, ha venido en lo que quiere con tantas veras, que de aquí á dos dias se ha de hacer el desposorio, tan secreto y tan á solas que solo han de ser testigos los Cielos y alguna gente de casa. Cual yo quedo, imaginadlo: si os cumple venir, vedlo, y si os quiero bien ó no el suceso deste negocio os lo dará á entender. A Dios plega que esta llegue á vuestras manos ántes que la mia se vea en condicion de juntarse con la de quien tan mal sabe guardar la fe que promete.

LUSCINDA.

Carta de Don Carlos á Doña Francisca.

Bien mio: si no consigo hablar con Usted, haré lo posible para que llegue á sus manos esta carta. Apenas me separé de Usted, encontré en la posada al que yo llamaba mi enemigo; y al verle, no sé como no espiré de dolor. Me mandó que saliera inmediatamente de la ciudad, y fué preciso obedecerle. Yo me llamo Don Carlos, no Don Felix.—Don Diego es mi tio. Viva Usted dichoso y olvide para siempre á su infeliz amigo.

CARLOS DE URBINA.

(Moratin—El Si de las Niñas, Act III., sc. xii.)

Carta de Don Quijote de la Mancha á Sancho Panza, gobernador de la ínsula Barataria.

“ Cuando esperaba oir nuevas de tus descuidos é impertinencias, Sancho amigo, las oí de tus discreciones, de que dí por ello gracias particulares al Cielo, el cual del estiércol sabe levantar los pobres, y de los tontos hacer discretos. Dícenme que gobiernas como si fueses hombre, y que eres hombre como si fueses bestia, segun es la humildad con que te tratas: y quiere que adviertas, Sancho, que muchas veces conviene y es necesario por la autoridad del oficio, ir contra la humildad del corazon, porque el buen adorno de la persona que está puesta en graves cargos, ha de ser conforme á lo que ellos piden, y no á la medida de lo que su humilde condicion la inclina. Vístete bien, que un palo compuesto no parece palo. no digo que traigas dijes, ni galas, ni que siendo Juez te vistas como soldado, sino que te adornes con el hábito que tu oficio requiere, con tal que sea limpio y bien compuesto. Para ganar la voluntad del pueblo que gobiernas, entre otras has de hacer dos cosas: la una ser bien criado con todos, aunque esto ya otra vez te lo he dicho, y la otra procurar la abundancia de los mantenimientos, que no hay cosa que mas fatigue el corazon de los pobres que la hambre y la carestía.

“ No hagas muchas pragmáticas, y si las hicieres procura que sean buenas, y sobre todo que se guarden y cumplan, que las pragmáticas que no se guardan, lo mismo es que si no lo fuesen, ántes dan á entender que el Príncipe que tuvo discrecion y autoridad para hacerlas, no tuvo valor para hacer que se guardasen: y las leyes que atemorizan y no se ejecutan, vienen á ser como la viga, rey de las ranas, que al principio las espantó, y con el tiempo la menospreciaron y se subieron sobre ella. Se padre de las virtudes, y padrastro de los vicios. No seas siempre riguroso, ni siempre blanco y escoge el medio entre estos dos extremos, que en esto está el punto de la discrecion. Visita las cárceles, las carnicerías y las plazas, que la presencia del Gobernador en lugares tales es de mucha importancia. Consuela á los presos que esperan la brevedad de su despacho. Se coco á los carniceros, que por entónces igualan los pesos, y se espantajo á las placentas por la misma razon. No te muestres (aunque por ventura los seas, lo cual yo no creo) codicioso, mujeriego, ni gloton, porque en sabiendo el pueblo y los que te tratan tu inclinacion determinada, por allí te darán batería hasta derribarte en el profundo de la perdicion. Mira y remira, pasa y repasa los consejos y documentos que te dí por escrito ántes que de aquí partieses á tu gobierno, y verás como hallas en ellos, si los guardas, una ayuda de costa que te sobrelleve los trabajos y dificultades que á cada paso á los Gobernadores se les ofrecen. Escribe á tus señores y muéstrateles agradecido, que la ingratitud es hija de la soberbia y uno de los mayores pecados que se sabe, y la persona que es agradecida á los que bien le han hecho, da indicio que tambien lo será á Dios, que tantos bienes le hizo y de continuo le hace.

“La Señora Duquesa despachó un propio con tu vestido y otro presente á tu mujer Teresa Panza: por momentos esperamos respuesta. Yo he estado un poco mal dispuesto de un cierto gateamiento, que me sucedió no muy á cuento de mis narices; pero no fué nada, que si hay encantadores que me maltraten, tambien los hay que me defiendan. Avísame si el mayordomo que está contigo tuvo que ver en las acciones de la Trifaldi, como tú sospechaste, y de todo lo que te sucediere me irás dando aviso, pues es tan corto el camino, cuanto mas que yo pienso dejar presto esta vida ociosa en que estoy, pues no nací para ella. Un negocio se me ha ofrecido, que creo que me ha de poner en desgracia de estos señores; pero aunque se me da mucho, n.º se me da nada, pues en fin, en fin, tengo de cumplir ántes con mi profesion que con su gusto, conforme á lo que suele decirse; amicus Plato; sed magis amica veritas. Dígote este latin, porque me doy á entender que despues que eres Gobernador le habrás aprendido. Y á Dios, el cual te guarde de que ninguno te tenga lástima.

Tu amigo,
DON QUIJOTE DE LA MANCHA.”

CEREMONIAL DE LAS CARTAS.

Por ceremonial se entiende el título de cortesía que se da á alguno, como Usted, Señoria, &c., y tambien el uso de ciertas formulas á que está reducida la civilidad. La manera mas usual de poner los sobrescritos es la siguiente:

A Don A. B—— del comercio de — N.

A Don C. D—— en — F.

A mi Sra. Da. M. V.

en — M.

Don es el título distintivo de la nobleza de sangre en España, bien que en estos últimos tiempos se ha prodigado á toda gente decente; por lo mismo las nuevas Repúblicas le han excluido enteramente, y usan solo los nombres Señor y Señora.

Al Señor Francisco P. Santander, Presidente de la República de Colombia, &c.

Con todo, la costumbre hace que la mayor parte de las personas continuen usando del Don. Por esto, y para evitar faltas, que podrian considerarse de respeto, será mejor usarle cuando se empieza una correspondencia, é imitar el ceremonial que se observe en la contestacion, y conforme á él usar, ó no, del Don.
